Machine Parts Stolen

Farm equipment, spark plugs, batteries and tools valued together in excess of $2,500 were reported stolen Sunday night from Cooney Equipment Co., Highway 61 South.

"It was the fourth time the place has been broken into since we opened in July last year," Ed Cooney, owner said.

Entry was gained by breaking the plate glass in the front door. Time of the breakin was between 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today, when it was discovered.

Items taken included 1,600 cotton picker spindles valued at $1.08 each, New Madrid deputy sheriff Flip Dees, investigating officer reported.

A cotton picker spindle is the part of a cotton picking machine that actually picks the cotton from the boll. It is a small barbed spindle that spins and rotates to pick the cotton, Cooney explained.

Also taken were eight batteries valued at about $25 each; 350 spark plugs valued at 75 cents each, a new air impact wrench valued at $100 and mechanics tools valued at $400.

The plate glass window is expected to cost about $75 to replace and the insurance doesn't cover it, Cooney said.

In addition to the three other breakins, Cooney said, two lawn mower tractors have been taken from the outside of the building in the past two months.

$600 In Bad Checks Passed Here

Between $600 and $700 in bad checks were passed in Sikeston last week in amounts of $35 to $45 at several different stores, police chief Arthur Bruce reported today.

A Sikeston juvenile is suspected of having passed the checks. He used the forged name of "John Adams", Chief Bruce reported.

The youth apparently has left town, Bruce said. Police are investigating.

Fire Destroys Plane At Municipal Airport

An airplane owned by Wendell and Lowell Caskey burned early today at the municipal airport.

Fire chief L. D. Ramsey said cause of the fire is undetermined.

The plane, a five-seat Beech Bonanza, was ablaze when the Fire department arrived. One wing was burned and the main body of the plane was resting on the ground a blaze.

The plane was last used Friday night, Jim Estep, pilot who flies for Sikeston Aviation Corporation said.

An unidentified motorist driving west on East Malone reported seeing what he thought was an airplane on fire at 12:45 a.m. today, Ramsey said.

The airplane was tied with cables to asphalt strip outside a hangar. Firemen returned to the station at 2:20 a.m. today.

The Caskey brothers, principal stockholders of Sikeston Aviation Corporation, were out of town when the fire occurred and could not be reached for an estimate of damage.

Firemen were called again at 6 a.m. today to extinguish a minor fire in a motor at the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 202 West Front.

A motor in the air conditioning system sent smoke through ductwork. The business office was filled with smoke.

No damage was caused except to the motor, firemen reported.

A fire in the second story apartment of a wood frame house at 302 South Scott Sunday caused heavy fire damage to the upstairs Ramsey said.

Firemen were called at 12:15 p.m. Sunday to the house owned by Paul Grimsely. The upstairs apartment is occupied by Dave Matthews; the downstairs is occupied by Walter Scott.

No one was home at the time of the fire. Cause of the fire was undetermined. but it started in the upstairs bedroom.

Fire damage was confined to the upstairs. There was water damage downstairs.

Dayan Condemns Jerusalem Riots

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured, one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people- were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each said said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Egyptian army officials said Sunday night that two of Israel's Mirage jets were driven off by antiaircraft fire after they flew over the northern end of the Suez Canal and crossed Egyptian territory.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army sources said an unspecified number of Egyptian MIG jets were chased by Israeli interceptors after the MIGs flew over Israeli territory between El Quantara and the Great Bitter Lake, on the Suez Canal.

Papandreou Asks for Help in Fight to Liberate Greece

STOCKHOLM (AP) - Former Greek government minister Andreas Papandreou appealed today to the world's democracies to aid "our noble fight' to liberate Greece from its military regime.

Papandreou is a voluntary exile from his country and has accepted a position as an economics teacher at Stockholm University. He is chairman of the Panhellenic Liberation Movement, set up to coordinate anti-regime forces outside and inside Greece.

He said the recent assassination attempt on Greek Premier George Papandopoulos was "the voice of the Greek nation, whether one approves or not."

"The junta has tried to limit the attention of the world to the assassination attempt," said Papandreou, "but it has neglected to mention the many bombings that have occurred all over Athens - part of our broad resistance effort."

Bus Toll May Set Record

GIFU, Japan (AP) —More bodies were recovered today from the Hilda River after a landslide swept two sight-seeing buses loaded with women and children from a mountain highway in the Japan Alps into the flooded stream. Officials believed 104 persons lost their lives.

Unless some of the missing are found on the shores, this will be the worst bus accident in history.

Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to shore through the raging river Sunday when the buses plummeted into 65 feet of water. Rescue workers have recovered 39 bodies, some as far as 18 miles downstream. Little hope is held for the 65 missing.

Divers searched one of the smashed buses after it had been swept against rocks 300 yards downstream and found no bodies. A crane tried to lift the bus from its lodging between two big boulders but it did not budge. There was no trace of the second bus.

Police in this central Japanese city said there were 107 persons aboard the two buses when they took off on a week end sight-seeing tour of the scenic mountains.

There were 101 passengers, mostly women and children, four bus employes and two sponsors of the tour, police reported.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato ordered a government investigation of the accident.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Pitzer Leaves Rice For Stanford Post

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer resigned today as president of Rice University to become president of Stanford University.

The former director of research for the Atmoci Energy Commission became president of Rice in 1961 and just recently completed a $33 million first phase of the university's first capital funds campaign.

In his letter of resignation, Pitzer said his decision to accept the Stanford position was based primarily on its attractiveness and challenge.

On Dec. 1, he will become Stanford's sixth president, succeeding Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, who will become lifetime chancellor after having been president since 1949.

Ike's Condition Remains Grave As Irregular Spasms Persist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

In a Sunday night bulletin, the doctors reported failure of the electrical pacemaker, which was threaded directly into the patient's heart by way of a vein, to relieve the spasms.

It was the latest of several efforts made to halt the irrigular rhythms since the 77-year-old general suffered his latest attack.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

The spasms, which involve irregular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it through the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

5-Year-Old Heart Transplant Patient Able to Visit Parents

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you'"

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

10 Injured in Highway Accidents

Ten were injured in highway accidents Saturday, the state patrol reported.

Two were injured at 8:15 p.m., eight miles east of Risco on higway 62.

A 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by Carrie Marie Quinn, 55, route one, Bernie, swerved to avoid striking an unidentified car, and struck a 1967 Pontiac, driven by Marvin Henry Arsta, 30, route two, Sikeston, headon.

The Quinn car went into a ditch and the Arsta car went along the shoulder.

Injured were Arsta, cuts on his elbow. Naomi Trowbridge, 42, Hayti, a passenger in the Quinn car, bruises and possible broken ribs.

Arsta was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital, and the Hayti woman to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

In the morning one-half mile south of Old Appleton, on highway 61, Leslie Schindler, 20, Perryville, driver of a 1966 Buick, was injured.

He received cuts on his left shoulder and was treated and released from Perry County Memorial hospital in Perryville.

Schindler was passing another vehicle, when he struck a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Mary Smith, 41, St. Louis, and struck the Smith car.

Schindler was given a summons for careless and reckless driving and for being on the wrong side of the road, the patrol said.

At 11:15 p.m., on highway 32, five miles east of Bixby in Iron county, a 1956 Chrysler, driven by Louis Donald Stulce, 21, Viburnum, received a fractured spine, and was taken to Washington County Memorial hospital in Potosi.

He lost control of his car as he rounded a curve, when his gas pedal stuck. The car went off the road and ran into a hill.

At 2:15 p.m. two miles east of Oak Ridge, on route E, a two car collision sent three to a Jackson physician for treatment.

A 1960 Plymouth, driven by Russell Lowell Meredith, 69, East, St. Louis, stopped on the pavement on a hill. A 1966 Chevrolet, driven by J. P. Daniel, 47, Oak Ridge, skidded into the rear of the Plymouth.

Injured were Daniels, bruises and scratches on his head, and two passengers in his car, Leabada Daniels, 46, cuts and bruises, and Retha Daniels, 14, bruises.

Daniels was given a summons for obstructing the highway, the patrol said.

Lloyd Neng, 39, route five, Perryville, received a fractured nose and ribs, in a one-car accident at 7:30 p.m. on route T near Silver Lake in Perry county.

He was treated at Perry County Memorial hospital.

Neng came around a curve, lost control, went off the road and struck a tree.

Mary Hulsford, 35, Arbyrd, was taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital for a back injury, received at 3:25 p.m. one mile west of Arbyrd.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Willard W. Hulsford, 39, Arbyrd, pulled from a drive, and collided with a 1962 Plymouth, driven by Essel Thomas, 57, Arbyrd.

Mrs. Hulsford was taken to the Dunklin County Memorial hospital, Kennett.

Norbert Vandeven, 19, Leopold, received a bruised head and hip on highway 34, three miles east of Marble Hill.

The driver apparently went to sleep, went off the road down a hill to a creek and overturned.

He was treated by a Lutesville physician.

Democratic Platform Committee Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee opened hearings today with a plea by its chairman, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, for harmony—a harmony already threatened by discord over the plank on Vietnam.

Although Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has made a compromise move toward acceptance of a U.S. halt to bombing of North Vietnam, he balked at another key point of a seven-step peace plan proposed by his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The issue involves McCarthy's insistence that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, be included in any South Vietnamese coalition government.

If this point isn't settled in the platform hearings, and that seems unlikely, it probably will result in a floor fight when the party's national convention convenes in Chicago next week.

In a statement prepared for the opening hearing, Rep. Boggs urged the 110 platform drafters to "beware of flying to the extremes of controversy" and to seek reconciliation between the views of old and young, white and black, poor and affluent.

"I am .. concerned about the new spirit of political intolerance that has been blowing hard of late against the face of American politics," the Louisiana congressman said.

"This attitude is so virulent in some quarters that it clearly defines our paramount task—which is to effect a reconciliation among the divided members of society."

But the lines of conflict between Humphrey and McCarthy hardened on Sunday when they took opposing views on the issue of inviting the Viet Cong into a new South Vietnam government.

"The fundamental difference between myself and Sen. McCarthy is on the imposition of a coalition government .. I cannot agree with that," Humphrey said.

McCarthy was equally firm. He said he could see no hope for compromise in peace efforts "unless you have a willingness to include in a new government the forces that are fighting it." McCarthy went on:

'He (Humphrey) is rejecting ... the heart of the proposal I have been asking. ... I don't see any evidence of compromise."

Humphrey appeared on the CBS "Face the Nation" panel, McCarthy on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program.

McCarthy unwrapped his proposed peace plank on Saturday. It called for an immediate halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, a curtailment of American operations in South Vietnam, and the creation of a new coalition government in Saigon with "substantial participation" by the NLF.

If Saigon rejected such a coalition, McCarthy specified, U.S. military support would be withdrawn.

Humphrey obviously was hunting for a compromise. He said Saturday he accepts most proposals of "the peace Democrats" including a qualified agreement to halt bombing.

But the vice president said that a cessation of bombing should be in response to some restraint by Hanoi. And he declared he could not accept a plank which repudiated "the policies and sacrifices of the past."

Platform Chairman Boggs has taken no public position on the plank. His role—like the one successfully played by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as Republican platform chairman at the GOP convention—is to seek a compromise in the committee on this most divisive of issues.

A convention floor fight over Vietnam, staged under the eyes of the press and in the glare of TV lights, would highlight Democratic disunity as the party heads into a crucial election battle.

McCarthy backers claimed they had more than enough supporters on the Platform Committee to bring a dissenting plank to the convention floor.

More than 200 witnesses were scheduled for appearances before Boggs' committee, which meets in Washington until moving to Chicago on Thursday. Four subcommittees were set up to hear the witnesses on issues ranging from race riots to pensions for World War I veterans.

Boggs told the opening session in a ballroom of the Statler Hilton hotel that "no one has hand picked this committee ... Its membership of 110 individualists is the sum of the choices each delegation has freely made."

He combined his appeal for unity with a plea for law and order.

"In this task of reconciliation, let us by all means insist on the rule of law," he said.

"Let us by all means strengthen the authority and fabric of law by entwining it with justice, equity and compassion.

"Let us by all means enlist our full strength for a frontal assault on the real evils that beset us. But on this very point, let us also beware of flying to the extremes of controversy where, from lofty motives, we draw apart from each other in an endless chain of secession until each man discovers he stands alone in a war of all against all."

Enemy Flees Tay Ninh

SAIGON (AP) - North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the keyprovincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistence.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north of Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars-mainstays of the attacking force-slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh-a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon-was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for " a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U. S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

As the fighting eased in Tay Ninh, there were fresh reports of enemy attacks to the far north below Da Nang and south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U. S. Marines suffered 13 dead and 35 wounded in what appeared to be two separate ambushes south of Da Nang. Thirty-six enemy troops were reported killed.

U.S. 9th Division infantrymen fought a 24-hour long battle with Viet Cong troops in rice paddy country 18 miles south of Saigon and reported killing 54 and capturing 25 prisoners until contact broke off today. U. S. losses were put at one dead and nine wounded. American divebombers, helicopter gunships and artillery pounded the enemy force.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said the enemy forces failed to achieve most of their objectives in coordinated attacks on a dozen allied positions within a six-mile radius of the city. of the city. The U. S. military compound and the government provincial headquarters were never seriously threatened.

Nonetheless, the enemy did capture a wedge in the eastern part of the city before withdrawing and militar sources said this would likely have psychological repercussions throughout the country.

Enemy casualties were estimated at more than 200 dead. American casualties were reported as approximately 100-mostly wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were expected to be higher than those for American forces, but reports were sketchy.

Spradling Calls For Training

State Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr., D-Cape Girardeau, said today the training of staff personnel to assist Missouri legislators is woefully inadequate. He will call for the adoption of a program designed to improve the training of staff personnel for all 50 states.

Spradling is enroute today to Miami, Fla. to attend the National Legislators' Conference, sponsored by the 50 states.

The Cape Girardeau attorney and his wife made a stopover in Sikeston enroute to a connecting flight in St. Louis.

Spradling is chairman of a state sub committee on legislative staff development, which is aiming to train young lawyers and accountants to go into state government work.

The Legislature in Missouri has a serious continuing problem of finding adequately trained staff personnel, Spradling commented.

Spradling will speak Tuesday at a committee hearing and present the program developed by his subcommittee to help remedy the problem for the approval of the 50 states.

Initially, the program calls for in-service training for state governmental staff personnel to begin this fall at the University of South Dakota.

"We are trying to set up four permanent regional centers for staff training. One of the four, we hope, will be at the University of Missouri in Kansas City," Spradling said.

The regional training sites will be located in the East, West, Mid-West and the South.

The permanent training program will require one year of additional schooling. A lawyer will have a LL. B, bachelor of law degree, when he enters the program. After successfully completing the one year of study, he will graduate with a Doctor of Laws degree in State Government, Spradling explained.

A business graduate entering the program will study one year and graduate with a masters degree in state government.

The lawyer who has completed the course can expect a starting salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000, while the business graduate completing the course can expect a starting salary from $9,000 to $12,000 annually, Spradling said.

Specialities are expected to come out of the program. Four areas of training for state staff employes will be public health, mental health, state taxation and urban problems.

Tuition for students accepted into the training program is expected to be paid by the state.

This type of training will save the State thousands of dollars and results in better legislation, Spradling predicted.

The state can save thousands of dollars by having trained persons familiar with the State's operations when they begin work, Spradling said.

The staff workers now learn their jobs as they are doing it, he indicated.

Primary Canvass Begins

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — With Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' official "go ahead," the secretary of state's office today began the official canvass of the Aug. 6 primary vote count.

Tabulators began the count with the governor's home county of Mississippi. The first order of business was to double-check the vote on a constitutional amendment.

It sets up a system for replacing the governor should he die or become disabled or outsted from office. One of the major features is to set up a board to establish when a disabled governor has recovered to a point where he can again assume the office.

Miss. Eula Huss, assistant chief clerk in Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office, said the count of votes on the amendment will be completed later today.

But the canvass of the primary races for statewide and district offices will take longer. Mrs. Huss, who has strawboosed official canvasses for a number of years, said it probably would not be completed before late Wednesday.

No changes from the unofficial returns are expected and under the law the amendment on governor succession will become effective early in September, 30 days after the election.

Machine Parts Stolen

Farm equipment, spark plugs, batteries and tools valued together in excess of $2,500 were reported stolen Sunday night from Cooney Equipment Co., Highway 61 South.

"It was the fourth time the place has been broken into since we opened in July last year," Ed Cooney, owner said.

Entry was gained by breaking the plate glass in the front door. Time of the breakin was between 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today, when it was discovered.

Items taken included 1,600 cotton picker spindles valued at $1.08 each, New Madrid deputy sheriff Flip Dees, investigating officer reported.

A cotton picker spindle is the part of a cotton picking machine that actually picks the cotton from the boll. It is a small barbed spindle that spins and rotates to pick the cotton, Cooney explained.

Also taken were eight batteries valued at about $25 each; 350 spark plugs valued at 75 cents each, a new air impact wrench valued at $100 and mechanics tools valued at $400.

The plate glass window is expected to cost about $75 to replace and the insurance doesn't cover it, Cooney said.

In addition to the three other breakins, Cooney said, two lawn mower tractors have been taken from the outside of the building in the past two months.

$600 In Bad Checks Passed Here

Between $600 and $700 in bad checks were passed in Sikeston last week in amounts of $35 to $45 at several different stores, police chief Arthur Bruce reported today.

A Sikeston juvenile is suspected of having passed the checks. He used the forged name of "John Adams", Chief Bruce reported.

The youth apparently has left town, Bruce said. Police are investigating.

Police Report

Seven Arrested

A breakin was attempted Sunday at the Lewis Furniture Sales, 650 West Malone, but entry was not gained, Sikeston police reported today.

Virginia Marie Ogden, 1712 Kentucky, and Betty Jo Cox, 1711 Kentucky, signed warrants to charge each other with assault and battery Sunday.

James P. Jackson, 210 Edwards, was charged today with assault and battery.

Donald R. Hamlett, Dexter, was charged Saturday with careless and imprudent driving on East Malone.

Fire Destroys Plane At Municipal Airport

An airplane owned by Wendell and Lowell Caskey burned early today at the municipal airport.

Fire chief L. D. Ramsey said cause of the fire is undetermined.

The plane, a five-seat Beech Bonanza, was ablaze when the Fire department arrived. One wing was burned and the main body of the plane was resting on the ground a blaze.

The plane was last used Friday night, Jim Estep, pilot who flies for Sikeston Aviation Corporation said.

An unidentified motorist driving west on East Malone reported seeing what he thought was an airplane on fire at 12:45 a.m. today, Ramsey said.

The airplane was tied with cables to asphalt strip outside a hangar. Firemen returned to the station at 2:20 a.m. today.

The Caskey brothers, principal stockholders of Sikeston Aviation Corporation, were out of town when the fire occurred and could not be reached for an estimate of damage.

Firemen were called again at 6 a.m. today to extinguish a minor fire in a motor at the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 202 West Front.

A motor in the air conditioning system sent smoke through ductwork. The business office was filled with smoke.

No damage was caused except to the motor, firemen reported.

A fire in the second story apartment of a wood frame house at 302 South Scott Sunday caused heavy fire damage to the upstairs Ramsey said.

Firemen were called at 12:15 p.m. Sunday to the house owned by Paul Grimsely. The upstairs apartment is occupied by Dave Matthews; the downstairs is occupied by Walter Scott.

No one was home at the time of the fire. Cause of the fire was undetermined. but it started in the upstairs bedroom.

Fire damage was confined to the upstairs. There was water damage downstairs.

Dayan Condemns Jerusalem Riots

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured, one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people- were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each said said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Egyptian army officials said Sunday night that two of Israel's Mirage jets were driven off by antiaircraft fire after they flew over the northern end of the Suez Canal and crossed Egyptian territory.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army sources said an unspecified number of Egyptian MIG jets were chased by Israeli interceptors after the MIGs flew over Israeli territory between El Quantara and the Great Bitter Lake, on the Suez Canal.

Papandreou Asks for Help in Fight to Liberate Greece

STOCKHOLM (AP) - Former Greek government minister Andreas Papandreou appealed today to the world's democracies to aid "our noble fight' to liberate Greece from its military regime.

Papandreou is a voluntary exile from his country and has accepted a position as an economics teacher at Stockholm University. He is chairman of the Panhellenic Liberation Movement, set up to coordinate anti-regime forces outside and inside Greece.

He said the recent assassination attempt on Greek Premier George Papandopoulos was "the voice of the Greek nation, whether one approves or not."

"The junta has tried to limit the attention of the world to the assassination attempt," said Papandreou, "but it has neglected to mention the many bombings that have occurred all over Athens - part of our broad resistance effort."

16 Injured in Weekend Mishaps

Bus Toll May Set Record

GIFU, Japan (AP) —More bodies were recovered today from the Hilda River after a landslide swept two sight-seeing buses loaded with women and children from a mountain highway in the Japan Alps into the flooded stream. Officials believed 104 persons lost their lives.

Unless some of the missing are found on the shores, this will be the worst bus accident in history.

Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to shore through the raging river Sunday when the buses plummeted into 65 feet of water. Rescue workers have recovered 39 bodies, some as far as 18 miles downstream. Little hope is held for the 65 missing.

Divers searched one of the smashed buses after it had been swept against rocks 300 yards downstream and found no bodies. A crane tried to lift the bus from its lodging between two big boulders but it did not budge. There was no trace of the second bus.

Police in this central Japanese city said there were 107 persons aboard the two buses when they took off on a week end sight-seeing tour of the scenic mountains.

There were 101 passengers, mostly women and children, four bus employes and two sponsors of the tour, police reported.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato ordered a government investigation of the accident.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Pitzer Leaves Rice For Stanford Post

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer resigned today as president of Rice University to become president of Stanford University.

The former director of research for the Atmoci Energy Commission became president of Rice in 1961 and just recently completed a $33 million first phase of the university's first capital funds campaign.

In his letter of resignation, Pitzer said his decision to accept the Stanford position was based primarily on its attractiveness and challenge.

On Dec. 1, he will become Stanford's sixth president, succeeding Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, who will become lifetime chancellor after having been president since 1949.

Ike's Condition Remains Grave As Irregular Spasms Persist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

In a Sunday night bulletin, the doctors reported failure of the electrical pacemaker, which was threaded directly into the patient's heart by way of a vein, to relieve the spasms.

It was the latest of several efforts made to halt the irrigular rhythms since the 77-year-old general suffered his latest attack.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

The spasms, which involve irregular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it through the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

5-Year-Old Heart Transplant Patient Able to Visit Parents

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you'"

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 3-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

He moved her recently from Salina, Kan., and resides at 311 Moore. A former president of the Optimist club there, he gave an outline of activities of the club in that city.

Guests of the club were Lieut. -Gov. Roy Savers, and Harold James, both of Jackson.

Docking Heads Group Seeking Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) - Gov. Docking headed a delegation of 40 persons today in efforts to win federal funds for construction of a highway to Link Kansas areas with the new Kansas City, Mo., international airport.

The delegation included top Kansas officials and representative of Missouri and Kansas from the Greater Kansas City area.

The delegation met with officials of the U. S. Department of Transportation to present their case for construction of a proposed expressway.

Enemy Flees Tay Ninh

SAIGON (AP) - North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the keyprovincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistence.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north of Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars-mainstays of the attacking force-slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh-a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon-was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for " a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U. S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

As the fighting eased in Tay Ninh, there were fresh reports of enemy attacks to the far north below Da Nang and south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U. S. Marines suffered 13 dead and 35 wounded in what appeared to be two separate ambushes south of Da Nang. Thirty-six enemy troops were reported killed.

U.S. 9th Division infantrymen fought a 24-hour long battle with Viet Cong troops in rice paddy country 18 miles south of Saigon and reported killing 54 and capturing 25 prisoners until contact broke off today. U. S. losses were put at one dead and nine wounded. American divebombers, helicopter gunships and artillery pounded the enemy force.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said the enemy forces failed to achieve most of their objectives in coordinated attacks on a dozen allied positions within a six-mile radius of the city. of the city. The U. S. military compound and the government provincial headquarters were never seriously threatened.

Nonetheless, the enemy did capture a wedge in the eastern part of the city before withdrawing and militar sources said this would likely have psychological repercussions throughout the country.

Enemy casualties were estimated at more than 200 dead. American casualties were reported as approximately 100-mostly wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were expected to be higher than those for American forces, but reports were sketchy.

Spradling Calls For Training

State Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr., D-Cape Girardeau, said today the training of staff personnel to assist Missouri legislators is woefully inadequate. He will call for the adoption of a program designed to improve the training of staff personnel for all 50 states.

Spradling is enroute today to Miami, Fla. to attend the National Legislators' Conference, sponsored by the 50 states.

The Cape Girardeau attorney and his wife made a stopover in Sikeston enroute to a connecting flight in St. Louis.

Spradling is chairman of a state sub committee on legislative staff development, which is aiming to train young lawyers and accountants to go into state government work.

The Legislature in Missouri has a serious continuing problem of finding adequately trained staff personnel, Spradling commented.

Spradling will speak Tuesday at a committee hearing and present the program developed by his subcommittee to help remedy the problem for the approval of the 50 states.

Initially, the program calls for in-service training for state governmental staff personnel to begin this fall at the University of South Dakota.

"We are trying to set up four permanent regional centers for staff training. One of the four, we hope, will be at the University of Missouri in Kansas City," Spradling said.

The regional training sites will be located in the East, West, Mid-West and the South.

The permanent training program will require one year of additional schooling. A lawyer will have a LL. B, bachelor of law degree, when he enters the program. After successfully completing the one year of study, he will graduate with a Doctor of Laws degree in State Government, Spradling explained.

A business graduate entering the program will study one year and graduate with a masters degree in state government.

The lawyer who has completed the course can expect a starting salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000, while the business graduate completing the course can expect a starting salary from $9,000 to $12,000 annually, Spradling said.

Specialities are expected to come out of the program. Four areas of training for state staff employes will be public health, mental health, state taxation and urban problems.

Tuition for students accepted into the training program is expected to be paid by the state.

This type of training will save the State thousands of dollars and results in better legislation, Spradling predicted.

The state can save thousands of dollars by having trained persons familiar with the State's operations when they begin work, Spradling said.

The staff workers now learn their jobs as they are doing it, he indicated.

Primary Canvass Begins

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — With Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' official "go ahead," the secretary of state's office today began the official canvass of the Aug. 6 primary vote count.

Tabulators began the count with the governor's home county of Mississippi. The first order of business was to double-check the vote on a constitutional amendment.

It sets up a system for replacing the governor should he die or become disabled or outsted from office. One of the major features is to set up a board to establish when a disabled governor has recovered to a point where he can again assume the office.

Miss. Eula Huss, assistant chief clerk in Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office, said the count of votes on the amendment will be completed later today.

But the canvass of the primary races for statewide and district offices will take longer. Mrs. Huss, who has strawbossed official canvasses for a number of years, said it probably would not be completed before late Wednesday.

No changes from the unofficial returns are expected and under the law the amendment on governor succession will become effective early in September, 30 days after the election.

10 Injured in Highway Accidents

Ten were injured in highway accidents Saturday, the state patrol reported.

Two were injured at 8:15 p.m., eight miles east of Risco on higway 62.

A 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by Carrie Marie Quinn, 55, route one, Bernie, swerved to avoid striking an unidentified car, and struck a 1967 Pontiac, driven by Marvin Henry Arsta, 30, route two, Sikeston, headon.

The Quinn car went into a ditch and the Arsta car went along the shoulder.

Injured were Arsta, cuts on his elbow. Naomi Trowbridge, 42, Hayti, a passenger in the Quinn car, bruises and possible broken ribs.

Arsta was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital, and the Hayti woman to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

In the morning one-half mile south of Old Appleton, on highway 61, Leslie Schindler, 20, Perryville, driver of a 1966 Buick, was injured.

He received cuts on his left shoulder and was treated and released from Perry County Memorial hospital in Perryville.

Schindler was passing another vehicle, when he struck a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Mary Smith, 41, St. Louis, and struck the Smith car.

Schindler was given a summons for careless and reckless driving and for being on the wrong side of the road, the patrol said.

At 11:15 p.m., on highway 32, five miles east of Bixby in Iron county, a 1956 Chrysler, driven by Louis Donald Stulce, 21, Viburnum, received a fractured spine, and was taken to Washington County Memorial hospital in Potosi.

He lost control of his car as he rounded a curve, when his gas pedal stuck. The car went off the road and ran into a hill.

At 2:15 p.m. two miles east of Oak Ridge, on route E, a two car collision sent three to a Jackson physician for treatment.

A 1960 Plymouth, driven by Russell Lowell Meredith, 69, East, St. Louis, stopped on the pavement on a hill. A 1966 Chevrolet, driven by J. P. Daniel, 47, Oak Ridge, skidded into the rear of the Plymouth.

Injured were Daniels, bruises and scratches on his head, and two passengers in his car, Leabada Daniels, 46, cuts and bruises, and Retha Daniels, 14, bruises.

Daniels was given a summons for obstructing the highway, the patrol said.

Lloyd Neng, 39, route five, Perryville, received a fractured nose and ribs, in a one-car accident at 7:30 p.m. on route T near Silver Lake in Perry county.

He was treated at Perry County Memorial hospital.

Neng came around a curve, lost control, went off the road and struck a tree.

Mary Hulsford, 35, Arbyrd, was taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital for a back injury, received at 3:25 p.m. one mile west of Arbyrd.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Willard W. Hulsford, 39, Arbyrd, pulled from a drive, and collided with a 1962 Plymouth, driven by Essel Thomas, 57, Arbyrd.

Mrs. Hulsford was taken to the Dunklin County Memorial hospital, Kennett.

Norbert Vandeven, 19, Leopold, received a bruised head and hip on highway 34, three miles east of Marble Hill.

The driver apparently went to sleep, went off the road down a hill to a creek and overturned.

He was treated by a Lutesville physician.

Democratic Platform Committee Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee opened hearings today with a plea by its chairman, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, for harmony—a harmony already threatened by discord over the plank on Vietnam.

Although Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has made a compromise move toward acceptance of a U.S. halt to bombing of North Vietnam, he balked at another key point of a seven-step peace plan proposed by his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The issue involves McCarthy's insistence that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, be included in any South Vietnamese coalition government.

If this point isn't settled in the platform hearings, and that seems unlikely, it probably will result in a floor fight when the party's national convention convenes in Chicago next week.

In a statement prepared for the opening hearing, Rep. Boggs urged the 110 platform drafters to "beware of flying to the extremes of controversy" and to seek reconciliation between the views of old and young, white and black, poor and affluent.

"I am .. concerned about the new spirit of political intolerance that has been blowing hard of late against the face of American politics," the Louisiana congressman said.

"This attitude is so virulent in some quarters that it clearly defines our paramount task—which is to effect a reconciliation among the divided members of society."

But the lines of conflict between Humphrey and McCarthy hardened on Sunday when they took opposing views on the issue of inviting the Viet Cong into a new South Vietnam government.

"The fundamental difference between myself and Sen. McCarthy is on the imposition of a coalition government .. I cannot agree with that," Humphrey said.

McCarthy was equally firm. He said he could see no hope for compromise in peace efforts "unless you have a willingness to include in a new government the forces that are fighting it." McCarthy went on:

'He (Humphrey) is rejecting ... the heart of the proposal I have been asking. ... I don't see any evidence of compromise."

Humphrey appeared on the CBS "Face the Nation" panel, McCarthy on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program.

McCarthy unwrapped his proposed peace plank on Saturday. It called for an immediate halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, a curtailment of American operations in South Vietnam, and the creation of a new coalition government in Saigon with "substantial participation" by the NLF.

If Saigon rejected such a coalition, McCarthy specified, U.S. military support would be withdrawn.

Humphrey obviously was hunting for a compromise. He said Saturday he accepts most proposals of "the peace Democrats" including a qualified agreement to halt bombing.

But the vice president said that a cessation of bombing should be in response to some restraint by Hanoi. And he declared he could not accept a plank which repudiated "the policies and sacrifices of the past."

Platform Chairman Boggs has taken no public position on the plank. His role—like the one successfully played by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as Republican platform chairman at the GOP convention—is to seek a compromise in the committee on this most divisive of issues.

A convention floor fight over Vietnam, staged under the eyes of the press and in the glare of TV lights, would highlight Democratic disunity as the party heads into a crucial election battle.

McCarthy backers claimed they had more than enough supporters on the Platform Committee to bring a dissenting plank to the convention floor.

More than 200 witnesses were scheduled for appearances before Boggs' committee, which meets in Washington until moving to Chicago on Thursday. Four subcommittees were set up to hear the witnesses on issues ranging from race riots to pensions for World War I veterans.

Boggs told the opening session in a ballroom of the Statler Hilton hotel that "no one has hand picked this committee ... Its membership of 110 individualists is the sum of the choices each delegation has freely made."

He combined his appeal for unity with a plea for law and order.

"In this task of reconciliation, let us by all means insist on the rule of law," he said.

"Let us by all means strengthen the authority and fabric of law by entwining it with justice, equity and compassion.

"Let us by all means enlist our full strength for a frontal assault on the real evils that beset us. But on this very point, let us also beware of flying to the extremes of controversy where, from lofty motives, we draw apart from each other in an endless chain of secession until each man discovers he stands alone in a war of all against all."

PARTY PLATFORMS

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California attends Republican Party platform hearings in Miami Beach on Wednesday (Aug. 31).

PARTY PLATFORMS, in the political adage, are not to stand on but to run on. Daniel Webster once said of his party's platform: "I have read their platform, and though I think there are some unsound places in it, I can stand upon it pretty well. But I see nothing in it both new and valuable. 'What is valuable is not new, and what is new is not valuable'."

The late Wendell Willkie called party platforms "fusions of ambiguity." But they are not all that manageable -- nor all that meaningless.

The ruckus among the Democrats in 1948 centered on the party platform plank calling for congressional action to abolish the poll tax, stop lynching, and set up fair employment practices in the states. The all - out civil rights plank was approved after a bitter floor fight by a numerical majority of delegates to the Democratic national convention, but with delegates from 29 states opposed. The real leader of the A.D.A. - C.I.O. coalition pressing the civil rights plank was Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis, who said "We are 172 years late in acting."

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED by the Democrats in 1860 resolved: "That the Democratic Party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the questions of constitutional law." This was a reinforcement of the Dred Scott decision. But even that did not satisfy the Southerners, who wanted the whole slavery issue spelled out in the platform. Most of them bolted and nominated another set of candidates. The Republicans, led by Abraham Lincoln, easily won the election.

The Democratic platform in 1932 called for repeal of the Prohibition Amendment. The Republican platform hedged. It called for a new amendment whereby each state could deal with the "liquor problem" as it saw fit. The federal government was to retain power to preserve the gains already made in dealing with that problem, also to "safeguard our citizens everywhere from the return of the saloon." Whatever this meant, the G.O.P. lost 42 states, chiefly because of the Depression, but certainly to some extent on the Wet - Dry issue.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM hearings in Miami Beach this week may produce some surprises. Walter Cronkite has suggested on radio that one plank might call for an effective gun control law.

The Resolutions Committee drafts and presents a platform to the convention. Much of the preparation actually takes place before the convention opens. The main problem of a Resolutions Committee is to report a platform all party candidates can "live with" and use in their campaigns.

A tip- off on the Republican platform is incorporated in Republican Papers, edited by Rep. Melvin R. Laird (Wis.), chairman of the Republican Conference, and published on July 1. Laird was Barry Goldwater's voice in the 1964 platform - making, but he is taking no overt role this year. The papers are by Republican congressmen and a strong staff of academic and other advisers. These papers, to paraphrase Daniel Webster, contain little that is new but much that is valuable.

For example, take "The Case for the Negative Income Tax," a chapter by Prof. Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago, a Goldwater adviser. The tax is a form of guaranteed income, according to Prof. Friedman: "It is directed specifically at the problem of poverty. It gives help in the form most useful to the individual, namely cash." But it is unlikely to fit in the G.O.P. platform.

Sikeston is winning an enviable reputation throughout the state for the quality of its baseball.

The All-Stars have returned from the Missouri Babe Ruth tournament at Joplin as second place winners in the tough competition of a double elimination event.

Last summer the Potlatch Foresters were one of eight teams to go to the national Connie Mack league world series. This year they have a 25-6 record as this is written and are getting ready to play host to the regional Connie Mack tournament here in which teams from Missouri, Arkansas and the southwest will participate.

The All-Stars went to Joplin both with the good wishes of the community and a liberal outpouring of cash raised by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, other organizations and individuals.

It proved to be a fine investment.

The All Stars had proved their merit by winning a state tournament berth.

While they couldn't quite match the baseball skill of Sedalia in two encounters they took the measure twice of a strong Joplin team.

The play of Pitcher Les Schatzley was brilliant. He twice held Joplin batters at bay and in the first game poled a three - run homer to put his own game on ice.

The Stars deserve all the credit they are being given for a fine season.

As long as the youngsters work hard, show initiative, develop and play baseball of the caliber of the All Stars, the community should respond generously for any need for financial help to reach a state tournament.

Many worthy teams are denied the opportunity.

Only a few are called.

They deserve all the encouragement the community can muster.

Warner and Swasey say the good message again in their latest advertisement as follows:

DON'T TELL THESE NEGRO BOYS
THEY ARE "UNDERPRIVILEGED"

They're too busy to listen -- too busy working and earning.

In a large northern city whose relief rolls are loaded with people who can't (or won't) work, is a group of teen-age Negroes who have all the work they can handle. Because they are willing to work, hard, at any honest work they can get. So they have plenty of it.

People who employ them (at painting, cleaning, yard work) say they're thorough, industrious, honest, self-respecting.

Any number of tax-supported, inflation - breeding organizations would have been glad to "take care of" these teen-agers - but they preferred work and self-respect.

Tens and hundreds of thousands more could be employed in this country as happily and profitably as these young men are - if they had the gumption to go out and look for work to do.

Whoever the next President may be he should strike a balance between management and labor.

The nation has witnessed two Presidents, who have vigorously criticized the steel industry for any significant increase in prices but who never exerted any corresponding effort to hold down the wage demands of steel workers.

The recent steel settlement was described by management as highly inflationary.

While the new contract was negotiated without federal government intervention, steel management was not free to bargain without pressure.

It knew that government would intervene if there was a long strike especially if steel supplies needed to fight the war in Vietnam were jeopardized.

The industry also was influenced by highly inflationary wage settlements in other industries, automobile manufacturing among them.

The inflationary impact of steel prices is indisputable. It is a product with millions of consumer uses from kitchen utensils to home construction and in family automobiles.

Steel workers always have been among the highest paid of the nation's industrial workers.

Because of this both President John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson have on occasion castigated the steel industry for raising prices after large wage settlements in labor negotiations.

This one sided emphasis isn't fair.

Steel profits have been restrained more than other industries. The companies face severe competition from steel makers abroad.

President Johnson has tried to shame the Bethlehem Steel Company for a price increase, the natural consequence of a big wage settlement following on the heels of other highly inflationary increases in labor costs.

He has urged other steel companies not to follow Bethlehem's example.

They should run their own business and pay no attention to the public scolding by the President.

It is true that President Johnson recently called for restraint both by management and labor in steering a non - inflationary course on prices and wages.

He said that if management and labor didn't hold the line it would weaken the restraint that the federal tax increase exerts on this country's inflationary forces.

He is right but his approach lacked vigor and the day for voluntary action has passed.

The federal government could furnish an exmaple of constructive action by speedily reducing its own costs by the $6 million to which the President agreed in order to obtain congressional action on the tax increase.

In the nation's rising inflationary spiral, the federal government always has been the worst offender while piously pleading for others to exercise restraint.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Litterbugs aren't merely nuisances. They're expensive. The cost of picking up the debris they leave on highways, beaches, park sites and other public property adds half a billion dollars annually to the nation's tax bill.

On the other hand, a nagging wife can sometimes save you money. By bawling you out she may herself avoid getting an expensive ailment—arthritis. Many psychiatrists believe that women who bottle up their emotions and brood about their woes are particularly susceptible to arthritis.

The more cars a family has, the more each vehicle is used. Familes with two or more cars average 10,000 miles a car. Those with one car average 9,900.

A good wife is a good financial bargain. One study found that wives who don't hold outside jobs put in nearly 100 hours a week on their homemaking duties. If you could find any other woman who would work that hard or long for a minimum of $1.60 an hour—and you probably couldn't—she would cost you $160 a week.

The increasing use of computers is adding new words to our vocabulary. One is "nanosecond," the time it takes electricity traveling at 186,000 miles per second to go one foot. Another is "picasecond," a millionth of a millionth of a second. That's how long it takes electricity to journey the thickness of your fingernail.

ENGINEERS CHANGE CLANG INTO THUD

A metal garbage can that falls with a thud, not a clang when it is knocked around, raised hopes that this sleepshattering noise may be stopped.

Noise-control engineers of the Bethlehem Steel Company were approached by "Citizens for a Quieter City" to assist in the elimination of excessive noise.

Since metal, ratproof cans are required by law in many cities, the only solution was sound-proofing the container.

Sound-absorbing material, including asphalt, felt and rubber has been applied to areas of bivration, six rubber feet are attached to the bottom rim, and the entire base coated with a gummy material. The result is an innocuous thud rather than a spine-tingling crash.

TAKE IT EASY, GRANNY

Down in Grapevine, Tex., a spunky little lady named "Granny" Wilcox started smoking when she was 10 years old. She is now 105.

For quite awhile she smoked a corncob pipe. But when she reached the age of 100, she switched to cigarettes and now smokes two packs a day.

The U. S. Public Health Service had better get word to Granny real fast that if she doesn't kick this cigarette habit, she'll never live to be 200. You just wait and see!

FOUR-YEAR-OLD- SAMMY would not stay in his room alone when his parents went out. He was only quiet when he sat next to the attractive baby sitter.

One night the sitter had her boyfriend over but first she settled Sammy down next to her on one side of the couch until she was certain he was asleep. Very quietly then the baby sitter and the boy friend began petting. They got lost in their love making and Sammy bounced off the couch, hitting the floor with his head.

Irate, he got up and hollered accusingly at the baby sitter, "You'll kill me yet with your fancy love making."

H.L. Hunt Says

A DECADE OF CASTRO

On next January 1 Fedel Castro will complete a full decade as head of what turned out to be the first Communist regime of the Western Hemisphere. Before and after he came to power, he promised that free elections would be held in Cuba -- within four year, he said on April 19, 1959. But no elections have been held. The government rules by decree and there is no legislative body.

Every Cuban citizen must at all times carry with him an identification card containing his picture, description and fingerprints. Per capita annual income has gone down under Castro from $450 in 1959 to $400 in 1967. Strict rationing is made necessary by shortages of food, clothing and household articles. The Communist regime continues to be heavily subsidized by Soviet Russia.

Castro has managed to retain control of Cuba despite an American-financed attempt at invasion, an economic boycott promoted by the United States, and expulsion from the Organization of American States. His soldiers and militia keep the people down. There is no freedom on the once-happy island.

The administration that will take office in Washington in January will be faced with the task of reviewing U. S. policy toward Cuba. The countries of Latin America and our own national security are threatened by the existence of a Communist regime so close by. It sould not be forgotten that some men in our own Department of State participated in the events that brought Fidel Castro to power. And he is still in power nearly 10 years later. HLH

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Rep. Rooney frets about free doughnuts; Vital testing provision dropped from auto safety act; Tennessee Congressman wants Uncle Same kept out of the liquor business.

WASHINGTON--Rep. John Rooney, sometimes called the Brooklyn Tyrant, is worried over doughnuts being used by the small business administration. This was the subject of a closed-door grilling which he gave to Robert C. Moot of the SBA regarding a $1,000 fund Mott had requested for "light refreshment" for officials of SCORE and the SBA Advisory Council.

SCORE members are retired business executives who give free technical and management advice to small business firms, and Rooney wanted to know what was meant by "light refreshments."

Moot replied: 'I was thinking of doughnuts and that sort of thing." Rooney: "Do you mean to tell us that if you got this $1,000 you wouldn't buy any scotch whisky?"

Moot: 'We do not plan to use this for buying any scotch liquor."

Rooney: "The question wasn't what you plan to do. The quest was--if you got the $1,000, would you buy any scotch with it?"

Moot: "The answer is flatly no."

Rooney: "Why shouldn't the people who borrow the money do the entertaining? Why should the taxpayers do the entertaining?"

Moot: "They (SCORE members) are people helping us be assisting small business they provide their own time. They are civic leaders."

Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio: "What are you going to do for SCORE people who are on a diet like I am? My doctor says I can't eat a doughtnut. You probably have some fat people in this SCORE outfit."

Moot: "I really don't think the money is going to provide too much in terms of doughnuts, Mr. Congressman."

Bow: 'This is a temptation to those of us on a diet. I would probably eat a doughnut and get on the scales the next morning and find my doctor's advice was not being very well taken. So take care of the dieters, too, will you?"

Moot: 'Yes sir. I will get diet doughnuts if you give me the money."

LONAS FOR LIQUOR

Whether uncle same should put people in the liquor business with loans from the small business administration has touched off a backstage debate.

In the past the small business administration has followed a strict policy of no loans tc gambling establishments, racetracks, newspapers, radio-TV stations, book publishers, banks, hospitals and concerns selling alcoholic beverages. The latter were included on the forbidden list because it was held that bars, beer gardens and liquor dealers did not contribute to the welfare of the community.

However, the new small business administrator, Howard J. Samuels, has dropped the ban and has extended loans to lizuor dealers. He claims that the no-loan policy was discriminatory against small businessmen, especially negroes, who are trying to take over from white liquor dealers in the Negro gheetos.

Samuels, an able administrator and former under secretary of commerce, has just received a hot letter from Rep. Joe Evins, D-Tenn., chairman of the house small business committee, taking him to task.

"All of your predecessors have found valid reasons for continuing the policy against liquor loans," says Evins. "It is suggested that in handling matters of this import, which call for the exercise of discretion conferred upon you by Congress, it would be appreciated if some consultation is held with members of this committee."

What this means is that if liquor loans are not cut off, there will be speeches when Congress returns next month and progably a ban on Uncle Sam financing the liquor business.

SAFETY MEASURE AXED

A strange thing has happened to an important section of the 1966 auto safety act aimed at making cars and highways safer. The provision for an auto safety reserach and test facility has disappeared.

Those who drive the highways and suffer from auto crashes costing over $12 billion a year don't know that this important part of the auto safety act has been quietly ditched. Someplace along the way the budget bureau ruled it out, either because it cost too mcuh or because Detroit doesn't want it--possibly both.

The motor moguls in Detroit have claimed this testing facility would put the government into the auto business. Some members of the department of transportation have been shaken by this argument. Also Congress has decreed a crackdown on spending. As a result, this part of the auto safety act is being sidetracked.

Meanwhile, auto crashes kill 53,000 people annually and injure 4 ½ million. Meanwhile also, the government operates bureaus responsible for drug safety, bus and rail safety, radiation safety, and health safety, but apparently is ditching the texting facility on auto safety.

TAX LOOPHOLE

Hard-hitting young Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., is among those urging a strong tax reform plank in the 1968 Democratic platform. In a recent statement Howard declared that any man who aspires to the White House--whether Democrat or Republican--" must represent all of the people, not just the oilmen and those who escape paying their fair share of taxes through loopholes."

He pointed out that, under the notorious "depletion allowance," 20 of the top U.S. oil companies have been making a total net profit of almost $5 billion a year, yet pay an average of only 8.5 per cent in taxes. Mighty Standard Oil of New Jersey, for example, is in the 6.3 per cent bracket.

Howard also wants to tighten loopholes that enable individuals to flimflam the government.

"In 1965," he said, "There were 35 American so-called taxpayers, with incomes exceeding $500,000 a year, who paid no income tax at all--including five with incomes of $5 million or more."

Two-Headed Humphrey: Veep Caught in Chicago Crunch As Powerful Labor Forces Battle

By Victor Riesel

New York: -- Certainly Hubert H. Humphrey will win it on the first ballot. But who will take it on the second?

Word from deep in the front runner's camp is that Mr. Humphrey will choose to run with someone who has created himself in Mr. Humphrey's own image.

There simply will be no effort to "balance" the ticket. The Vice President, if elected, wants no "two-headed government." He will not choose someone from another region, another religion, another philosophy, simply to balance the ticket, unless he thinks and believes as does Hubert Humphrey.

This I was told bluntly, flatly, and unequivocally by the ebullient 37-year-old Senator from Oklahoma, Fred Harris, Mr. Humphrey's most active campaign manager.

As we talked he made it clear that Mr. Humphrey and his advisers are taking for granted the definitive "Shermanesque" words of Ted Kennedy, Mr. Harris' only junior in the U.S. Senate.

Who then, on the record, thinks as Mr. Humphrey thinks? Or, who does Mr. Humphrey think thinks like himself? If the Vice President shifts a little to the left, it could be Gene McCarthy, George McGovern or even Ted Kennedy.

Now that the vice presidency no longer is a post of escalated impotance, the second spot is a critical matter to Mr. Humphrey's most powerful sponsors, from whom will flow the money, the manpower, the caravans, the telephone squad work, the flares, scores of millions of pieces of literature, the broadcast financing, the actual "hardware" of a presidential campaign -- namely, the labor movement.

One phalanx of this embattled legion led by George Meany's AFL-CIO doesn't really care who Mr. Humphrey believes is created in his image so long as it's not Gene McCarthy.

Another bloc of "the troops," led by the newly united labor breathren, Frank Fitzsimmons and Walter Reuther, is for Gene McCarthy. For them he's political aspirin. He would cure their splitting headaches brought on by overdoses of Lyndon Johnson.

They're all now supporting Hubert Humphrey, who has been telephoning them from his Minnesota home, breakfasting with them here in New York, consulting with them in Michigan, California and Washington, D.C.

But their private problem now is to influence his thinking. Walter Reuther, for example, wants Mr. Humphrey to go white as a dove and black as a ghetto.

The other day a reporter asked the usually insulated Walter Reuther whether he has been talking with the Vice President.

"Yes, I'm pushing him hard on the Vietnam war," said the auto union leader. "He's got to come out against it or he cannot win the elections. I think he'll come out."

If that's how Humphrey starts thinking, will will be a natural for him to call his old friend McCarthy, a latter-day Stevensonian, and say let's run together. Such a ticket would ave Mr. Humphrey many a headache and demonstration. It also would give him the full support of Fitzsimmons' Brotherhood of Teamsters with which Sen. McCarthy has been very close indeed.

Thus if Reuther convinces Mr. Humphrey to flap sincerely like a dove, the auto union leader can effect the first united political action with the Teamsters. Furthermore, it would make everybody happy.

Reuther would unite his union which is palit between Humphrey and McCarthy -- and the Teamsters would have a friend high in the administration for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

On Saturday or Sunday night preceding the convention opening, the Reuther and Fitzsimmons forces, each with a contingent of convention delegates, will dine and caucus in a Chicago hotel.

But while they're "showing the flag" over roast beef, there will be another labor caucus, powerful indeed. This one is led by AFL-CIO president George Meany who has about as much use for Gene McCarthy as he does for Leonid Brezhnev.

Mr. Meany is a very definite man. That's understatement. In his words, he wants peace but not appeasement. He does not want, nor do the 280 labor delegates and alternates, Mr Humphrey to repudiate either Lyndon Johnson or the war. He wants no compromise with the Viet Cong.

He believes that "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanio

"Let the pickets and the protestors -- yes, and the candidates -- turn their attention there. Let them direct their condemnation and the pressure of opinion upon the one force primarily responsible for the continuation of the bloodshed North Vietnam and its Viet Cong allies."

As for the ghettos, Mr Meany demands social justice But he's not afeared of demanding though law and order too.

Obviously Hubert Humphrey will have to think fast about what he will think on the convention floor. Either way, he stands to lose some influential friends.

Decor For Cottage Is Born At Garage Sale

MISS TRUDYE WEAKS chose a bright blue and kelly green color scheme for her attractive guest house. The louver scene conceals the kitchenette. The dining area is at the far end of the room, opposite the sofa. - Memphis Commercial Appeal Photo.

MEMPHIS - A blue wicker sofa found in a garage sale started a decorating scheme that evolved into a pattern for Trudye Weaks' guest house at 1478 Goodbar. Miss Weaks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Weaks, 822 Moore, Sikeston, Mo.

"I was just tired of apartments. You might say I was the good luck charm for all my roommates. Everyone would get married on me and come June and December I'd be on the lookout for another roommate or one already in an apartment looking for one herself. Finally, when I got the last one married off, I decided this was it and started looking for a guest house just for myself."

Trudye is youth coordinator for Levy's, and starting Sept. 9 she will be the National Cotton Council's Maid of Cotton tour director. Her fashion sense is conveyed into her decorating plan in her three-room cottage. White walls in the little house, at the rear of Mrs. Mary Banks' home, provided Trudye with a good background to play with her favorite colors.

The wicker sofa had cushions covered with a navy and kelly green striped fabric and the color duet is repeated in varying patterns. One lounge chair is slipcovered in navy blue with green cording, and another chair is done with a white slipcover, accented with the green trim. The floor-length skirt on a pedestal table is kelly green printed with a flag design of the two colors.

The bright shade of green also plays the role of an accent color. Chests painted white, siding the wicker sofa, have knobs and top trim in green, and an antique lady's pigeon hole desk received a coat of the bright paint.

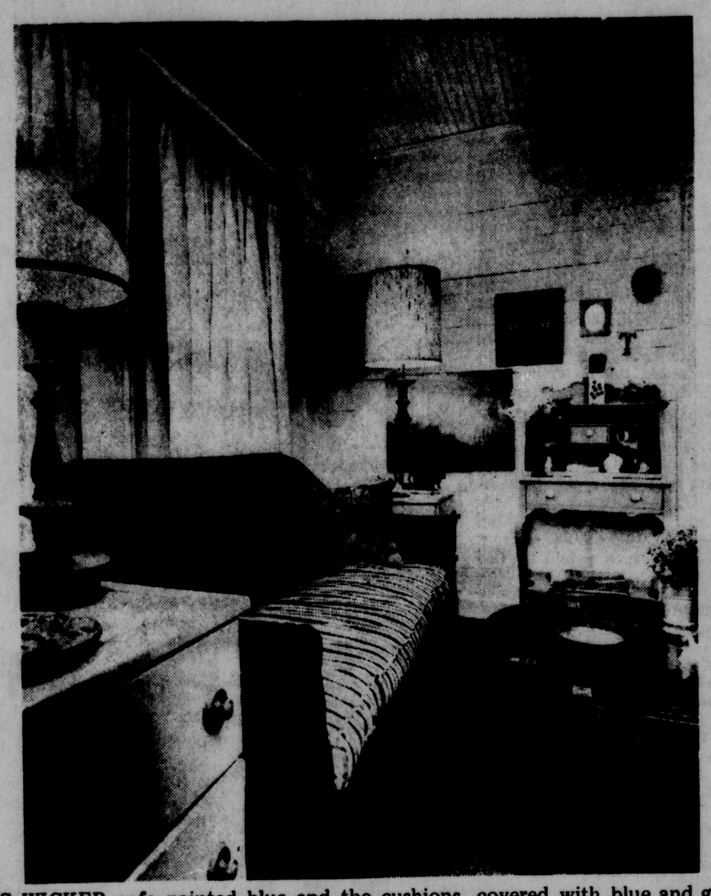
A third color, tangerine, is introduced at walls behind a cluster of shelves over the slipcovered sofa. A collection of pillows in varying sizes and shapes displays one of Trudye's hobbies of crewel embroidery. She also frequents the antique and salvage stores where she has found some of her favorite "fun" pieces. For instance, a storage barrel became the ideal side table for one of the sofas. Her latest project is working on an old ice box, which she will convert into a liquor cabinet. She plans to line the inside completely with orange felt.

Her bedroom continues the blue flavor with the printed quilted bedspread. A lack of storage space brought her college streamer-trunk down from the attic of her parents' home in Sikeston, Mo. Rather than hiding in the closet she keeps it open in her bedroom and uses the top to display pictures and small mementos.

Pink and magenta color the small bath. The ceiling-to-floor shower curtain was fashioned from pink and white striped ticking, trimmed with a deeper shade of pink fringe. Magenta is used for towels and mats.

Walls throughout the small place display interesting picture groupings, including several by Memphis artists such as Larkin Wall and Steve Yee.

Trudye is quick to point out that this style of decorating, relying on color for appeal, will not carry over into her home in future years. "Everything in this house is fun. Some day it may find its way into a game room or sun porch, but for now it's my happy house and nothing more." -- Commercial Appeal.



THIS WICKER sofa painted blue and the cushions, covered with blue and green striped fabric, originated the room's color scheme. The desk at the far end is painted bright green, and the painting beside it coordinates both colors. - Memphis Commercial Appeal Photo.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:
The investment behind it

Each year the drug industry invests millions of dollars in research to support the nearly one billion prescriptions filled yearly by pharmacists throughout the country. This investment results in new "wonder drugs" which let us live our lives longer, healthier. Of the 300 milion dollars invested last year more than 150 million dollars went for quality control research. Improved precision measuring and compounding instruments were developed to make even more certain you receive exactly what your doctor prescribes. And the investment also went for developing improved methods of production. As the methods of manufacturing improve, the price of the bulk drug decreases. This saving is passed on to you in lower prescription prices. The "gold pill" of yesterday is purchased today for a nominal amount. Thus, a conscientious, developing industry works to improve the service and quality of the pharmaceuticals you receive today and tomorrow.

For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to Finals of the Morehouse Little League baseball tournament will be played tonight after rain forced postponement last week.

Tonight, Morehouse faces Bloomfield for third place honors at 7 p.m. and Poplar Bluff squares off against Bernie at 8:30 p.m.

Scott County Central high school claimed the championship of the high school Summer League baseball tournament last week by beating Oran, 4-2.

Morris Karnes took the victory for the Braves.

Oran's loser was Rodney LeGrand.

Oran was the winner in league play, that had eight teams, including Scott Central in the running.

For the first time in the history of the National Pistol Championships, the individual title was claimed by an Air Force shooter. Maj. Franklin C. Green, San Antonio, Tex., edged two-time champion Navy PO Donald Hamilton, Brookline, Mass. by one point to take the title with 2635 out of a possible 2700 points. At one point in the three-day match Green had a 12 point lead only to see it dwindle on the last day as Hamilton paced the field with a .45 caliber championship.

Maj. Green captured two other individual titles with the .22 caliber and center fire pistols while Hamilton gained the .45 caliber championship.

Air Force domination in the team championships became evident early in the matches when the Blue Team easily won the .22 team championship on the first day. Led by Maj. Green and SSgt. Arnold Vitarbo, New York City, Air Force Blue went on to capture all team titles duplicating its 1966 effort. Other team members included T/Sgt. John Ditmore, Huntsville, Ark., and T/Sgt. Edwin Teague, Chamler, Ariz.

Another individual title was claimed by the Air Force as Vitarbo easily won the .45 caliber Service Pistol Championship. Hamilton's late surge gave him the lead in the President's Hundred competition with a record - breaking total of 876 points out of a possible 900. Both men recently won berths on the U.S. Olympic Shooting Team.

Repeat winners seemed to be the order of the day as three former winners retained their championships. Elwyn Bernett, East Lansing, Mich., a Michigan State Police Trooper, retained the Police title which he first won in 1967. John H. Johnson, Fullerton, Calif., came from behind to recapture the Civilian Championship.

Trude Schlernitvauer, Lowell, Mich., won her second Woman's National Championship with an excellent 2571 score. The new champion won her first title here in 1965.

The National Championships sponsored by the National Rifle Association continues through August 23rd with Smallbore Rifle beginning August 11th and High Power Rifle August 18th.

A special march, The Palma, between the United States and Canada will be fired on August 23rd. This traditional international match was first fired nearly 100 years ago, and pits the twenty top long-distance riflemen from both nations. The Match is fired at 800, 900 and 1,000 yard ranges.

Kentucky Lake will be the source of $5,000 in cash prizes. The Fall Fishing Derby will award a total of $5,000 in grand and weekly prizes during the 10th Kentucky Lake Derby which runs from August 15 to November 1.

There is no entry fee; anyone who is an overnight guest of participating motels, resorts, or renting a houseboat is eligible to enter fish caught from Kentucky Lake in the "A" Division of the Derby.

Each week cash prizes of $25 and $10 will be awarded for the two largest fish caught in each of the following classes: Black Bass, Crappie, Pike, White Bess, and Catfish. Grand prizes will be awarded for the three largest fish caught in each of the same classes. Grand prize money in the "A" Division will total $2,350.

Registered overnight campers staying at participating campgrounds will be eligible to enter their Kentucky Lake fish in the "B" Division of the Derby. There will be $800 in grand prize money awarded for the largest fish caught in each of the following classes: Black Bass, Crappie, Pike, White Bass, Catfish, and Blue Gill.

The Kentucky Lake Fall Fishing Derby is sponsored and conducted by the resorts, motels, boat docks, and other businesses in the Kentucky Lake area, including Benton, Murray and Paducah, Kentucky. For complete information about the Derby, write to Kentucky Lake Fall Fishing Derby, P.O. Box 147, Benton, Kentucky, 42025.

There's a lot of good hunting coming up, with state game departments reporting abundant crops of all major game species.

Deer prospects appear even better than last year, with good to excellent mule deer and white-tailed deer hunting expected nationally. New York State biologists report an all-time high in whitetails after four mild winters, and predict a record deer kill this fall.

Western biologists predict generally good hunting for antelope, elk, mountain goat, bighorn and moose, all of which show some increases.

Bobwhite quail are reported in good to excellent numbers in their southern and southeastern ranges. Arkansas reports as many quail "as it is possible to have with present land use." The midwestern pheasant states report excellent quail populations.

Good midwestern pheasant hunting is forecast for Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. In the East, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have excellent pheasant crops.

Ruffed grouse prospects are good in the Lake States, with Minnesota reporting the highest spring drumming counts in a decade. Eastern grouse have had scattered nesting success because of spring rains, but good grouse numbers are reported in most eastern states. There are excellent chukar partridge prospects on the entire West Coast.

Nationally, wild turkey prospects are good. More spring seasons are being set, and turkey fever continues to rise wherever hunters are exposed to it.

The August 1 deadline of this survey found many state game departments with incomplete information on current game crops, and with some hunting seasons still not set. However, enough information is available to make estimates on the basis of spring game populations and reproductive success.

Each state's hunting prospects are rated excellent, good, fair or poor, according to that state's own standards of abundance. What is a "good" quail crop in one state might be "poor" by another state's standards.

Hunting seasons for each species in these tables will be within the dates indicated. In many cases, the hunting dates shown here are the earliest and latest dates when gun hunting is allowed. Many states manage game on a regional or area basis, and several shorter seasons for specific zones may be included within the brackets of the general season. Anyone planning to hunt in another state should contact the game department of that state for specific information about seasons, permits, limits, and whether both sexes of the particular game may be hunted.

The 1968 regulations for hunting doves, rails, gallinules, woodcock and snipe were released in mid-July, and the regulations on the 1968-69 waterfowl seasons will be released in mid-August by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C.

Cards Pound Atlanta, Gibson-Phils Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A nine-run first inning including two hits each by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda led the St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves Sunday.

The Braves behind the six-hit pitching of Pat Jariv 12-9 and Felix Millan's first home run of the season beat the Cardinals Saturday night 3-2.

In Sunday's contest, the Cardinals pounded Atlanta rookie Ron Reed and reliever Ken Johnson in the first inning Reed was the loser, making his record 10-8.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano each drove in two runs in the big first. Four of the first-inning tallies were unearned after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez.

Ray Washburn scattered nine hits and picked up his 11th victory against five defeats for St. Louis.

Cardinal ace Bob Gibson 17-5 will face Woody Fryman 11-11 of the Philadelphia Phillies tonight at Philadelphia.

Kansas City Beats St. Louis 13-10

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Stram says he feels even better about the Kansas City defense than he does about his 100th coaching victory, a 13-10 cliffhanger over the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

The Chiefs won with their gi IIFZFENSIVE TACKLES, Buck Buchanan and Ernie Ladd, out for all except a few key plans. They won without starting cornerback Willie Mitchell, hurt early in the second quarter. Stram said "I certainly was pleased with our young players."

Stram is the first American Football League coach to win 100 games, including exhibitions. He's also the first AFL coach to beat three NFL opponents. How does that make him feel?

"It's a great compliment to our squad," he said, "but the only time a victory over them means anything is on Jan. 12."

Kansas City's 3-2 record against NFL opponents includes the loss to Green Bay in the first Super Bowl. Stram's club hopes to regain the AFL crown from Oakland, which plays here Saturday night.

Early in the third period, the long-awaited match of Missouri's two pro football teams had turned sour for Kansas City fans. Wendell Hayes lost a fumble at the St. Louis 12 after a 53-yard punt return by tiny Noland Smith. In six plays, the Cards scored for a 10-3 lead as strong-armed Jim Hart completed four straight passes for 83 yards.

At that stage, Hart had completed almost 60 per cent of his passes, 13-for-22, and the Cards were averaging 5.1 yards per rushing play.

But this proved the turning point for the Kansas City defense. The rest of the game, Hart hit only 4-for-13 and the Cards made only 2.5 per rushing play. A 67-yard Jerrel Wilson punt put St. Louis in the hole, cornerback Goldie Sellers broke up a third-down pass to Bobby Joe Conrad, the Chiefs got the ball back and scored for a 10-10 tie.

Sellers had another big passbreak on the next St. Louis possession which ended with the Cards losing a fourth-and-one gamble at their 40. Six plays later Jan Stenerud's 24-yard field goal won it.

Linebacker Willie Lanier's key third-down pass break stopped the next St. Louis drive. On the Cards' final chance, end Aaron Brown broke up one play, Sellers took the ball away from Billy Gambrell in the end zone and Jim Bakken missed a 38yard field goal attempt with 1:33 left.

Ladd blocked a Bakken field goal try from the 31 with four seconds left in the half. The ailing Buchanan came in on his own with Ladd on the big fourthdown gamble, stirring up the record crowd of 47,462.

AUBREY "TINY" DAVIS lent to the south plains regional Connie Mack baseball tournament VFW stadium a sense of humor in heckling teams and adding spice to games. He was this year's Babe Ruth manager and is a Sikeston teams fan.

Power Cut Off of Struck REA

POPLAR BLUFF - Another round of vandalism Thursday brought renewed appeals for members of the Ozark Border Electric Cooperative, and other area residents to be on the alert for suspects.

C. B. Dannaer, manager of the cooperative, reported that vandals resorted to the use of high-powered rifles Thrusday night to shoot out oil circuit breakers.

Four circuit breakers were shot out in the Malden area and three in the Broseley area, resulting in serious power outages, Danner said.

There were many instances of both three and two-phase power line being grounded out by wires thrown over the lines. One of these on Highway 160 near Doniphan, took all of the lines from Doniphan to the Oregon County line out of service.

Another grounding was reported on Highway JJ west of Malden. A pole was cut near Harviell and, on U. S. Highway 67, a tree was felled across the lines near the L. O. Garrett Store, north of Poplar Bluff.

Co-op officials issued the following statement this morning.

"Are striking linemen involved in vandalism?

"It has been reported by members of the cooperative that four of the union linemen who are out on strike have been seen in areas where your electric lines have been put out of service by acts of vandalism.

"If all the 15,00 members of Ozark Border Cooperative would be as alert as these members were, they could soon put a stop to all acts which could damage the cooperative's electric lines."

Meanwhile, the Butler county sheriff's office is investigating nine reports of grounding of Ozark Border power lines and pole cuttings.

Included are repots of Co-op property being tampered with in areas on highway 60, east; highway 142, highway 53, Highway PP, the highway 67, north, incident announced by Danner, and a Qulin case.

In addition to investigating the reports, the sheriff's officers have also been escorting several of the Co-op line maintenance and repair trucks

How many people get hurt when a car is stolen?

More than you think.
The thief gets hurt.
Very likely he's a teen-age kid who's never been in serious trouble before.

Poor Purses

Man O' War, who ran in 1919 and 1920, in the days before the big purse races, finished first in 19 out of his 20 races, but earned less than $250,000.

TERRY JOHNSON, 403 Dorothy St., is working for radio station KFSB at Joplin in the Missouri school of journalism's summer intern program. He interviews True Davis, U. S. senatorial candidate, during the primary campaign.

Journalism Students Get on-Job Training

COLUMBIA - Seventy-two students in the school of journalism at the University of Missouri are spending their vacation time between semesters working on summer jobs in their chosen fields. Most of them are employed by newspapers and broadcasting stations. The students are working in 20 states.

In addition to gaining experience and receiving pay checks, 56 members of the group will earn two hours of academic credit, to be granted by the school after supervision and evaluation by their employers.

Missouri newspapers employing interns include the Kansas City Star, Joplin Globe St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Columbis Tribune, Jefferson City Capital News, and Springfield News and Leader-Press -- the Springfield papers employing two Missouri publishers' sons in the program, Ben. F. Weir Jr., son of Ben F. Weir, recently in Nevada and now general manager of the Independence Examiner, and Dan F. Zimmerman, son of Jac W. Zimmerman of the Boliver Free Press.

Other newspapers providing training for the young journalists Memphis Press-Schimitar, Tulsa Tribune, Milwauke Journal, Charlotte Observer, Rochester (N.Y.) Times-Union, Nashville Tennessean, Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch, and Lawrence (Kan.) Journal-World.

Among other employers in the program are the Farm Quarterly, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Anheuser-Busch, Ford Motor Co., Mutual Broadcasting System, one television station and eight radio stations.

The wide range of duties involves the interns in reporting, copy editing, photojournalism, advertising copywriting and sales, newscasting and announcing, as well as other tasks.

Most of the summer employment opportunities are arranged during campus interview visits. Others are scheduled by mail and through personal visits during Christmas vacation and spring break.

"The student obviously has much to gain from such an arrangement," says Robert W. Haverfield, associate professor of journalism and placement director for the school. "He gets some more of this experience that employers are always seeking. Although all Missouri journalism students work on the general circulation daily, the Columbia Missourian, teaching newspaper of the School of Journalism, most are eager to augment this experience by working with still another newspaper or broadcaster. The summer internship also means a pay check to help on college expenses and an opportunity for the student to see for himself "just what this business is all about."

Haverfield said the employer finds many advantages to the summer program. One publisher described it "as a reasonably priced source of dedicated labor." If the summer intern proves to be a real "find," one who would be welcomed back after graduation, the employer usually has the inside track with the young journalist. A great many of the interns do return to these jobs after graduation.

One publisher pointed out that he was glad to pay a higher starting salary to those who had worked for him for a summer because he knew what he was buying -- he wasn't buying an unknown commodity.

Salaries for the summer employes range from $75 a week to about $125 a week with newspapers. Some of the salaries for companies range even higher.

Students working on summer jobs, listed by county and home towns and place employed, are:

Kennett - James McHaney, 305 East Linden Circle, Memphis Press- Scimitar

Springfield - Cheryl Stolp, 802 W. Highland Drive. Sikeston Daily Standard.

Sikeston - Terry Johnson, 403 Dorothy, St., KFSB, Joplin, Carol Ann Miller, Daily Capitol News, Jefferson City.

Kennedy Film Prepared for Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 20-minute motion picture depicting the public life of Robert F. Kennedy is being prepared for the Democratic National Convention—but party officials refuse to say when or if it will be shown.

Charles Guggenheim said in an interview that his Washington production firm was commissioned by the Kennedy family to make the film. He said the project is 60 per cent completed.

Four years ago, Kennedy—then attorney general and a candidate for the Senate—stood head bowed and eyes moist before the Democratic convention in Atlantic City and introduced a similar film of highlights in the life of his brother, John F. Kennedy, slain nine months earlier by an assassin.

For 13 minutes, the thousands in convention hall cheered Robert Kennedy. When the lights went on after the film, thousands were weeping.

Guggenheim's firm, which made a documentary for Kennedy of his 1964 Senate campaign, has asked for film footage from television networks and television stations and for still pictures from news media.

The film will be in black and white. The narrator, Guggenheim said, will be someone well known.

Guggenheim was reluctant to discuss specific scenes because the movie is subject to approval by the Kennedy family.

"This will not be a definitive biography, but rather the quality of a man's life," he said. "I don't think we have to trick it up to get an emotional response —the loss people feel is the quality the man communicated."

The Democratic National Committee has refused to say if the film is scheduled. In 1964, the John Kennedy movie was rescheduled from the second to the fourth day of convention week until after a vice presidential candidate had been nominated.

His unit was cited for highly significant contributions to the effectiveness and accomplishment of the Alaskan Air Command operational mission.

This is the second time in the past 18 months that the unit has been so honored.

The Revenue and Expenditure Control Act of 1968, signed into law on June 28, 1968, required the President to reduce Federal expenditures in Fiscal Year 1969. In order to meet the limitations enacted by the Congress, the Navy will reduce classes at its Officer Candidate School, according to LCDR. P. S. Fauks, USN, Executive Officer of the Navy recruiting station in St. Louis.

LCDR Fauks, whose offices are at 208 North Broadway, said the reduction will affect some persons already assigned to September, October and November classes.

"I want to emphasize", LCDR Fauks stressed, "that this does not mean any candidate laready selected will be dropped, but may delay the reporting date of some of these candidates"'

All selectees are being contacted and asked to voluntarily requrest reassignement to a later class.

"We hope", LCDR Fauks added, "this procedure will take care of the greater percentage of the reductions, and keep involuntary assignments to later classes to a minimum". Those candidates reassigned to later classes will be notified as soon as possible.

The large number of applicants and reassingments of candidates has caused some dalys in application procdessing. "Faced with these circumstances", LCDR Fauks said, "we expect Officer Candidate School quotas to be reudced; nonetheless all interested college graduates who desire to apply will be considered in competition with all other applicants.

If You Were the Judge

Woman's Departure Not Against Public Policy

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Genial George was a politician with great hopes and great expectations. While he had a promising future, however, he had a sister with a terrible past. She flirted like a Mae West, drank like a fish, but not the same thing, and was as loud as a bookie's sport jacket.

To safeguard his political future, George decided that it was necessary to get rid of his free-wheeling sister. Consequently, he offered his brother-in-law, Sam, $5,000 if he'd get his sister out of town. Not one to ignore so generous an offer, Sam immediately made the the necessary arrangements and moved his family, lock, stock, and barrel, to another town. But, when Sam approached George to collect the $5,000, George refused to pay and Sam sued him to collect.

"I went through a lot of trouble and expense to move to another town," Sam complained in court. "After shaking hands on our deal, George tried to shake me and he shouldn't be allowed to get away with it."

"The deal was illegal," was George's answer, "and unenforceable. When Sam agreed to make his wife leave town, he was agreeing to infringe upon her right to go or stay as she pleased. Since an agreement to infringe upon a person's liberty is against public policy, the deal was void and I don't have to pay a penny."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Sam to collect?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that Sam had not deprived his wife of her liberty since there was no evidence that she had been forced in any unlawful manner to leave town; that she apparently had departed voluntarily with her husband. And, concluded the judge, since her departure was a distinct gain to the community, her departure could hardly have been against public policy.

(Based upon a 1929 New Mexico Supreme Court Decision).

PRESERVING HISTORY

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — British archeologist G.C. Sampson and his wife, Mary, have completed a two and a half year task of painstakingly clearing the huge Orange River basin of items useful to archeology. The area will soon be swallowed up by the waters of the Hendrik Verwoerd Dam.

Sampson gathered 919 boxes of material representing different stone age cultures, including examples of early tool making, primitive weapons and soil samples for carbon dating.

The Prayer from The Upper Room

A certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him . and took care of him. (Luke 10:33-34).

PRAYER: O God, creator of all gifts, give us as we go along life's roads the ability to see opportunities for neighborliness. Give us hearts of compassion toward those needing help. We pray in the spirit of Jesus, who went about doing good. Amen.

Ann Landers

Ride in Dump Truck Unsuitable for Banquet

Dear Ann Landers: First let's get one thing straight. I am not a teen-ager. I'm 41 years of age and I hold a responsible position in a bank.

My husband died five years ago and I have been going with a man who owns a fertilizer business. (I'm fed up on jokes about his business and I have heard them all, so please don't come up with any.)

Last night was Horace's lodge dinner. He belongs to the Moose. I got dressed up in a silk outfit and had my hair set and my nails manicured. I even bought a brocaded shoulder stole for the affair.

Horace came for me a little late but I didn't say anything. I almost died when I saw he was driving his dump truck. I'm not sure but I think it had some fertilizer in it. All he said was, "I sold the Buick and the new car won't be here till next month."

I am not a snob but I don't think a dump truck is proper transportation for a middle- aged couple. Should I refuse to ride in it in the future?--EMBARRASSED.

Dear Em: A dump truck is all right for a trip to the beach, maybe, but surely not to a banquet - with you in a brocaded stole, yet. Tell Horace you'd prefer to take the bus until the new car comes in, if it's all the same to him.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 21 years old and the mother of a beautiful little daughter. The father of my child refused to marry me. Although I was hurt at first I have come to the conclusion it was all for the best. He was a bum.

I am very proud of Rochelle and my family and friends know she has no legal father. They treat her kindly and nothing is ever said about it.

Recently I took a new job and moved to another section of town. When I was shopping in the market Saturday a new neighbor asked, "What does your husband do?" I replied, "The baby's father did not marry me. She is an out-of-wedlock child."

The woman's mouth dropped open and she yelled at the top of her lungs. "HOW DID IT HAPPEN?" She knows very well how it happened. Why would she ask such a dumb question?

Please tell me what to say to curel people who ask questions that are none of their business? ---ALONE BUT PROUD

Dear A. But P.: "What does your husband do?" might be a tasteless question from a casual acquaintance but it is not cruel. You invited the cruel question ("How did it happen?") when you volunteered the information that the baby's father did not marry you.

In the future if you are asked about the baby's father, simply say, "He is a plumber -- or whatever he is -- but we are living apart."

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the quote in today's column from a French philosopher who said, "There are no frigid women. Only clumsy men."

Here's another one, from a Hungarian poet: "If a woman does not get the man she wants, God help the man she gets."

If you fail to see the connection, I'll point it out. Some men are clumsy because they don't get the cooperation. And the reason they don't get the cooperation is because the lady didn't get the man she wanted. Get it? -- THE HUNGARIAN POET

Dear Poet: Are you commenting or apologizing? Thanks for the pearl, Dad.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism - Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

Dear Editor:

Believing that President of the United States was the most important office in the world, in April, 1967, I began writing the Republican and Democratic prospects for the presidential nomination urging them to write and speak their views to enable the public to evaluate them.

With the idea that a tribute could be paid Gerald Ford, the Republican Leader and potential Speaker of the House of Representatives, by his name being placed in nomination for President, I went to Miami, Florida, July 31st. In the event of a deadlock, he might become the best nominee for President the Republicans could select. About 1:00 P.M., August 7, 1968, it appeared that Nixon would be nominated on the first ballot and the delegates who intended to nominate and second Ford's nomination were discouraged by Ford and other party leaders from nominating Ford. When Nixon made his great acceptance speech, I was delighted that the idea of nominating Ford had been abandoned.

Constructively,
H. L. Hunt

Dear Mr. Blanton:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you on behalf of Davi Rolwing and myself as General Chairman of Rolwing for Congress.

Although victory was not ours, the campaign afforded me the opportunity to meet and work with the most wonderful and energetic group of people in the 10th District.

You will agree with me; we had a hard working campaigner and I am sure we will see and hear more about this young politician in the years to come. It has been a most enjoyable campaign because of your help.

Kindest personal regards,

Dismissal of Suit Against Agency Sought

CAPE GIRARDEAU - A motion has been filed in common pleas court by the state in behalf of the Missouri Commission on Human Rights for dismissal of a suit brought against the commission by Superior Electric Products Corp. in Cape Girardeau. The commission contended that Superior's action is premature.

On July 23 the commission was charged by Superior with exceeding its authority, oppresion in office and the denial of constitutional rights after Mrs. Emma V. Walton filed a complaint with the commission charging that the company had accepted her application for a job but did not hire her because she was a woman.

The commission claimed in the motion for dismissal that Superior was attempting to obtain a judicial review of action of the commission before a final decision subject to judicial review has been made.

Superior claimed when it filed the suit that the statute designating the commission's powers and duties, "does specifically not include discrimination of sex."

The date for the suit to be heard in court has not been set.

RECORD ROCK COD

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Frank Armand, Dar es Salaam's champion spear fisherman, has landed a rock cod weighing 101 pounds 5 ounces — thought the biggest rock cod landed on the East African coast using a rubber-powered gun.

His fish is only 17 pounds lighter than one shot a year ago in the same area, near Mafia Island, on Tanzania's southern coast, by Italian fishermen, who used guns with explosive heads.

The biggest rock cod caught in the area weighed 232 pounds. It was caught with a baited line.

But a bigger one was landed in Tanga, on the north coast, a few years ago; it weighed 550 pounds. The fisherman used the hindquarters of a goat as bait. Rock cod estimated to weigh up to 1,000 pounds have been seen along the East African coast.

CAN DO

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — It takes money to make money, reads an old saw, and officials at Gompers Rehabilitation Center here say the same reasoning apparently applies to obtaining contributions.

The cost of manufactured coin containers is so high, they say, that the center decided to use empty one-pound coffee cans with plastic lids in a fund drive

MOPAC Denied Discontinuance OF Four Daily Passenger Trains

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The Missouri State Public Service Commission has denied a request from the Missouri Pacific Railroad to discontinue its last four daily passenger trains operating between St. Louis and Kansas City via Jefferson City.

The commission is now holding hearings on another proposal by MoPac to close 44 freight agencies in outstate Missouri and replace them with 22 mobile units to serve the same area.

In the passenger train case, the railroad has maintained that the trains were operating at a loss. The commission's answer to this was summed up by William R. Clark, chairman of the PSC: "This commission's prime concern has always been public convenience. The mere fact that the operation of passenger trains results in pecuniary loss to the railroad is not sufficient reason, in itself, to discontinue a public service."

The order to keep the trains running climaxed a year-long battle over their continuance. The final decision will go into effect September 10.

MoPac first filed an application to drop two of the four trains in August, 1967, and added the other two trains to the list in September.

MoPac has been losing money on its passenger trains continuously since 1945. In 1953 it reached its peak loss, operating in the red by almost $22 million. In 1967, this loss had been cut to $8.6 million, down about $1 million from 1966. While the railroad did lose so much on passenger service in 1967, it also showed a profit of $42.2 million on freight trains.

Other testimony by MoPac at the hearings said:

—Only 1.4 per cent of the intercity miles traveled nationwide in 1967 were by rail. About 88 per cent was by privately owned cars.

—Average passengers per day on the four trains ranged from 28 to 48.

—The Greyhound Bus Line has 22 daily busses traveling on Interstate 70 between St. Louis and Kansas City and additional bus service is offered by Northeastern Missouri Lines, Missouri Transit Lines, Continental Trailways, Finley - Shotwell and Mid-America Coaches.

—Six airlines provide 60 daily flights between St. Louis and Kansas City. Jefferson City and Sedalia also have air service. These four cities have 95 per cent of the population along the route of the Missouri Pacific.

—Non-stop busses between the two major cities make the distance in about four hours compared to the five and one-half to six hours for the trains, due to the numerous stops they must make.

—The railroad would still lose money if all 104 seats were filled every day on all the trains.

The commission also heard testimony from witnesses favoring the continuance of the trains. These witnesses testified that the train was necessary and convenient to students at Central Missouri State College and Lincoln University, to commuters near Kansas City and St. Louis, and to state legislators in bad weather.

In making its decision, the commission also put some of the blame for the losses on the railroad's own shoulders, accusing it of "only a token compliance" with an interim order issued in January to furnish monthly financial reports and advise the commission of what was being done to promote patronage.

MoPac now has three laternatives: It can "live with" the decision; it can appeal to the PSC, and if turned down, take its case to the state courts; or it can start a new case with the federal Interstate Commerce Commission. MoPac has made no statement of its intentions yet.

Meanwhile, the PSC is holding a series of 12 hearings on another MoPac proposal to drop 44 freight agencies and replace them with 22 mobile units which would travel from town to town taking orders and staying in constant radio communication with a base station.

The plan would affect MoPac lines from St. Louis to southeastern Missouri, between Kansas City and St. Louis and from Pleasant Hill into southwestern Missouri. Areas north of St. Louis and Kansas City will not be affected.

Agents would travel by van or station wagon to meet regular shippers and those who had notified the base station of their business. Shippers can call the base station any time toll-free.

The proposal would not affect individual farmers or merchants often, since most shipping is done by cooperatives and distributing companies. One large grain shipper in Missouri, the Missouri Farmers Association has expressed optimism for the proposal. Dale Bolander of the MFA Transportation Department points out that many of MoPac's freight agencies are already split between several towns and the new system would make it very easy to reach those agents via radio or phone from the base station. However, he also sees a possible delay in service while shippers have to wait for an agent to arrive and handle paper work before a shipment can be sent on its way. MFA and other grainshippers depend heavily on railroad service. At a $500,000 MFA grain elevator of Advance, operations dropped from "a nice net return to a substantial loss" when train service was dropped and grain had to be shipped by truck.

Train Sniper Kills One of Two Victims

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it." He was charged with homicide.

Police said the fatal shot, from a .30-.06-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an elevator operator and father of three children, was dead when the train pulled in.

Jansen, 48, who had worked overtime at a dredging job at Jones Beach the night before, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He said he was dozing when the shot was fired. "I woke up to a big bang," he said. "I thought it was someone playing a joke." Jansen lives in Point Pleasant, N.J.

Whitmore, a vocational school student, wore a light blue shirt with a civil defense patch on one shoulder and dark blue trousers when arrested. Friends said he was interested in firemen and liked to dress up like a fireman.

Whitmore was picked up near the scene of the shooting.

Maher's body was identified by his sister, Mrs. Rosemary Holland of the Bronx. She said Maher was separated from his wife and was living alone in the Bronx.

Whitmore also was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and felonious assault.

Runners-up were Janet Marie Seals, 19, of Triplett, who got a $500 scholarship from the Massey-Ferguson Co., and Sally Lane Abbott, 18, of Marshfield, who gets a $300 scholarship from Pepsi-Cola Co.

Leona Kay Aldrich, 21, of Columbia, was named Miss Congeniality.

Judging was completed in the country cured meat show. A 20-pound hamexhibited by Hugo Alewel and his son, Roger, of Concordia, was tagged the grand champion, and their seven-pound side of bacon also was the grand champion.

David Radcliff of California, Mo., had the second-best ham and E. M. Burger of California had the No. 2 side of bacon.

The Alewals, Radcliff and Burger are old-time annual rivals in the meat show.

The hams and bacon will be sold at auction at the annual ham breakfast Tuesday morning at Smith-Cotton high school. More than 400 tickets have been sold for the breakfast.

George Seeber of Labelle, 72, one of the most faithful of the exhibitors, took first place with a Shropshire fleece. He has had entries in the sheep show of every Missouri Fair since 1936.

Tornado Injures Nine Recreation Area Visitors

MITCHELL, Ill. (AP) — Nine persons were injured when a tornado hit a recreation area along the Mississippi River Sunday.

The storm touched down at the Sun and Fun beach resort near Mitchell, about 15 miles north of St. Louis. Authorities said there was wide-spread minor damage to businesses and homes in the area.

Annelle Lawler, 14, of Richmond Heights, Mo., described the scene as she waited to be treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, Ill., for cuts. Most of the injured suffered cuts from flying glass. Five were hospitalized.

"It had been cloudy all day and we had sat down to eat," Annelle recalled. "All of a sudden there was wind and hail and rain. Then somebody yelled 'run, just run' and we made it to the pavillion. Everybody was in a panic. They were screaming and crying."

The glass front door of the pavillion was smashed by the storm and apparently caused most of the injuries.

Kenneth S. Harbarger, owner of the recreation area, was credited with preventing more injuries among the estimated 1,500 to 2,000 at the area. He saw the storm clouds approach from the southwest and warned everybody to seek shelter.

A spokesman for the Weather Bureau said the public earlier reported a funnel cloud in the southwest St. Louis County, Mo., area. He said police reported some trees downed and other minor damage.

It was apparently the same storm that struck Mitchell and neighboring areas.

Machine Parts Stolen

Farm equipment, spark plugs, batteries and tools valued together in excess of $2,500 were reported stolen Sunday night from Cooney Equipment Co., Highway 61 South.

"It was the fourth time the place has been broken into since we opened in July last year," Ed Cooney, owner said.

Entry was gained by breaking the plate glass in the front door. Time of the breakin was between 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today, when it was discovered.

Items taken included 1,600 cotton picker spindles valued at $1.08 each, New Madrid deputy sheriff Flip Dees, investigating officer reported.

A cotton picker spindle is the part of a cotton picking machine that actually picks the cotton from the boll. It is a small barbed spindle that spins and rotates to pick the cotton, Cooney explained.

Also taken were eight batteries valued at about $25 each; 350 spark plugs valued at 75 cents each, a new air impact wrench valued at $100 and mechanics tools valued at $400.

The plate glass window is expected to cost about $75 to replace and the insurance doesn't cover it, Cooney said.

In addition to the three other breakins, Cooney said, two lawn mower tractors have been taken from the outside of the building in the past two months.

$600 In Bad Checks Passed Here

Between $600 and $700 in bad checks were passed in Sikeston last week in amounts of $35 to $45 at several different stores, police chief Arthur Bruce reported today.

A Sikeston juvenile is suspected of having passed the checks. He used the forged name of "John Adams", Chief Bruce reported.

The youth apparently has left town, Bruce said. Police are investigating.

Police Report

Seven Arrested

A breakin was attempted Sunday at the Lewis Furniture Sales, 650 West Malone, but entry was not gained, Sikeston police reported today.

Fire Destroys Plane At Municipal Airport

An airplane owned by Wendell and Lowell Caskey burned early today at the municipal airport.

Fire chief L. D. Ramsey said cause of the fire is undetermined.

The plane, a five-seat Beech Bonanza, was ablaze when the Fire department arrived. One wing was burned and the main body of the plane was resting on the ground a blaze.

The plane was last used Friday night, Jim Estep, pilot who flies for Sikeston Aviation Corporation said.

An unidentified motorist driving west on East Malone reported seeing what he thought was an airplane on fire at 12:45 a.m. today, Ramsey said.

The airplane was tied with cables to asphalt strip outside a hangar. Firemen returned to the station at 2:20 a.m. today.

The Caskey brothers, principal stockholders of Sikeston Aviation Corporation, were out of town when the fire occurred and could not be reached for an estimate of damage.

Firemen were called again at 6 a.m. today to extinguish a minor fire in a motor at the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 202 West Front.

A motor in the air conditioning system sent smoke through ductwork. The business office was filled with smoke.

No damage was caused except to the motor, firemen reported.

A fire in the second story apartment of a wood frame house at 302 South Scott Sunday caused heavy fire damage to the upstairs Ramsey said.

Firemen were called at 12:15 p.m. Sunday to the house owned by Paul Grimsely. The upstairs apartment is occupied by Dave Matthews; the downstairs is occupied by Walter Scott.

No one was home at the time of the fire. Cause of the fire was undetermined. but it started in the upstairs bedroom.

Fire damage was confined to the upstairs. There was water damage downstairs.

Dayan Condemns Jerusalem Riots

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured, one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people— were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each said said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Egyptian army officials said Sunday night that two of Israel's Mirage jets were driven off by antiaircraft fire after they flew over the northern end of the Suez Canal and crossed Egyptian territory.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army sources said an unspecified number of Egyptian MIG jets were chased by Israeli interceptors after the MIGs flew over Israeli territory between El Quantara and the Great Bitter Lake, on the Suez Canal.

Papandreou Asks for Help in Fight to Liberate Greece

STOCKHOLM (AP) - Former Greek government minister Andreas Papandreou appealed today to the world's democracies to aid "our noble fight' to liberate Greece from its military regime.

Papandreou is a voluntary exile from his country and has accepted a position as an economics teacher at Stockholm University. He is chairman of the Panhellenic Liberation Movement, set up to coordinate anti-regime forces outside and inside Greece.

He said the recent assassination attempt on Greek Premier George Papandopoulos was "the voice of the Greek nation, whether one approves or not."

"The junta has tried to limit the attention of the world to the assassination attempt," said Papandreou, "but it has neglected to mention the many bombings that have occurred all over Athens - part of our broad resistance effort."

Bus Toll May Set Record

GIFU, Japan (AP) —More bodies were recovered today from the Hilda River after a landslide swept two sight-seeing buses loaded with women and children from a mountain highway in the Japan Alps into the flooded stream. Officials believed 104 persons lost their lives.

Unless some of the missing are found on the shores, this will be the worst bus accident in history.

Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to shore through the raging river Sunday when the buses plummeted into 65 feet of water. Rescue workers have recovered 39 bodies, some as far as 18 miles downstream. Little hope is held for the 65 missing.

Divers searched one of the smashed buses after it had been swept against rocks 300 yards downstream and found no bodies. A crane tried to lift the bus from its lodging between two big boulders but it did not budge. There was no trace of the second bus.

Police in this central Japanese city said there were 107 persons aboard the two buses when they took off on a week end sight-seeing tour of the scenic mountains.

There were 101 passengers, mostly women and children, four bus employes and two sponsors of the tour, police reported.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato ordered a government investigation of the accident.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Pitzer Leaves Rice For Stanford Post

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer resigned today as president of Rice University to become president of Stanford University.

The former director of research for the Atmoci Energy Commission became president of Rice in 1961 and just recently completed a $33 million first phase of the university's first capital funds campaign.

In his letter of resignation, Pitzer said his decision to accept the Stanford position was based primarily on its attractiveness and challenge.

On Dec. 1, he will become Stanford's sixth president, succeeding Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, who will become lifetime chancellor after having been president since 1949.

Ike's Condition Remains Grave As Irregular Spasms Persist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

In a Sunday night bulletin, the doctors reported failure of the electrical pacemaker, which was threaded directly into the patient's heart by way of a vein, to relieve the spasms.

It was the latest of several efforts made to halt the irrigular rhythms since the 77-year-old general suffered his latest attack.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

The spasms, which involve irregular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it through the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

5-Year-Old Heart Transplant Patient Able to Visit Parents

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you'"

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

Docking Heads Group Seeking Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) - Gov. Docking headed a delegation of 40 persons today in efforts to win federal funds for construction of a highway to Link Kansas areas with the new Kansas City, Mo., international airport.

The delegation included top Kansas officials and representative of Missouri and Kansas from the Greater Kansas City area.

The delegation met with officials of the U. S. Department of Transportation to present their case for construction of a proposed expressway.

Enemy Flees Tay Ninh

SAIGON (AP) - North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the keyprovincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistence.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north of Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars-mainstays of the attacking force-slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh-a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon-was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for " a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U. S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

As the fighting eased in Tay Ninh, there were fresh reports of enemy attacks to the far north below Da Nang and south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U. S. Marines suffered 13 dead and 35 wounded in what appeared to be two separate ambushes south of Da Nang. Thirty-six enemy troops were reported killed.

U.S. 9th Division infantrymen fought a 24-hour long battle with Viet Cong troops in rice paddy country 18 miles south of Saigon and reported killing 54 and capturing 25 prisoners until contact broke off today. U. S. losses were put at one dead and nine wounded. American divebombers, helicopter gunships and artillery pounded the enemy force.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said the enemy forces failed to achieve most of their objectives in coordinated attacks on a dozen allied positions within a six-mile radius of the city. of the city. The U. S. military compound and the government provincial headquarters were never seriously threatened.

Nonetheless, the enemy did capture a wedge in the eastern part of the city before withdrawing and militar sources said this would likely have psychological repercussions throughout the country.

Enemy casualties were estimated at more than 200 dead. American casualties were reported as approximately 100-mostly wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were expected to be higher than those for American forces, but reports were sketchy.

Spradling Calls For Training

State Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr., D-Cape Girardeau, said today the training of staff personnel to assist Missouri legislators is woefully inadequate. He will call for the adoption of a program designed to improve the training of staff personnel for all 50 states.

Spradling is enroute today to Miami, Fla. to attend the National Legislators' Conference, sponsored by the 50 states.

The Cape Girardeau attorney and his wife made a stopover in Sikeston enroute to a connecting flight in St. Louis.

Spradling is chairman of a state sub committee on legislative staff development, which is aiming to train young lawyers and accountants to go into state government work.

The Legislature in Missouri has a serious continuing problem of finding adequately trained staff personnel, Spradling commented.

Spradling will speak Tuesday at a committee hearing and present the program developed by his subcommittee to help remedy the problem for the approval of the 50 states.

Initially, the program calls for in-service training for state governmental staff personnel to begin this fall at the University of South Dakota.

"We are trying to set up four permanent regional centers for staff training. One of the four, we hope, will be at the University of Missouri in Kansas City," Spradling said.

The regional training sites will be located in the East, West, Mid-West and the South.

The permanent training program will require one year of additional schooling. A lawyer will have a LL. B, bachelor of law degree, when he enters the program. After successfully completing the one year of study, he will graduate with a Doctor of Laws degree in State Government, Spradling explained.

A business graduate entering the program will study one year and graduate with a masters degree in state government.

The lawyer who has completed the course can expect a starting salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000, while the business graduate completing the course can expect a starting salary from $9,000 to $12,000 annually, Spradling said.

Specialities are expected to come out of the program. Four areas of training for state staff employes will be public health, mental health, state taxation and urban problems.

Tuition for students accepted into the training program is expected to be paid by the state.

This type of training will save the State thousands of dollars and results in better legislation, Spradling predicted.

The state can save thousands of dollars by having trained persons familiar with the State's operations when they begin work, Spradling said.

The staff workers now learn their jobs as they are doing it, he indicated.

Primary Canvass Begins

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — With Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' official "go ahead," the secretary of state's office today began the official canvass of the Aug. 6 primary vote count.

Tabulators began the count with the governor's home county of Mississippi. The first order of business was to double-check the vote on a constitutional amendment.

It sets up a system for replacing the governor should he die or become disabled or outsted from office. One of the major features is to set up a board to establish when a disabled governor has recovered to a point where he can again assume the office.

Miss. Eula Huss, assistant chief clerk in Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office, said the count of votes on the amendment will be completed later today.

But the canvass of the primary races for statewide and district offices will take longer. Mrs. Huss, who has strawbossed official canvasses for a number of years, said it probably would not be completed before late Wednesday.

No changes from the unofficial returns are expected and under the law the amendment on governor succession will become effective early in September, 30 days after the election.

10 Injured in Highway Accidents

Ten were injured in highway accidents Saturday, the state patrol reported.

Two were injured at 8:15 p.m., eight miles east of Risco on higway 62.

A 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by Carrie Marie Quinn, 55, route one, Bernie, swerved to avoid striking an unidentified car, and struck a 1967 Pontiac, driven by Marvin Henry Arsta, 30, route two, Sikeston, headon.

The Quinn car went into a ditch and the Arsta car went along the shoulder.

Injured were Arsta, cuts on his elbow. Naomi Trowbridge, 42, Hayti, a passenger in the Quinn car, bruises and possible broken ribs.

Arsta was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital, and the Hayti woman to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

In the morning one-half mile south of Old Appleton, on highway 61, Leslie Schindler, 20, Perryville, driver of a 1966 Buick, was injured.

He received cuts on his left shoulder and was treated and released from Perry County Memorial hospital in Perryville.

Schindler was passing another vehicle, when he struck a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Mary Smith, 41, St. Louis, and struck the Smith car.

Schindler was given a summons for careless and reckless driving and for being on the wrong side of the road, the patrol said.

At 11:15 p.m., on highway 32, five miles east of Bixby in Iron county, a 1956 Chrysler, driven by Louis Donald Stulce, 21, Viburnum, received a fractured spine, and was taken to Washington County Memorial hospital in Potosi.

He lost control of his car as he rounded a curve, when his gas pedal stuck. The car went off the road and ran into a hill.

At 2:15 p.m. two miles east of Oak Ridge, on route E, a two car collision sent three to a Jackson physician for treatment.

A 1960 Plymouth, driven by Russell Lowell Meredith, 69, East, St. Louis, stopped on the pavement on a hill. A 1966 Chevrolet, driven by J. P. Daniel, 47, Oak Ridge, skidded into the rear of the Plymouth.

Injured were Daniels, bruises and scratches on his head, and two passengers in his car, Leabada Daniels, 46, cuts and bruises, and Retha Daniels, 14, bruises.

Daniels was given a summons for obstructing the highway, the patrol said.

Lloyd Neng, 39, route five, Perryville, received a fractured nose and ribs, in a one-car accident at 7:30 p.m. on route T near Silver Lake in Perry county.

He was treated at Perry County Memorial hospital.

Neng came around a curve, lost control, went off the road and struck a tree.

Mary Hulsford, 35, Arbyrd, was taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital for a back injury, received at 3:25 p.m. one mile west of Arbyrd.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Willard W. Hulsford, 39, Arbyrd, pulled from a drive, and collided with a 1962 Plymouth, driven by Essel Thomas, 57, Arbyrd.

Mrs. Hulsford was taken to the Dunklin County Memorial hospital, Kennett.

Norbert Vandeven, 19, Leopold, received a bruised head and hip on highway 34, three miles east of Marble Hill.

The driver apparently went to sleep, went off the road down a hill to a creek and overturned.

He was treated by a Lutesville physician.

Democratic Platform Committee Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee opened hearings today with a plea by its chairman, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, for harmony—a harmony already threatened by discord over the plank on Vietnam.

Although Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has made a compromise move toward acceptance of a U.S. halt to bombing of North Vietnam, he balked at another key point of a seven-step peace plan proposed by his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The issue involves McCarthy's insistence that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, be included in any South Vietnamese coalition government.

If this point isn't settled in the platform hearings, and that seems unlikely, it probably will result in a floor fight when the party's national convention convenes in Chicago next week.

In a statement prepared for the opening hearing, Rep. Boggs urged the 110 platform drafters to "beware of flying to the extremes of controversy" and to seek reconciliation between the views of old and young, white and black, poor and affluent.

"I am .. concerned about the new spirit of political intolerance that has been blowing hard of late against the face of American politics," the Louisiana congressman said.

"This attitude is so virulent in some quarters that it clearly defines our paramount task—which is to effect a reconciliation among the divided members of society."

But the lines of conflict between Humphrey and McCarthy hardened on Sunday when they took opposing views on the issue of inviting the Viet Cong into a new South Vietnam government.

"The fundamental difference between myself and Sen. McCarthy is on the imposition of a coalition government .. I cannot agree with that," Humphrey said.

McCarthy was equally firm. He said he could see no hope for compromise in peace efforts "unless you have a willingness to include in a new government the forces that are fighting it." McCarthy went on:

'He (Humphrey) is rejecting ... the heart of the proposal I have been asking. ... I don't see any evidence of compromise."

Humphrey appeared on the CBS "Face the Nation" panel, McCarthy on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program.

McCarthy unwrapped his proposed peace plank on Saturday. It called for an immediate halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, a curtailment of American operations in South Vietnam, and the creation of a new coalition government in Saigon with "substantial participation" by the NLF.

If Saigon rejected such a coalition, McCarthy specified, U.S. military support would be withdrawn.

Humphrey obviously was hunting for a compromise. He said Saturday he accepts most proposals of "the peace Democrats" including a qualified agreement to halt bombing.

But the vice president said that a cessation of bombing should be in response to some restraint by Hanoi. And he declared he could not accept a plank which repudiated "the policies and sacrifices of the past."

Platform Chairman Boggs has taken no public position on the plank. His role—like the one successfully played by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as Republican platform chairman at the GOP convention—is to seek a compromise in the committee on this most divisive of issues.

A convention floor fight over Vietnam, staged under the eyes of the press and in the glare of TV lights, would highlight Democratic disunity as the party heads into a crucial election battle.

McCarthy backers claimed they had more than enough supporters on the Platform Committee to bring a dissenting plank to the convention floor.

More than 300 witnesses were scheduled for appearances before Boggs' committee, which meets in Washington until moving to Chicago on Thursday. Four subcommittees were set up to hear the witnesses on issues ranging from race riots to pensions for World War I veterans.

Boggs told the opening session in a ballroom of the Statler Hilton hotel that "no one has hand picked this committee ... Its membership of 110 individualists is the sum of the choices each delegation has freely made."

He combined his appeal for unity with a plea for law and order.

"In this task of reconciliation, let us by all means insist on the rule of law," he said.

"Let us by all means strengthen the authority and fabric of law by entwining it with justice, equity and compassion.

"Let us by all means enlist our full strength for a frontal assault on the real evils that beset us. But on this very point, let us also beware of flying to the extremes of controversy where, from lofty motives, we draw apart from each other in an endless chain of secession until each man discovers he stands alone in a war of all against all."

Fire Destroys Plane At Municipal Airport

An airplane owned by Wendell and Lowell Caskey burned early today at the municipal airport.

Fire chief L. D. Ramsey said cause of the fire is undetermined.

The plane, a five-seat Beech Bonanza, was ablaze when the Fire department arrived. One wing was burned and the main body of the plane was resting on the ground a blaze.

The plane was last used Friday night, Jim Estep, pilot who flies for Sikeston Aviation Corporation said.

An unidentified motorist driving west on East Malone reported seeing what he thought was an airplane on fire at 12:45 a.m. today, Ramsey said.

The airplane was tied with cables to asphalt strip outside a hangar. Firemen returned to the station at 2:20 a.m. today.

The Caskey brothers, principal stockholders of Sikeston Aviation Corporation, were out of town when the fire occurred and could not be reached for an estimate of damage.

Firemen were called again at 6 a.m. today to extinguish a minor fire in a motor at the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 202 West Front.

A motor in the air conditioning system sent smoke through ductwork. The business office was filled with smoke.

No damage was caused except to the motor, firemen reported.

A fire in the second story apartment of a wood frame house at 302 South Scott Sunday caused heavy fire damage to the upstairs Ramsey said.

Firemen were called at 12:15 p.m. Sunday to the house owned by Paul Grimsely. The upstairs apartment is occupied by Dave Matthews; the downstairs is occupied by Walter Scott.

No one was home at the time of the fire. Cause of the fire was undetermined. but it started in the upstairs bedroom.

Fire damage was confined to the upstairs. There was water damage downstairs.

Dayan Condemns Jerusalem Riots

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured, one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people— were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Egyptian army officials said Sunday night that two of Israel's Mirage jets were driven off by antiaircraft fire after they flew over the northern end of the Suez Canal and crossed Egyptian territory.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army sources said an unspecified number of Egyptian MIG jets were chased by Israeli interceptors after the MIGs flew over Israeli territory between El Quantara and the Great Bitter Lake, on the Suez Canal.

Bus Toll May Set Record

GIFU, Japan (AP) —More bodies were recovered today from the Hilda River after a landslide swept two sight-seeing buses loaded with women and children from a mountain highway in the Japan Alps into the flooded stream. Officials believed 104 persons lost their lives.

Unless some of the missing are found on the shores, this will be the worst bus accident in history.

Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to shore through the raging river Sunday when the buses plummeted into 65 feet of water. Rescue workers have recovered 39 bodies, some as far as 18 miles downstream. Little hope is held for the 65 missing.

Divers searched one of the smashed buses after it had been swept against rocks 300 yards downstream and found no bodies. A crane tried to lift the bus from its lodging between two big boulders but it did not budge. There was no trace of the second bus.

Police in this central Japanese city said there were 107 persons aboard the two buses when they took off on a week end sight-seeing tour of the scenic mountains.

There were 101 passengers, mostly women and children, four bus employes and two sponsors of the tour, police reported.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato ordered a government investigation of the accident.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Pitzer Leaves Rice For Stanford Post

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer resigned today as president of Rice University to become president of Stanford University.

The former director of research for the Atmoci Energy Commission became president of Rice in 1961 and just recently completed a $33 million first phase of the university's first capital funds campaign.

In his letter of resignation, Pitzer said his decision to accept the Stanford position was based primarily on its attractiveness and challenge.

On Dec. 1, he will become Stanford's sixth president, succeeding Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, who will become lifetime chancellor after having been president since 1949.

Ike's Condition Remains Grave As Irregular Spasms Persist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

In a Sunday night bulletin, the doctors reported failure of the electrical pacemaker, which was threaded directly into the patient's heart by way of a vein, to relieve the spasms.

It was the latest of several efforts made to halt the irrigular rhythms since the 77-year-old general suffered his latest attack.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

The spasms, which involve irregular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it through the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

5-Year-Old Heart Transplant Patient Able to Visit Parents

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you'"

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

Docking Heads Group Seeking Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) - Gov. Docking headed a delegation of 40 persons today in efforts to win federal funds for construction of a highway to Link Kansas areas with the new Kansas City, Mo., international airport.

The delegation included top Kansas officials and representative of Missouri and Kansas from the Greater Kansas City area.

The delegation met with officials of the U. S. Department of Transportation to present their case for construction of a proposed expressway.

Enemy Flees Tay Ninh

SAIGON (AP) - North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the keyprovincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistence.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north of Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars-mainstays of the attacking force-slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh-a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon-was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for " a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U. S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

As the fighting eased in Tay Ninh, there were fresh reports of enemy attacks to the far north below Da Nang and south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U. S. Marines suffered 13 dead and 35 wounded in what appeared to be two separate ambushes south of Da Nang. Thirty-six enemy troops were reported killed.

U.S. 9th Division infantrymen fought a 24-hour long battle with Viet Cong troops in rice paddy country 18 miles south of Saigon and reported killing 54 and capturing 25 prisoners until contact broke off today. U. S. losses were put at one dead and nine wounded. American divebombers, helicopter gunships and artillery pounded the enemy force.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said the enemy forces failed to achieve most of their objectives in coordinated attacks on a dozen allied positions within a six-mile radius of the city. of the city. The U. S. military compound and the government provincial headquarters were never seriously threatened.

Nonetheless, the enemy did capture a wedge in the eastern part of the city before withdrawing and militar sources said this would likely have psychological repercussions throughout the country.

Enemy casualties were estimated at more than 200 dead. American casualties were reported as approximately 100-mostly wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were expected to be higher than those for American forces, but reports were sketchy.

Spradling Calls For Training

State Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr., D-Cape Girardeau, said today the training of staff personnel to assist Missouri legislators is woefully inadequate. He will call for the adoption of a program designed to improve the training of staff personnel for all 50 states.

Spradling is enroute today to Miami, Fla. to attend the National Legislators' Conference, sponsored by the 50 states.

The Cape Girardeau attorney and his wife made a stopover in Sikeston enroute to a connecting flight in St. Louis.

Spradling is chairman of a state sub committee on legislative staff development, which is aiming to train young lawyers and accountants to go into state government work.

The Legislature in Missouri has a serious continuing problem of finding adequately trained staff personnel, Spradling commented.

Spradling will speak Tuesday at a committee hearing and present the program developed by his subcommittee to help remedy the problem for the approval of the 50 states.

Initially, the program calls for in-service training for state governmental staff personnel to begin this fall at the University of South Dakota.

"We are trying to set up four permanent regional centers for staff training. One of the four, we hope, will be at the University of Missouri in Kansas City," Spradling said.

The regional training sites will be located in the East, West, Mid-West and the South.

The permanent training program will require one year of additional schooling. A lawyer will have a LL. B, bachelor of law degree, when he enters the program. After successfully completing the one year of study, he will graduate with a Doctor of Laws degree in State Government, Spradling explained.

A business graduate entering the program will study one year and graduate with a masters degree in state government.

The lawyer who has completed the course can expect a starting salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000, while the business graduate completing the course can expect a starting salary from $9,000 to $12,000 annually, Spradling said.

Specialities are expected to come out of the program. Four areas of training for state staff employes will be public health, mental health, state taxation and urban problems.

Tuition for students accepted into the training program is expected to be paid by the state.

This type of training will save the State thousands of dollars and results in better legislation, Spradling predicted.

The state can save thousands of dollars by having trained persons familiar with the State's operations when they begin work, Spradling said.

The staff workers now learn their jobs as they are doing it, he indicated.

Primary Canvass Begins

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — With Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' official "go ahead," the secretary of state's office today began the official canvass of the Aug. 6 primary vote count.

Tabulators began the count with the governor's home county of Mississippi. The first order of business was to double-check the vote on a constitutional amendment.

It sets up a system for replacing the governor should he die or become disabled or outsted from office. One of the major features is to set up a board to establish when a disabled governor has recovered to a point where he can again assume the office.

Miss. Eula Huss, assistant chief clerk in Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office, said the count of votes on the amendment will be completed later today.

But the canvass of the primary races for statewide and district offices will take longer. Mrs. Huss, who has strawbossed official canvasses for a number of years, said it probably would not be completed before late Wednesday.

No changes from the unofficial returns are expected and under the law the amendment on governor succession will become effective early in September, 30 days after the election.

10 Injured in Highway Accidents

Ten were injured in highway accidents Saturday, the state patrol reported.

Two were injured at 8:15 p.m., eight miles east of Risco on higway 62.

A 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by Carrie Marie Quinn, 55, route one, Bernie, swerved to avoid striking an unidentified car, and struck a 1967 Pontiac, driven by Marvin Henry Arsta, 30, route two, Sikeston, headon.

The Quinn car went into a ditch and the Arsta car went along the shoulder.

Injured were Arsta, cuts on his elbow. Naomi Trowbridge, 42, Hayti, a passenger in the Quinn car, bruises and possible broken ribs.

Arsta was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital, and the Hayti woman to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

In the morning one-half mile south of Old Appleton, on highway 61, Leslie Schindler, 20, Perryville, driver of a 1966 Buick, was injured.

He received cuts on his left shoulder and was treated and released from Perry County Memorial hospital in Perryville.

Schindler was passing another vehicle, when he struck a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Mary Smith, 41, St. Louis, and struck the Smith car.

Schindler was given a summons for careless and reckless driving and for being on the wrong side of the road, the patrol said.

At 11:15 p.m., on highway 32, five miles east of Bixby in Iron county, a 1956 Chrysler, driven by Louis Donald Stulce, 21, Viburnum, received a fractured spine, and was taken to Washington County Memorial hospital in Potosi.

He lost control of his car as he rounded a curve, when his gas pedal stuck. The car went off the road and ran into a hill.

At 2:15 p.m. two miles east of Oak Ridge, on route E, a two car collision sent three to a Jackson physician for treatment.

A 1960 Plymouth, driven by Russell Lowell Meredith, 69, East, St. Louis, stopped on the pavement on a hill. A 1966 Chevrolet, driven by J. P. Daniel, 47, Oak Ridge, skidded into the rear of the Plymouth.

Injured were Daniels, bruises and scratches on his head, and two passengers in his car, Leabada Daniels, 46, cuts and bruises, and Retha Daniels, 14, bruises.

Daniels was given a summons for obstructing the highway, the patrol said.

Lloyd Neng, 39, route five, Perryville, received a fractured nose and ribs, in a one-car accident at 7:30 p.m. on route T near Silver Lake in Perry county.

He was treated at Perry County Memorial hospital.

Neng came around a curve, lost control, went off the road and struck a tree.

Mary Hulsford, 35, Arbyrd, was taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital for a back injury, received at 3:25 p.m. one mile west of Arbyrd.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Willard W. Hulsford, 39, Arbyrd, pulled from a drive, and collided with a 1962 Plymouth, driven by Essel Thomas, 57, Arbyrd.

Mrs. Hulsford was taken to the Dunklin County Memorial hospital, Kennett.

Norbert Vandeven, 19, Leopold, received a bruised head and hip on highway 34, three miles east of Marble Hill.

The driver apparently went to sleep, went off the road down a hill to a creek and overturned.

He was treated by a Lutesville physician.

Papandreou Asks for Help in Fight to Liberate Greece

STOCKHOLM (AP) - Former Greek government minister Andreas Papandreou appealed today to the world's democracies to aid "our noble fight' to liberate Greece from its military regime.

Papandreou is a voluntary exile from his country and has accepted a position as an economics teacher at Stockholm University. He is chairman of the Panhellenic Liberation Movement, set up to coordinate anti-regime forces outside and inside Greece.

He said the recent assassination attempt on Greek Premier George Papandopoulos was "the voice of the Greek nation, whether one approves or not."

"The junta has tried to limit the attention of the world to the assassination attempt," said Papandreou, "but it has neglected to mention the many bombings that have occurred all over Athens - part of our broad resistance effort."

Democratic Platform Committee Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee opened hearings today with a plea by its chairman, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, for harmony—a harmony already threatened by discord over the plank on Vietnam.

Although Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has made a compromise move toward acceptance of a U.S. halt to bombing of North Vietnam, he balked at another key point of a seven-step peace plan proposed by his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The issue involves McCarthy's insistence that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, be included in any South Vietnamese coalition government.

If this point isn't settled in the platform hearings, and that seems unlikely, it probably will result in a floor fight when the party's national convention convenes in Chicago next week.

In a statement prepared for the opening hearing, Rep. Boggs urged the 110 platform drafters to "beware of flying to the extremes of controversy" and to seek reconciliation between the views of old and young, white and black, poor and affluent.

"I am .. concerned about the new spirit of political intolerance that has been blowing hard of late against the face of American politics," the Louisiana congressman said.

"This attitude is so virulent in some quarters that it clearly defines our paramount task—which is to effect a reconciliation among the divided members of society."

But the lines of conflict between Humphrey and McCarthy hardened on Sunday when they took opposing views on the issue of inviting the Viet Cong into a new South Vietnam government.

"The fundamental difference between myself and Sen. McCarthy is on the imposition of a coalition government .. I cannot agree with that," Humphrey said.

McCarthy was equally firm. He said he could see no hope for compromise in peace efforts "unless you have a willingness to include in a new government the forces that are fighting it." McCarthy went on:

'He (Humphrey) is rejecting ... the heart of the proposal I have been asking. ... I don't see any evidence of compromise."

Humphrey appeared on the CBS "Face the Nation" panel, McCarthy on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program.

McCarthy unwrapped his proposed peace plank on Saturday. It called for an immediate halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, a curtailment of American operations in South Vietnam, and the creation of a new coalition government in Saigon with "substantial participation" by the NLF.

If Saigon rejected such a coalition, McCarthy specified, U.S. military support would be withdrawn.

Humphrey obviously was hunting for a compromise. He said Saturday he accepts most proposals of "the peace Democrats" including a qualified agreement to halt bombing.

But the vice president said that a cessation of bombing should be in response to some restraint by Hanoi. And he declared he could not accept a plank which repudiated "the policies and sacrifices of the past."

Platform Chairman Boggs has taken no public position on the plank. His role—like the one successfully played by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as Republican platform chairman at the GOP convention—is to seek a compromise in the committee on this most divisive of issues.

A convention floor fight over Vietnam, staged under the eyes of the press and in the glare of TV lights, would highlight Democratic disunity as the party heads into a crucial election battle.

McCarthy backers claimed they had more than enough supporters on the Platform Committee to bring a dissenting plank to the convention floor.

More than 300 witnesses were scheduled for appearances before Boggs' committee, which meets in Washington until moving to Chicago on Thursday. Four subcommittees were set up to hear the witnesses on issues ranging from race riots to pensions for World War I veterans.

Boggs told the opening session in a ballroom of the Statler Hilton hotel that "no one has hand picked this committee ... Its membership of 110 individualists is the sum of the choices each delegation has freely made."

He combined his appeal for unity with a plea for law and order.

"In this task of reconciliation, let us by all means insist on the rule of law," he said.

"Let us by all means strengthen the authority and fabric of law by entwining it with justice, equity and compassion.

"Let us by all means enlist our full strength for a frontal assault on the real evils that beset us. But on this very point, let us also beware of flying to the extremes of controversy where, from lofty motives, we draw apart from each other in an endless chain of secession until each man discovers he stands alone in a war of all against all."

Hobbies Keep Charles Stone Busy And Trigger Sales of His Homes

By Leo Schade

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."

Any year divisible by four is a leap year, excepting century years, which must be divisible by 400.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."

Hobbies Keep Charles Stone Busy And Trigger Sales of His Homes

By Leo Schade

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

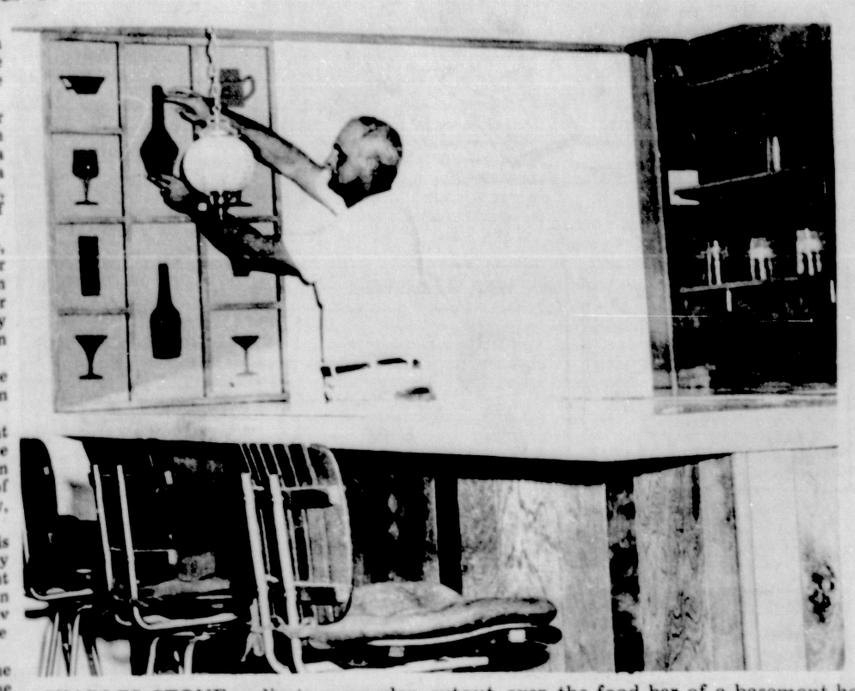
Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

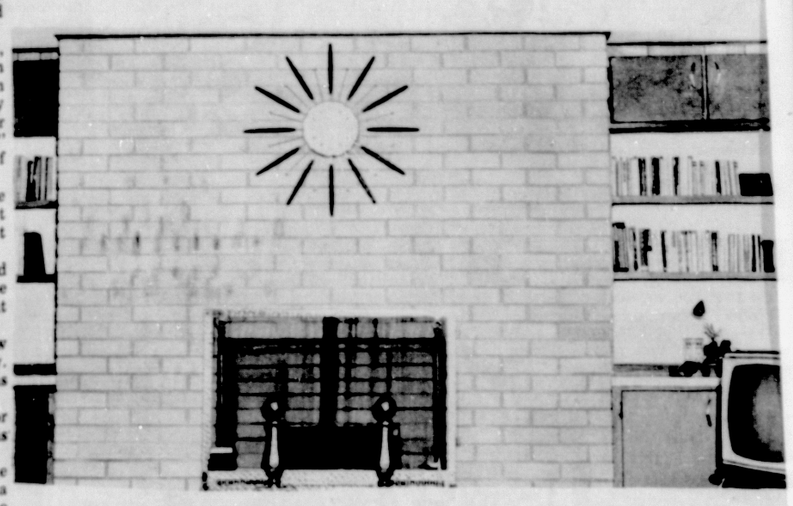
"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."



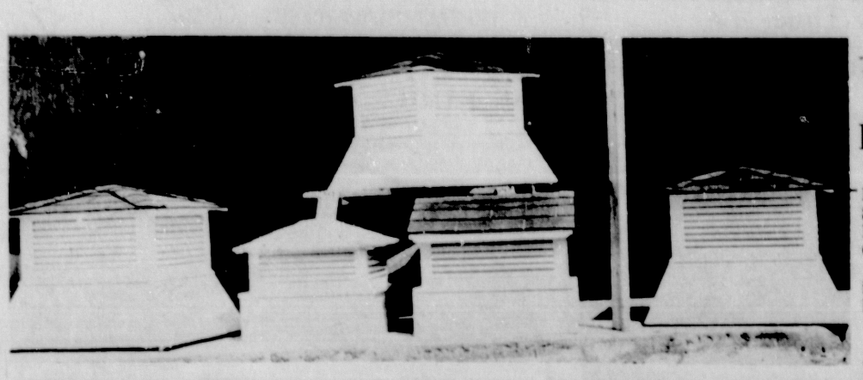
CHARLES STONE, adjusts a wooden cutout over the food bar of a basement he decorated. He is a man of many hobbies.



THIS FIREPLACE at 107 Winter Drive was completed by Charles Ston improves basements as a hobby.

LIKE A CABIN in the mountains, is this basement living room. The new occu Mrs. Mike Brixey, reads in the room of her home, remodeled by Charles Stone.

Any year divisible by four is a leap year, excepting century years, which must be divisible by 400.



THESE ROOF CUPOLAS on which weathervanes are placed have been built by Charles Stone a highway engineer.

Hobbies Keep Charles Stone Busy And Trigger Sales of His Homes

By Leo Schade

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

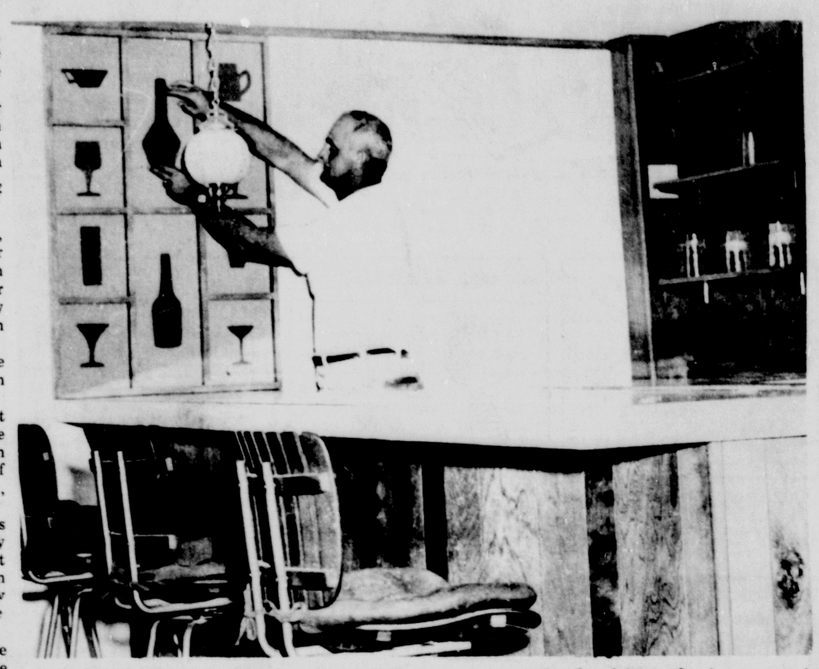
Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

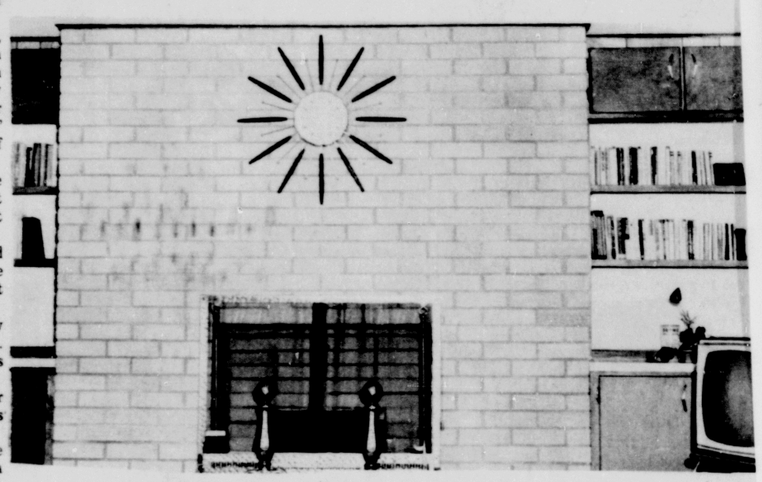
"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

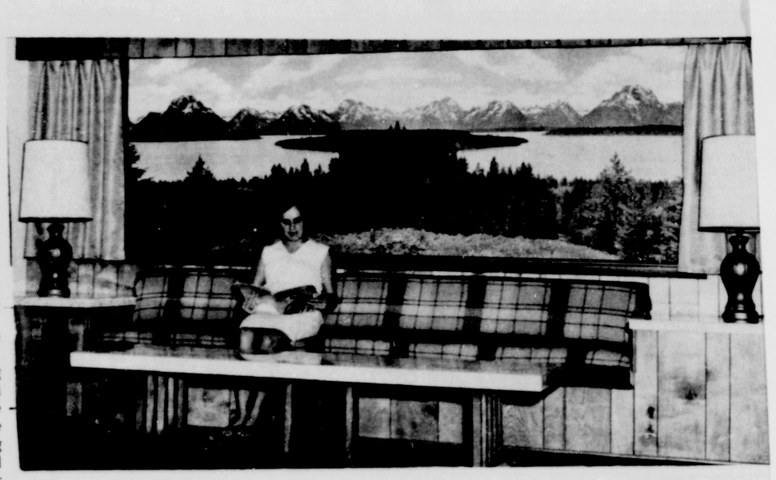
"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."



CHARLES STONE, adjusts a wooden cutout over the food bar of a basement he decorated. He is a man of many hobbies.



THIS FIREPLACE at 107 Winter Drive was completed by Charles Ston improves basements as a hobby.



LIKE A CABIN in the mountains, is this basement living room. The new occu Mrs. Mike Brixey, reads in the room of her home, remodeled by Charles Stone.

Hobbies Keep Charles Stone Busy And Trigger Sales of His Homes

By Leo Schade

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."

Any year divisible by four is a leap year, excepting century years, which must be divisible by 400.

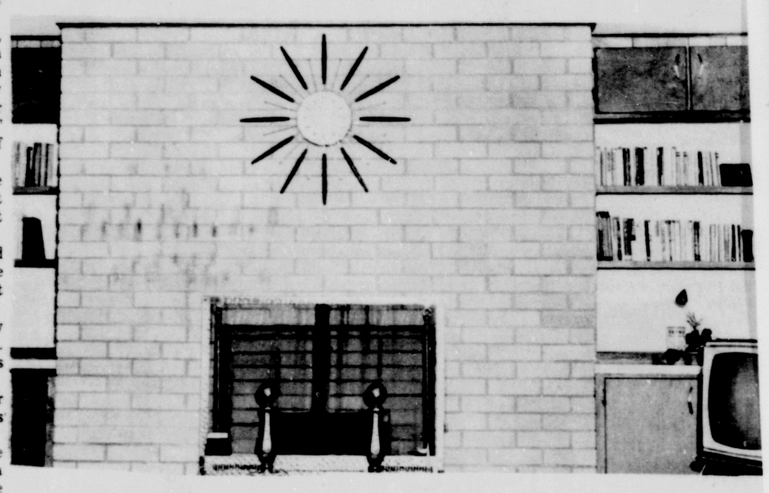
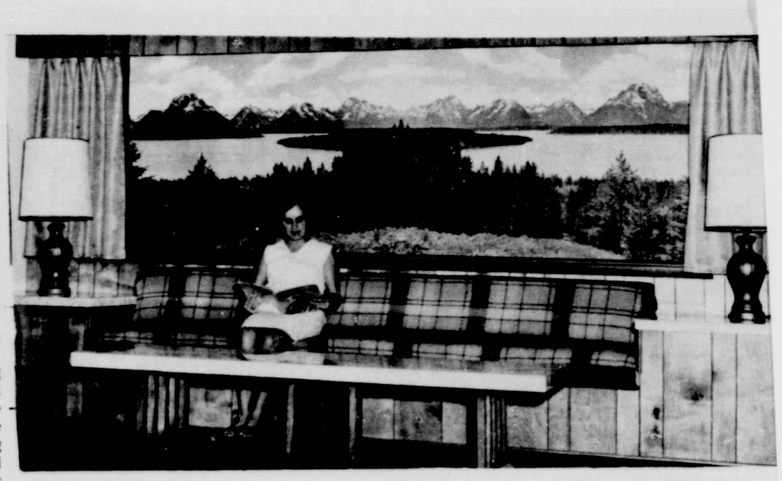
CHARLES STONE, adjusts a wooden cutout over the food bar of a basement he decorated. He is a man of many hobbies.



THIS FIREPLACE at 107 Winter Drive was completed by Charles Ston improves basements as a hobby.



LIKE A CABIN in the mountains, is this basement living room. The new occu Mrs. Mike Brixey, reads in the room of her home, remodeled by Charles Stone.

THESE ROOF CUPOLAS on which weathervanes are placed have been built by Charles Stone a highway engineer.

Hobbies Keep Charles Stone Busy And Trigger Sales of His Homes

By Leo Schade

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."

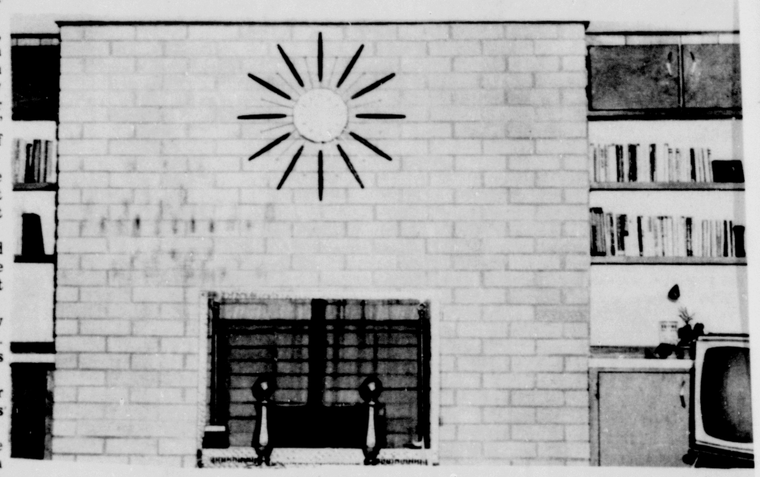
CHARLES STONE, adjusts a wooden cutout over the food bar of a basement he decorated. He is a man of many hobbies.



THIS FIREPLACE at 107 Winter Drive was completed by Charles Ston improves basements as a hobby.

LIKE A CABIN in the mountains, is this basement living room. The new occu Mrs. Mike Brixey, reads in the room of her home, remodeled by Charles Stone.

Hobbies Keep Charles Stone Busy And Trigger Sales of His Homes

By Leo Schade

What a wonderful feeling a man approaching retirement age would have if he had made preparations years before.

This may be a problem for many but not for one Sikeston citizen-a carpenter, decorator, a photogrammetry specialist and a remodeler of home basements, which has triggered a series of sales of his homs

The man is Charles B. Stone, 47, 213 Kennedy Drive, who for two and one-half years, has been the senior highway designor for division 10 of the state highway department and is working on Interstates-55 and 57.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone have moved three times in Sikeston in a little more than one year.

It is from the last move that this story begins when Stone completed remodeling a barren basement walls, into one of beauty comfort and liveability, with fireplaces.

Charles Stone likes his hobbies. "I can completely forget my highway department work, and it gives me an opportunity to expand my imagination in a constructive field in home living."

The Stones after moving the second time and remodeling the basement, showed their former home at 107 Winter drive, to Mr. nd Mrs. Mike Bixby. A visit to the basement just about cinched the sale. The new family moved in June 15.

"My hobbies," Stone said, "became a reality in 1956, when my parents home in Macon burned down. I spent all my spare time from my regular work, building them a new one."

He acquired a complete set of tools.

When he's not remodeling, he cuts out wall placques in walnut mostly musical instrument cutouts.

"You see, I have a piano and stereo equipment, so I must have something to go with it in that room," he explained.

A glance at roofs of new homes, discloses another hobby. He has built dozens of cupolas for weathervanes.

He holds a certificate for building fallout shelters and has built accredited shelters.

He also has a certificate in the science of photogrammetry, a contour of maps, in which he can plan buildings, land, roads and fences for three dimensional work in mapmaking.

The Stones have a daughter, Charline. She is married to Robert Livengood, a senior at Rolla and an electrical engineering student.

Stone is a selfmade civil engineer. After graduating from Macon high school, he entered Chillicothe Business College. After receiving his diploma he took a civil engineering course from the International Correspondence school in Scranton, Pa., for four years. He was the first man to complete the course from that school. He spent three years at Northeast Missouri Teaches College at Kirksville, where he majored in chemistry.

Asked what was next, Stone replied:

"My wife and I are planning on a new type of basement. You can bet this one will be different, because we are studying new designs, making rough sketches. At our food and drink bar we will feature glass blocks, a large mural, and indirect lighting. Our wall picture will be a natural picture, at least 14 feet long.

Mrs. Stone commented:

"I'm beginning now to wonder how long we will be living here after it is finished."

PARTY PLATFORMS

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California attends Republican Party platform hearings in Miami Beach on Wednesday (Aug. 31).

PARTY PLATFORMS, in the political adage, are not to stand on but to run on. Daniel Webster once said of his party's platform: "I have read their platform, and though I think there are some unsound places in it, I can stand upon it pretty well. But I see nothing in it both new and valuable. 'What is valuable is not new, and what is new is not valuable'."

The late Wendell Willkie called party platforms "fusions of ambiguity." But they are not all that manageable -- nor all that meaningless.

The ruckus among the Democrats in 1948 centered on the party platform plank calling for congressional action to abolish the poll tax, stop lynching, and set up fair employment practices in the states. The all - out civil rights plank was approved after a bitter floor fight by a numerical majority of delegates to the Democratic national convention, but with delegates from 29 states opposed. The real leader of the A.D.A. - C.I.O. coalition pressing the civil rights plank was Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis, who said "We are 172 years late in acting."

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED by the Democrats in 1860 resolved: "That the Democratic Party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the questions of constitutional law." This was a reinforcement of the Dred Scott decision. But even that did not satisfy the Southerners, who wanted the whole slavery issue spelled out in the platform. Most of them bolted and nominated another set of candidates. The Republicans, led by Abraham Lincoln, easily won the election.

The Democratic platform in 1932 called for repeal of the Prohibition Amendment. The Republican platform hedged. It called for a new amendment whereby each state could deal with the "liquor problem" as it saw fit. The federal government was to retain power to preserve the gains already made in dealing with that problem, also to "safeguard our citizens everywhere from the return of the saloon." Whatever this meant, the G.O.P. lost 42 states, chiefly because of the Depression, but certainly to some extent on the Wet - Dry issue.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM hearings in Miami Beach this week may produce some surprises. Walter Cronkite has suggested on radio that one plank might call for an effective gun control law.

The Resolutions Committee drafts and presents a platform to the convention. Much of the preparation actually takes place before the convention opens. The main problem of a Resolutions Committee is to report a platform all party candidates can "live with" and use in their campaigns.

A tip- off on the Republican platform is incorporated in Republican Papers, edited by Rep. Melvin R. Laird (Wis.), chairman of the Republican Conference, and published on July 1. Laird was Barry Goldwater's voice in the 1964 platform - making, but he is taking no overt role this year. The papers are by Republican congressmen and a strong staff of academic and other advisers. These papers, to paraphrase Daniel Webster, contain little that is new but much that is valuable.

For example, take "The Case for the Negative Income Tax," a chapter by Prof. Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago, a Goldwater adviser. The tax is a form of guaranteed income, according to Prof. Friedman: "It is directed specifically at the problem of poverty. It gives help in the form most useful to the individual, namely cash." But it is unlikely to fit in the G.O.P. platform.

In every neighborhood, people complain ot some annoying family. Do your neighbors complain of you?

According to His Need. In Santa Fe, N. Mex., James B. Hannah, who had bought a new gas tank cap, found the old one in his car, along with a message: "Dear Sir: Undoubtedly you have by this time noticed that your gas tank cap has been missing. Sikeston is winning an enviable reputation throughout the state for the quality of its baseball.

The All-Stars have returned from the Missouri Babe Ruth tournament at Joplin as second place winners in the tough competition of a double elimination event.

Last summer the Potlatch Foresters were one of eight teams to go to the national Connie Mack league world series. This year they have a 25-6 record as this is written and are getting ready to play host to the regional Connie Mack tournament here in which teams from Missouri, Arkansas and the southwest will participate.

The All-Stars went to Joplin both with the good wishes of the community and a liberal outpouring of cash raised by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, other organizations and individuals.

It proved to be a fine investment.

The All Stars had proved their merit by winning a state tournament berth.

While they couldn't quite match the baseball skill of Sedalia in two encounters they took the measure twice of a strong Joplin team.

The play of Pitcher Les Schatzley was brilliant. He twice held Joplin batters at bay and in the first game poled a three - run homer to put his own game on ice.

The Stars deserve all the credit they are being given for a fine season.

As long as the youngsters work hard, show initiative, develop and play baseball of the caliber of the All Stars, the community should respond generously for any need for financial help to reach a state tournament.

Many worthy teams are denied the opportunity.

Only a few are called.

They deserve all the encouragement the community can muster.

Warner and Swasey say the good message again in their latest advertisement as follows:

DON'T TELL THESE NEGRO BOYS
THEY ARE "UNDERPRIVILEGED"

They're too busy to listen -- too busy working and earning.

In a large northern city whose relief rolls are loaded with people who can't (or won't) work, is a group of teen-age Negroes who have all the work they can handle. Because they are willing to work, hard, at any honest work they can get. So they have plenty of it.

People who employ them (at painting, cleaning, yard work) say they're thorough, industrious, honest, self-respecting.

Any number of tax-supported, inflation - breeding organizations would have been glad to "take care of" these teen-agers - but they preferred work and self-respect.

Tens and hundreds of thousands more could be employed in this country as happily and profitably as these young men are - if they had the gumption to go out and look for work to do.

Whoever the next President may be he should strike a balance between management and labor.

The nation has witnessed two Presidents, who have vigorously criticized the steel industry for any significant increase in prices but who never exerted any corresponding effort to hold down the wage demands of steel workers.

The recent steel settlement was described by management as highly inflationary.

While the new contract was negotiated without federal government intervention, steel management was not free to bargain without pressure.

It knew that government would intervene if there was a long strike especially if steel supplies needed to fight the war in Vietnam were jeopardized.

The industry also was influenced by highly inflationary wage settlements in other industries, automobile manufacturing among them.

The inflationary impact of steel prices is indisputable. It is a product with millions of consumer uses from kitchen utensils to home construction and in family automobiles.

Steel workers always have been among the highest paid of the nation's industrial workers.

Because of this both President John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson have on occasion castigated the steel industry for raising prices after large wage settlements in labor negotiations.

This one sided emphasis isn't fair.

Steel profits have been restrained more than other industries. The companies face severe competition from steel makers abroad.

President Johnson has tried to shame the Bethlehem Steel Company for a price increase, the natural consequence of a big wage settlement following on the heels of other highly inflationary increases in labor costs.

He has urged other steel companies not to follow Bethlehem's example.

They should run their own business and pay no attention to the public scolding by the President.

It is true that President Johnson recently called for restraint both by management and labor in steering a non - inflationary course on prices and wages.

He said that if management and labor didn't hold the line it would weaken the restraint that the federal tax increase exerts on this country's inflationary forces.

He is right but his approach lacked vigor and the day for voluntary action has passed.

The federal government could furnish an exmaple of constructive action by speedily reducing its own costs by the $6 million to which the President agreed in order to obtain congressional action on the tax increase.

In the nation's rising inflationary spiral, the federal government always has been the worst offender while piously pleading for others to exercise restraint.

ENGINEERS CHANGE CLANG INTO THUD

A metal garbage can that falls with a thud, not a clang when it is knocked around, raised hopes that this sleepshattering noise may be stopped.

Noise-control engineers of the Bethlehem Steel Company were approached by "Citizens for a Quieter City" to assist in the elimination of excessive noise.

Since metal, ratproof cans are required by law in many cities, the only solution was sound-proofing the container.

Sound-absorbing material, including asphalt, felt and rubber has been applied to areas of bivration, six rubber feet are attached to the bottom rim, and the entire base coated with a gummy material. The result is an innocuous thud rather than a spine-tingling crash.

A DECADE OF CASTRO

On next January 1 Fedel Castro will complete a full decade as head of what turned out to be the first Communist regime of the Western Hemisphere. Before and after he came to power, he promised that free elections would be held in Cuba -- within four year, he said on April 19, 1959. But no elections have been held. The government rules by decree and there is no legislative body.

Every Cuban citizen must at all times carry with him an identification card containing his picture, description and fingerprints. Per capita annual income has gone down under Castro from $450 in 1959 to $400 in 1967. Strict rationing is made necessary by shortages of food, clothing and household articles. The Communist regime continues to be heavily subsidized by Soviet Russia.

Castro has managed to retain control of Cuba despite an American-financed attempt at invasion, an economic boycott promoted by the United States, and expulsion from the Organization of American States. His soldiers and militia keep the people down. There is no freedom on the once-happy island.

The administration that will take office in Washington in January will be faced with the task of reviewing U. S. policy toward Cuba. The countries of Latin America and our own national security are threatened by the existence of a Communist regime so close by. It sould not be forgotten that some men in our own Department of State participated in the events that brought Fidel Castro to power. And he is still in power nearly 10 years later. HLH

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Rep. Rooney frets about free doughnuts; Vital testing provision dropped from auto safety act; Tennessee Congressman wants Uncle Same kept out of the liquor business.

WASHINGTON--Rep. John Rooney, sometimes called the Brooklyn Tyrant, is worried over doughnuts being used by the small business administration. This was the subject of a closed-door grilling which he gave to Robert C. Moot of the SBA regarding a $1,000 fund Mott had requested for "light refreshment" for officials of SCORE and the SBA Advisory Council.

SCORE members are retired business executives who give free technical and management advice to small business firms, and Rooney wanted to know what was meant by "light refreshments."

Moot replied: 'I was thinking of doughnuts and that sort of thing." Rooney: "Do you mean to tell us that if you got this $1,000 you wouldn't buy any scotch whisky?"

Moot: 'We do not plan to use this for buying any scotch liquor."

Rooney: "The question wasn't what you plan to do. The quest was--if you got the $1,000, would you buy any scotch with it?"

Moot: "The answer is flatly no."

Rooney: "Why shouldn't the people who borrow the money do the entertaining? Why should the taxpayers do the entertaining?"

Moot: "They (SCORE members) are people helping us be assisting small business they provide their own time. They are civic leaders."

Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio: "What are you going to do for SCORE people who are on a diet like I am? My doctor says I can't eat a doughtnut. You probably have some fat people in this SCORE outfit."

Moot: "I really don't think the money is going to provide too much in terms of doughnuts, Mr. Congressman."

Bow: 'This is a temptation to those of us on a diet. I would probably eat a doughnut and get on the scales the next morning and find my doctor's advice was not being very well taken. So take care of the dieters, too, will you?"

Moot: 'Yes sir. I will get diet doughnuts if you give me the money."

LONAS FOR LIQUOR

Whether uncle same should put people in the liquor business with loans from the small business administration has touched off a backstage debate.

In the past the small business administration has followed a strict policy of no loans to gambling establishments, racetracks, newspapers, radio-TV stations, book publishers, banks, hospitals and concerns selling alcoholic beverages. The latter were included on the forbidden list because it was held that bars, beer gardens and liquor dealers did not contribute to the welfare of the community.

However, the new small business administrator, Howard J. Samuels, has dropped the ban and has extended loans to lizuor dealers. He claims that the no-loan policy was discriminatory against small businessmen, especially negroes, who are trying to take over from white liquor dealers in the Negro gheetos.

Samuels, an able administrator and former under secretary of commerce, has just received a hot letter from Rep. Joe Evins, D-Tenn., chairman of the house small business committee, taking him to task.

"All of your predecessors have found valid reasons for continuing the policy against liquor loans," says Evins. "It is suggested that in handling matters of this import, which call for the exercise of discretion conferred upon you by Congress, it would be appreciated if some consultation is held with members of this committee."

What this means is that if liquor loans are not cut off, there will be speeches when Congress returns next month and progably a ban on Uncle Sam financing the liquor business.

SAFETY MEASURE AXED

A strange thing has happened to an important section of the 1966 auto safety act aimed at making cars and highways safer. The provision for an auto safety reserach and test facility has disappeared.

Those who drive the highways and suffer from auto crashes costing over $12 billion a year don't know that this important part of the auto safety act has been quietly ditched. Someplace along the way the budget bureau ruled it out, either because it cost too mcuh or because Detroit doesn't want it--possibly both.

The motor moguls in Detroit have claimed this testing facility would put the government into the auto business. Some members of the department of transportation have been shaken by this argument. Also Congress has decreed a crackdown on spending. As a result, this part of the auto safety act is being sidetracked.

Meanwhile, auto crashes kill 53,000 people annually and injure 4 ½ million. Meanwhile also, the government operates bureaus responsible for drug safety, bus and rail safety, radiation safety, and health safety, but apparently is ditching the texting facility on auto safety.

TAX LOOPHOLE

Hard-hitting young Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., is among those urging a strong tax reform plank in the 1968 Democratic platform. In a recent statement Howard declared that any man who aspires to the White House--whether Democrat or Republican--" must represent all of the people, not just the oilmen and those who escape paying their fair share of taxes through loopholes."

He pointed out that, under the notorious "depletion allowance," 20 of the top U.S. oil companies have been making a total net profit of almost $5 billion a year, yet pay an average of only 8.5 per cent in taxes. Mighty Standard Oil of New Jersey, for example, is in the 6.3 per cent bracket.

Howard also wants to tighten loopholes that enable individuals to flimflam the government.

"In 1965," he said, "There were 35 American so-called taxpayers, with incomes exceeding $500,000 a year, who paid no income tax at all--including five with incomes of $5 million or more."

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Litterbugs aren't merely nuisances. They're expensive. The cost of picking up the debris they leave on highways, beaches, park sites and other public property adds half a billion dollars annually to the nation's tax bill.

On the other hand, a nagging wife can sometimes save you money. By bawling you out she may herself avoid getting an expensive ailment—arthritis. Many psychiatrists believe that women who bottle up their emotions and brood about their woes are particularly susceptible to arthritis.

The more cars a family has, the more each vehicle is used. Familes with two or more cars average 10,000 miles a car. Those with one car average 9,900.

A good wife is a good financial bargain. One study found that wives who don't hold outside jobs put in nearly 100 hours a week on their homemaking duties. If you could find any other woman who would work that hard or long for a minimum of $1.60 an hour—and you probably couldn't—she would cost you $160 a week.

The increasing use of computers is adding new words to our vocabulary. One is "nanosecond," the time it takes electricity traveling at 186,000 miles per second to go one foot. Another is "picasecond," a millionth of a millionth of a second. That's how long it takes electricity to journey the thickness of your fingernail.

Quotable notables: "Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul." —Samuel Ullman.

Prosperity note: About 30 per cent of U.S. families now have yearly incomes of $10,000 a year or more.

Safety tip: Don't try to change a tire in one of the busy lanes of a modern expressway. If you do, Illinois State Police warn, your life expectancy is just 20 minutes.

Wasted power: Few sights in nature are more awesome and terrifying than a great forest fire. These flaming storms can unleash every two minutes as much energy as is released by the explosion of a 20-kiloton atomic bomb—or 20,000 tons of dynamite.

Worth remembering: "The honeymoon is over when he takes her off a pedestal and puts her on a budget."

Folklore: Witches usually have a birthmark, peering eyes, thick eyebrows that meet over the nose, and often are redhaired. It's bad luck to remove a wedding ring except in an emergency. A one-armed customer in a restaurant is a sign the waiter will get poor tips all day, but if a waiter serves a hunchback the tips will be big. Two-Headed Humphrey: Veep Caught in Chicago Crunch As Powerful Labor Forces Battle

By Victor Riesel

New York: -- Certainly Hubert H. Humphrey will win it on the first ballot. But who will take it on the second?

Word from deep in the front runner's camp is that Mr. Humphrey will choose to run with someone who has created himself in Mr. Humphrey's own image.

There simply will be no effort to "balance" the ticket. The Vice President, if elected, wants no "two-headed government." He will not choose someone from another region, another religion, another philosophy, simply to balance the ticket, unless he thinks and believes as does Hubert Humphrey.

This I was told bluntly, flatly, and unequivocally by the ebullient 37-year-old Senator from Oklahoma, Fred Harris, Mr. Humphrey's most active campaign manager.

As we talked he made it clear that Mr. Humphrey and his advisers are taking for granted the definitive "Shermanesque" words of Ted Kennedy, Mr. Harris' only junior in the U.S. Senate.

Who then, on the record, thinks as Mr. Humphrey thinks? Or, who does Mr. Humphrey think thinks like himself? If the Vice President shifts a little to the left, it could be Gene McCarthy, George McGovern or even Ted Kennedy.

Now that the vice presidency no longer is a post of escalated impotance, the second spot is a critical matter to Mr. Humphrey's most powerful sponsors, from whom will flow the money, the manpower, the caravans, the telephone squad work, the flares, scores of millions of pieces of literature, the broadcast financing, the actual "hardware" of a presidential campaign -- namely, the labor movement.

One phalanx of this embattled legion led by George Meany's AFL-CIO doesn't really care who Mr. Humphrey believes is created in his image so long as it's not Gene McCarthy.

Another bloc of "the troops," led by the newly united labor breathren, Frank Fitzsimmons and Walter Reuther, is for Gene McCarthy. For them he's political aspirin. He would cure their splitting headaches brought on by overdoses of Lyndon Johnson.

They're all now supporting Hubert Humphrey, who has been telephoning them from his Minnesota home, breakfasting with them here in New York, consulting with them in Michigan, California and Washington, D.C.

But their private problem now is to influence his thinking. Walter Reuther, for example, wants Mr. Humphrey to go white as a dove and black as a ghetto.

The other day a reporter asked the usually insulated Walter Reuther whether he has been talking with the Vice President.

"Yes, I'm pushing him hard on the Vietnam war," said the auto union leader. "He's got to come out against it or he cannot win the elections. I think he'll come out."

If that's how Humphrey starts thinking, will will be a natural for him to call his old friend McCarthy, a latter-day Stevensonian, and say let's run together. Such a ticket would ave Mr. Humphrey many a headache and demonstration. It also would give him the full support of Fitzsimmons Brotherhood of Teamsters with which Sen. McCarthy has been very close indeed.

Thus if Reuther convinces Mr. Humphrey to flap sincerely like a dove, the auto union leader can effect the first united political action with the Teamsters. Furthermore, it would make everybody happy.

Reuther would unite his union which is pslit between Humphrey and McCarthy -- and the Teamsters would have a friend high in the administration for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

On Saturday or Sunday night preceding the convention opening, the Reuther and Fitzsimmons forces, each with a contingent of convention delegates, will dine and caucus in a Chicago hotel.

But while they're "showing the flag" over roast beef, there will be another labor caucus, powerful indeed. This one is led by AFL-CIO president George Meany who has about as much use for Gene McCarthy as he does for Leonid Brezhnev.

Mr. Meany is a very definite man. That's understatement. In his words, he wants peace but not appeasement. He does not want, nor do the 280 labor delegates and alternates, Mr. Humphrey to repudiate either Lyndon Johnson or the war. He wants no compromise with the Viet Cong.

He believes that "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanoi.

"Let the pickets and the protestors -- yes, and the candidates -- turn their attention there. Let them direct their condemnation and the pressure of opinion upon the one force primarily responsible for the continuation of the bloodshed, North Vietnam and its Viet Cong allies."

As for the ghettos, Mr. Meany demands social justice. But he's not afeared of demanding though law and order too.

Obviously Hubert Humphrey will have to think fast about what he will think on the convention floor. Either way, he stands to lose some influential friends.

Machine Parts Stolen

Farm equipment, spark plugs, batteries and tools valued together in excess of $2,500 were reported stolen Sunday night from Cooney Equipment Co., Highway 61 South.

"It was the fourth time the place has been broken into since we opened in July last year," Ed Cooney, owner said.

Entry was gained by breaking the plate glass in the front door. Time of the breakin was between 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today, when it was discovered.

Items taken included 1,600 cotton picker spindles valued at $1.08 each, New Madrid deputy sheriff Flip Dees, investigating officer reported.

A cotton picker spindle is the part of a cotton picking machine that actually picks the cotton from the boll. It is a small barbed spindle that spins and rotates to pick the cotton, Cooney explained.

Also taken were eight batteries valued at about $25 each; 350 spark plugs valued at 75 cents each, a new air impact wrench valued at $100 and mechanics tools valued at $400.

The plate glass window is expected to cost about $75 to replace and the insurance doesn't cover it, Cooney said.

In addition to the three other breakins, Cooney said, two lawn mower tractors have been taken from the outside of the building in the past two months.

Fire Destroys Plane At Municipal Airport

An airplane owned by Wendell and Lowell Caskey burned early today at the municipal airport.

Fire chief L. D. Ramsey said cause of the fire is undetermined.

The plane, a five-seat Beech Bonanza, was ablaze when the Fire department arrived. One wing was burned and the main body of the plane was resting on the ground a blaze.

The plane was last used Friday night, Jim Estep, pilot who flies for Sikeston Aviation Corporation said.

An unidentified motorist driving west on East Malone reported seeing what he thought was an airplane on fire at 12:45 a.m. today, Ramsey said.

The airplane was tied with cables to asphalt strip outside a hangar. Firemen returned to the station at 2:20 a.m. today.

The Caskey brothers, principal stockholders of Sikeston Aviation Corporation, were out of town when the fire occurred and could not be reached for an estimate of damage.

Firemen were called again at 6 a.m. today to extinguish a minor fire in a motor at the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 202 West Front.

A motor in the air conditioning system sent smoke through ductwork. The business office was filled with smoke.

No damage was caused except to the motor, firemen reported.

A fire in the second story apartment of a wood frame house at 302 South Scott Sunday caused heavy fire damage to the upstairs Ramsey said.

Firemen were called at 12:15 p.m. Sunday to the house owned by Paul Grimsely. The upstairs apartment is occupied by Dave Matthews; the downstairs is occupied by Walter Scott.

No one was home at the time of the fire. Cause of the fire was undetermined. but it started in the upstairs bedroom.

Fire damage was confined to the upstairs. There was water damage downstairs.

Dayan Condemns Jerusalem Riots

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured, one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people— were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each said said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were reported.

Egyptian army officials said Sunday night that two of Israel's Mirage jets were driven off by antiaircraft fire after they flew over the northern end of the Suez Canal and crossed Egyptian territory.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army sources said an unspecified number of Egyptian MIG jets were chased by Israeli interceptors after the MIGs flew over Israeli territory between El Quantara and the Great Bitter Lake, on the Suez Canal.

Papandreou Asks for Help in Fight to Liberate Greece

STOCKHOLM (AP) - Former Greek government minister Andreas Papandreou appealed today to the world's democracies to aid "our noble fight' to liberate Greece from its military regime.

Papandreou is a voluntary exile from his country and has accepted a position as an economics teacher at Stockholm University. He is chairman of the Panhellenic Liberation Movement, set up to coordinate anti-regime forces outside and inside Greece.

He said the recent assassination attempt on Greek Premier George Papandopoulos was "the voice of the Greek nation, whether one approves or not."

"The junta has tried to limit the attention of the world to the assassination attempt," said Papandreou, "but it has neglected to mention the many bombings that have occurred all over Athens - part of our broad resistance effort."

Bus Toll May Set Record

GIFU, Japan (AP) —More bodies were recovered today from the Hilda River after a landslide swept two sight-seeing buses loaded with women and children from a mountain highway in the Japan Alps into the flooded stream. Officials believed 104 persons lost their lives.

Unless some of the missing are found on the shores, this will be the worst bus accident in history.

Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to shore through the raging river Sunday when the buses plummeted into 65 feet of water. Rescue workers have recovered 39 bodies, some as far as 18 miles downstream. Little hope is held for the 65 missing.

Divers searched one of the smashed buses after it had been swept against rocks 300 yards downstream and found no bodies. A crane tried to lift the bus from its lodging between two big boulders but it did not budge. There was no trace of the second bus.

Police in this central Japanese city said there were 107 persons aboard the two buses when they took off on a week end sight-seeing tour of the scenic mountains.

There were 101 passengers, mostly women and children, four bus employes and two sponsors of the tour, police reported.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato ordered a government investigation of the accident.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Pitzer Leaves Rice For Stanford Post

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer resigned today as president of Rice University to become president of Stanford University.

The former director of research for the Atmoci Energy Commission became president of Rice in 1961 and just recently completed a $33 million first phase of the university's first capital funds campaign.

In his letter of resignation, Pitzer said his decision to accept the Stanford position was based primarily on its attractiveness and challenge.

On Dec. 1, he will become Stanford's sixth president, succeeding Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, who will become lifetime chancellor after having been president since 1949.

Ike's Condition Remains Grave As Irregular Spasms Persist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

In a Sunday night bulletin, the doctors reported failure of the electrical pacemaker, which was threaded directly into the patient's heart by way of a vein, to relieve the spasms.

It was the latest of several efforts made to halt the irrigular rhythms since the 77-year-old general suffered his latest attack.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

The spasms, which involve irregular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it through the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was stricken at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

5-Year-Old Heart Transplant Patient Able to Visit Parents

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you'"

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

The delegation met with officials of the U. S. Department of Transportation to present their case for construction of a proposed expressway.

Enemy Flees Tay Ninh

SAIGON (AP) - North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the keyprovincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistence.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north of Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars-mainstays of the attacking force-slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh-a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon-was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for " a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U. S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

As the fighting eased in Tay Ninh, there were fresh reports of enemy attacks to the far north below Da Nang and south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U. S. Marines suffered 13 dead and 35 wounded in what appeared to be two separate ambushes south of Da Nang. Thirty-six enemy troops were reported killed.

U.S. 9th Division infantrymen fought a 24-hour long battle with Viet Cong troops in rice paddy country 18 miles south of Saigon and reported killing 54 and capturing 25 prisoners until contact broke off today. U. S. losses were put at one dead and nine wounded. American divebombers, helicopter gunships and artillery pounded the enemy force.

U. S. officers in Tay Ninh said the enemy forcea failed to achieve most of their objectives in coordinated attacks on a dozen allied positions within a six-mile radius of the city. of the city. The U. S. military compound and the government provincial headquarters were never seriously threatened.

Nonetheless, the enemy did capture a wedge in the eastern part of the city before withdrawing and militar sources said this would likely have psychological repercussions throughout the country.

Enemy casualties were estimated at more than 200 dead. American casualties were reported as approximately 100-mostly wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were expected to be higher than those for American forces, but reports were sketchy.

Spradling Calls For Training

State Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr., D-Cape Girardeau, said today the training of staff personnel to assist Missouri legislators is woefully inadequate. He will call for the adoption of a program designed to improve the training of staff personnel for all 50 states.

Spradling is enroute today to Miami, Fla. to attend the National Legislators' Conference, sponsored by the 50 states.

The Cape Girardeau attorney and his wife made a stopover in Sikeston enroute to a connecting flight in St. Louis.

Spradling is chairman of a state sub committee on legislative staff development, which is aiming to train young lawyers and accountants to go into state government work.

The Legislature in Missouri has a serious continuing problem of finding adequately trained staff personnel, Spradling commented.

Spradling will speak Tuesday at a committee hearing and present the program developed by his subcommittee to help remedy the problem for the approval of the 50 states.

Initially, the program calls for in-service training for state governmental staff personnel to begin this fall at the University of South Dakota.

"We are trying to set up four permanent regional centers for staff training. One of the four, we hope, will be at the University of Missouri in Kansas City," Spradling said.

The regional training sites will be located in the East, West, Mid-West and the South.

The permanent training program will require one year of additional schooling. A lawyer will have a LL. B, bachelor of law degree, when he enters the program. After successfully completing the one year of study, he will graduate with a Doctor of Laws degree in State Government, Spradling explained.

A business graduate entering the program will study one year and graduate with a masters degree in state government.

The lawyer who has completed the course can expect a starting salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000, while the business graduate completing the course can expect a starting salary from $9,000 to $12,000 annually, Spradling said.

Specialities are expected to come out of the program. Four areas of training for state staff employes will be public health, mental health, state taxation and urban problems.

Tuition for students accepted into the training program is expected to be paid by the state.

This type of training will save the State thousands of dollars and results in better legislation, Spradling predicted.

The state can save thousands of dollars by having trained persons familiar with the State's operations when they begin work, Spradling said.

The staff workers now learn their jobs as they are doing it, he indicated.

10 Injured in Highway Accidents

Ten were injured in highway accidents Saturday, the state patrol reported.

Two were injured at 8:15 p.m., eight miles east of Risco on higway 62.

A 1967 Oldsmobile, driven by Carrie Marie Quinn, 55, route one, Bernie, swerved to avoid striking an unidentified car, and struck a 1967 Pontiac, driven by Marvin Henry Arsta, 30, route two, Sikeston, headon.

The Quinn car went into a ditch and the Arsta car went along the shoulder.

Injured were Arsta, cuts on his elbow. Naomi Trowbridge, 42, Hayti, a passenger in the Quinn car, bruises and possible broken ribs.

Arsta was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital, and the Hayti woman to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital in Hayti.

In the morning one-half mile south of Old Appleton, on highway 61, Leslie Schindler, 20, Perryville, driver of a 1966 Buick, was injured.

He received cuts on his left shoulder and was treated and released from Perry County Memorial hospital in Perryville.

Schindler was passing another vehicle, when he struck a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Mary Smith, 41, St. Louis, and struck the Smith car.

Schindler was given a summons for careless and reckless driving and for being on the wrong side of the road, the patrol said.

At 11:15 p.m., on highway 32, five miles east of Bixby in Iron county, a 1956 Chrysler, driven by Louis Donald Stulce, 21, Viburnum, received a fractured spine, and was taken to Washington County Memorial hospital in Potosi.

He lost control of his car as he rounded a curve, when his gas pedal stuck. The car went off the road and ran into a hill.

At 2:15 p.m. two miles east of Oak Ridge, on route E, a two car collision sent three to a Jackson physician for treatment.

A 1960 Plymouth, driven by Russell Lowell Meredith, 69, East, St. Louis, stopped on the pavement on a hill. A 1966 Chevrolet, driven by J. P. Daniel, 47, Oak Ridge, skidded into the rear of the Plymouth.

Injured were Daniels, bruises and scratches on his head, and two passengers in his car, Leabada Daniels, 46, cuts and bruises, and Retha Daniels, 14, bruises.

Daniels was given a summons for obstructing the highway, the patrol said.

Lloyd Neng, 39, route five, Perryville, received a fractured nose and ribs, in a one-car accident at 7:30 p.m. on route T near Silver Lake in Perry county.

He was treated at Perry County Memorial hospital.

Neng came around a curve, lost control, went off the road and struck a tree.

Mary Hulsford, 35, Arbyrd, was taken to Dunklin County Memorial hospital for a back injury, received at 3:25 p.m. one mile west of Arbyrd.

A 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Willard W. Hulsford, 39, Arbyrd, pulled from a drive, and collided with a 1962 Plymouth, driven by Essel Thomas, 57, Arbyrd.

Mrs. Hulsford was taken to the Dunklin County Memorial hospital, Kennett.

Norbert Vandeven, 19, Leopold, received a bruised head and hip on highway 34, three miles east of Marble Hill.

The driver apparently went to sleep, went off the road down a hill to a creek and overturned.

He was treated by a Lutesville physician.

Democratic Platform Committee Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee opened hearings today with a plea by its chairman, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, for harmony—a harmony already threatened by discord over the plank on Vietnam.

Although Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has made a compromise move toward acceptance of a U.S. halt to bombing of North Vietnam, he balked at another key point of a seven-step peace plan proposed by his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The issue involves McCarthy's insistence that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, be included in any South Vietnamese coalition government.

If this point isn't settled in the platform hearings, and that seems unlikely, it probably will result in a floor fight when the party's national convention convenes in Chicago next week.

In a statement prepared for the opening hearing, Rep. Boggs urged the 110 platform drafters to "beware of flying to the extremes of controversy" and to seek reconciliation between the views of old and young, white and black, poor and affluent.

"I am .. concerned about the new spirit of political intolerance that has been blowing hard of late against the face of American politics," the Louisiana congressman said.

"This attitude is so virulent in some quarters that it clearly defines our paramount task—which is to effect a reconciliation among the divided members of society."

But the lines of conflict between Humphrey and McCarthy hardened on Sunday when they took opposing views on the issue of inviting the Viet Cong into a new South Vietnam government.

"The fundamental difference between myself and Sen. McCarthy is on the imposition of a coalition government .. I cannot agree with that," Humphrey said.

McCarthy was equally firm. He said he could see no hope for compromise in peace efforts "unless you have a willingness to include in a new government the forces that are fighting it." McCarthy went on:

'He (Humphrey) is rejecting ... the heart of the proposal I have been asking. ... I don't see any evidence of compromise."

Humphrey appeared on the CBS "Face the Nation" panel, McCarthy on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program.

McCarthy unwrapped his proposed peace plank on Saturday. It called for an immediate halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, a curtailment of American operations in South Vietnam, and the creation of a new coalition government in Saigon with "substantial participation" by the NLF.

If Saigon rejected such a coalition, McCarthy specified, U.S. military support would be withdrawn.

Humphrey obviously was hunting for a compromise. He said Saturday he accepts most proposals of "the peace Democrats" including a qualified agreement to halt bombing.

But the vice president said that a cessation of bombing should be in response to some restraint by Hanoi. And he declared he could not accept a plank which repudiated "the policies and sacrifices of the past."

Platform Chairman Boggs has taken no public position on the plank. His role—like the one successfully played by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as Republican platform chairman at the GOP convention—is to seek a compromise in the committee on this most divisive of issues.

A convention floor fight over Vietnam, staged under the eyes of the press and in the glare of TV lights, would highlight Democratic disunity as the party heads into a crucial election battle.

McCarthy backers claimed they had more than enough supporters on the Platform Committee to bring a dissenting plank to the convention floor.

More than 300 witnesses were scheduled for appearances before Boggs' committee, which meets in Washington until moving to Chicago on Thursday. Four subcommittees were set up to hear the witnesses on issues ranging from race riots to pensions for World War I veterans.

Boggs told the opening session in a ballroom of the Statler Hilton hotel that "no one has hand picked this committee ... Its membership of 110 individualists is the sum of the choices each delegation has freely made."

He combined his appeal for unity with a plea for law and order.

"In this task of reconciliation, let us by all means insist on the rule of law," he said.

"Let us by all means strengthen the authority and fabric of law by entwining it with justice, equity and compassion.

"Let us by all means enlist our full strength for a frontal assault on the real evils that beset us. But on this very point, let us also beware of flying to the extremes of controversy where, from lofty motives, we draw apart from each other in an endless chain of secession until each man discovers he stands alone in a war of all against all."

Primary Canvass Begins

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — With Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' official "go ahead," the secretary of state's office today began the official canvass of the Aug. 6 primary vote count.

Tabulators began the count with the governor's home county of Mississippi. The first order of business was to double-check the vote on a constitutional amendment.

It sets up a system for replacing the governor should he die or become disabled or outsted from office. One of the major features is to set up a board to establish when a disabled governor has recovered to a point where he can again assume the office.

Miss. Eula Huss, assistant chief clerk in Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office, said the count of votes on the amendment will be completed later today.

But the canvass of the primary races for statewide and district offices will take longer. Mrs. Huss, who has strawbossed official canvasses for a number of years, said it probably would not be completed before late Wednesday.

No changes from the unofficial returns are expected and under the law the amendment on governor succession will become effective early in September, 30 days after the election.

Decor For Cottage Is Born At Garage Sale

MISS TRUDYE WEAKS chose a bright blue and kelly green color scheme for her attractive guest house. The louver scene conceals the kitchenette. The dining area is at the far end of the room, opposite the sofa. - Memphis Commercial Appeal Photo.

MEMPHIS - A blue wicker sofa found in a garage sale started a decorating scheme that evolved into a pattern for Trudye Weaks' guest house at 1478 Goodbar. Miss Weaks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Weaks, 822 Moore, Sikeston, Mo.

"I was just tired of apartments. You might say I was the good luck charm for all my roommates. Everyone would get married on me and come June and December I'd be on the lookout for another roommate or one already in an apartment looking for one herself. Finally, when I got the last one married off, I decided this was it and started looking for a guest house just for myself."

Trudye is youth coordinator for Levy's, and starting Sept. 9 she will be the National Cotton Council's Maid of Cotton tour director. Her fashion sense is conveyed into her decorating plan in her three-room cottage. White walls in the little house, at the rear of Mrs. Mary Banks' home, provided Trudye with a good background to play with her favorite colors.

The wicker sofa had cushions covered with a navy and kelly green striped fabric and the color duet is repeated in varying patterns. One lounge chair is slipcovered in navy blue with green cording, and another chair is done with a white slipcover, accented with the green trim. The floor-length skirt on a pedestal table is kelly green printed with a flag design of the two colors.

The bright shade of green also plays the role of an accent color. Chests painted white, siding the wicker sofa, have knobs and top trim in green, and an antique lady's pigeon hole desk received a coat of the bright paint.

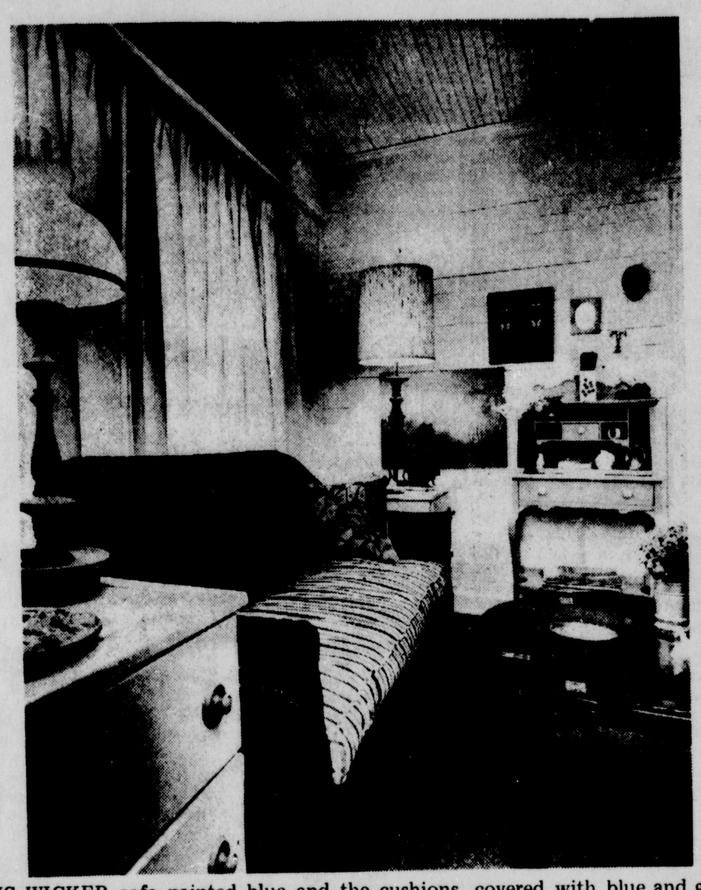
A third color, tangerine, is introduced at walls behind a cluster of shelves over the slipcovered sofa. A collection of pillows in varying sizes and shapes displays one of Trudye's hobbies of crewel embroidery. She also frequents the antique and salvage stores where she has found some of her favorite "fun" pieces. For instance, a storage barrel became the ideal side table for one of the sofas. Her latest project is working on an old ice box, which she will convert into a liquor cabinet. She plans to line the inside completely with orange felt.

Her bedroom continues the blue flavor with the printed quilted bedspread. A lack of storage space brought her college streamer-trunk down from the attic of her parents' home in Sikeston, Mo. Rather than hiding in the closet she keeps it open in her bedroom and uses the top to display pictures and small mementos.

Pink and magenta color the small bath. The ceiling-to-floor shower curtain was fashioned from pink and white striped ticking, trimmed with a deeper shade of pink fringe. Magenta is used for towels and mats.

Walls throughout the small place display interesting picture groupings, including several by Memphis artists such as Larkin Wall and Steve Yee.

Trudye is quick to point out that this style of decorating, relying on color for appeal, will not carry over into her home in future years. "Everything in this house is fun. Some day it may find its way into a game room or sun porch, but for now it's my happy house and nothing more." -- Commercial Appeal.



THIS WICKER sofa painted blue and the cushions, covered with blue and green striped fabric, originated the room's color scheme. The desk at the far end is painted bright green, and the painting beside it coordinates both colors. - Memphis Commercial Appeal Photo.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:
The investment behind it

Each year the drug industry invests millions of dollars in research to support the nearly one billion prescriptions filled yearly by pharmacists throughout the country. This investment results in new "wonder drugs" which let us live our lives longer, healthier. Of the 300 milion dollars invested last year more than 150 million dollars went for quality control research. Improved precision measuring and compounding instruments were developed to make even more certain you receive exactly what your doctor prescribes. And the investment also went for developing improved methods of production. As the methods of manufacturing improve, the price of the bulk drug decreases. This saving is passed on to you in lower prescription prices. The "gold pill" of yesterday is purchased today for a nominal amount. Thus, a conscientious, developing industry works to improve the service and quality of the pharmaceuticals you receive today and tomorrow.

For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to

PARTY PLATFORMS

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California attends Republican Party platform hearings in Miami Beach on Wednesday (Aug. 31).

PARTY PLATFORMS, in the political adage, are not to stand on but to run on. Daniel Webster once said of his party's platform: "I have read their platform, and though I think there are some unsound places in it, I can stand upon it pretty well. But I see nothing in it both new and valuable. 'What is valuable is not new, and what is new is not valuable'."

The late Wendell Willkie called party platforms "fusions of ambiguity." But they are not all that manageable -- nor all that meaningless.

The ruckus among the Democrats in 1948 centered on the party platform plank calling for congressional action to abolish the poll tax, stop lynching, and set up fair employment practices in the states. The all - out civil rights plank was approved after a bitter floor fight by a numerical majority of delegates to the Democratic national convention, but with delegates from 29 states opposed. The real leader of the A.D.A. - C.I.O. coalition pressing the civil rights plank was Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis, who said "We are 172 years late in acting."

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED by the Democrats in 1860 resolved: "That the Democratic Party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the questions of constitutional law." This was a reinforcement of the Dred Scott decision. But even that did not satisfy the Southerners, who wanted the whole slavery issue spelled out in the platform. Most of them bolted and nominated another set of candidates. The Republicans, led by Abraham Lincoln, easily won the election.

The Democratic platform in 1932 called for repeal of the Prohibition Amendment. The Republican platform hedged. It called for a new amendment whereby each state could deal with the "liquor problem" as it saw fit. The federal government was to retain power to preserve the gains already made in dealing with that problem, also to "safeguard our citizens everywhere from the return of the saloon." Whatever this meant, the G.O.P. lost 42 states, chiefly because of the Depression, but certainly to some extent on the Wet - Dry issue.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM hearings in Miami Beach this week may produce some surprises. Walter Cronkite has suggested on radio that one plank might call for an effective gun control law.

The Resolutions Committee drafts and presents a platform to the convention. Much of the preparation actually takes place before the convention opens. The main problem of a Resolutions Committee is to report a platform all party candidates can "live with" and use in their campaigns.

A tip- off on the Republican platform is incorporated in Republican Papers, edited by Rep. Melvin R. Laird (Wis.), chairman of the Republican Conference, and published on July 1. Laird was Barry Goldwater's voice in the 1964 platform - making, but he is taking no overt role this year. The papers are by Republican congressmen and a strong staff of academic and other advisers. These papers, to paraphrase Daniel Webster, contain little that is new but much that is valuable.

For example, take "The Case for the Negative Income Tax," a chapter by Prof. Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago, a Goldwater adviser. The tax is a form of guaranteed income, according to Prof. Friedman: "It is directed specifically at the problem of poverty. It gives help in the form most useful to the individual, namely cash." But it is unlikely to fit in the G.O.P. platform.

Sikeston is winning an enviable reputation throughout the state for the quality of its baseball.

The All-Stars have returned from the Missouri Babe Ruth tournament at Joplin as second place winners in the tough competition of a double elimination event.

Last summer the Potlatch Foresters were one of eight teams to go to the national Connie Mack league world series. This year they have a 25-6 record as this is written and are getting ready to play host to the regional Connie Mack tournament here in which teams from Missouri, Arkansas and the southwest will participate.

The All-Stars went to Joplin both with the good wishes of the community and a liberal outpouring of cash raised by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, other organizations and individuals.

It proved to be a fine investment.

The All Stars had proved their merit by winning a state tournament berth.

While they couldn't quite match the baseball skill of Sedalia in two encounters they took the measure twice of a strong Joplin team.

The play of Pitcher Les Schatzley was brilliant. He twice held Joplin batters at bay and in the first game poled a three - run homer to put his own game on ice.

The Stars deserve all the credit they are being given for a fine season.

As long as the youngsters work hard, show initiative, develop and play baseball of the caliber of the All Stars, the community should respond generously for any need for financial help to reach a state tournament.

Many worthy teams are denied the opportunity.

Only a few are called.

They deserve all the encouragement the community can muster.

Warner and Swasey say the good message again in their latest advertisement as follows:

DON'T TELL THESE NEGRO BOYS
THEY ARE "UNDERPRIVILEGED"

They're too busy to listen -- too busy working and earning.

In a large northern city whose relief rolls are loaded with people who can't (or won't) work, is a group of teen-age Negroes who have all the work they can handle. Because they are willing to work, hard, at any honest work they can get. So they have plenty of it.

People who employ them (at painting, cleaning, yard work) say they're thorough, industrious, honest, self-respecting.

Any number of tax-supported, inflation - breeding organizations would have been glad to "take care of" these teen-agers - but they preferred work and self-respect.

Tens and hundreds of thousands more could be employed in this country as happily and profitably as these young men are - if they had the gumption to go out and look for work to do.

Whoever the next President may be he should strike a balance between management and labor.

The nation has witnessed two Presidents, who have vigorously criticized the steel industry for any significant increase in prices but who never exerted any corresponding effort to hold down the wage demands of steel workers.

The recent steel settlement was described by management as highly inflationary.

While the new contract was negotiated without federal government intervention, steel management was not free to bargain without pressure.

It knew that government would intervene if there was a long strike especially if steel supplies needed to fight the war in Vietnam were jeopardized.

The industry also was influenced by highly inflationary wage settlements in other industries, automobile manufacturing among them.

The inflationary impact of steel prices is indisputable. It is a product with millions of consumer uses from kitchen utensils to home construction and in family automobiles.

Steel workers always have been among the highest paid of the nation's industrial workers.

Because of this both President John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson have on occasion castigated the steel industry for raising prices after large wage settlements in labor negotiations.

This one sided emphasis isn't fair.

Steel profits have been restrained more than other industries. The companies face severe competition from steel makers abroad.

President Johnson has tried to shame the Bethlehem Steel Company for a price increase, the natural consequence of a big wage settlement following on the heels of other highly inflationary increases in labor costs.

He has urged other steel companies not to follow Bethlehem's example.

They should run their own business and pay no attention to the public scolding by the President.

It is true that President Johnson recently called for restraint both by management and labor in steering a non - inflationary course on prices and wages.

He said that if management and labor didn't hold the line it would weaken the restraint that the federal tax increase exerts on this country's inflationary forces.

He is right but his approach lacked vigor and the day for voluntary action has passed.

The federal government could furnish an exmaple of constructive action by speedily reducing its own costs by the $6 million to which the President agreed in order to obtain congressional action on the tax increase.

In the nation's rising inflationary spiral, the federal government always has been the worst offender while piously pleading for others to exercise restraint.

ENGINEERS CHANGE CLANG INTO THUD

A metal garbage can that falls with a thud, not a clang when it is knocked around, raised hopes that this sleepshattering noise may be stopped.

Noise-control engineers of the Bethlehem Steel Company were approached by "Citizens for a Quieter City" to assist in the elimination of excessive noise.

Since metal, ratproof cans are required by law in many cities, the only solution was sound-proofing the container.

Sound-absorbing material, including asphalt, felt and rubber has been applied to areas of bivration, six rubber feet are attached to the bottom rim, and the entire base coated with a gummy material. The result is an innocuous thud rather than a spine-tingling crash.

H.L. Hunt Says

A DECADE OF CASTRO

On next January 1 Fedel Castro will complete a full decade as head of what turned out to be the first Communist regime of the Western Hemisphere. Before and after he came to power, he promised that free elections would be held in Cuba -- within four year, he said on April 19, 1959. But no elections have been held. The government rules by decree and there is no legislative body.

Every Cuban citizen must at all times carry with him an identification card containing his picture, description and fingerprints. Per capita annual income has gone down under Castro from $450 in 1959 to $400 in 1967. Strict rationing is made necessary by shortages of food, clothing and household articles. The Communist regime continues to be heavily subsidized by Soviet Russia.

Castro has managed to retain control of Cuba despite an American-financed attempt at invasion, an economic boycott promoted by the United States, and expulsion from the Organization of American States. His soldiers and militia keep the people down. There is no freedom on the once-happy island.

The administration that will take office in Washington in January will be faced with the task of reviewing U. S. policy toward Cuba. The countries of Latin America and our own national security are threatened by the existence of a Communist regime so close by. It sould not be forgotten that some men in our own Department of State participated in the events that brought Fidel Castro to power. And he is still in power nearly 10 years later. HLH

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Rep. Rooney frets about free doughnuts; Vital testing provision dropped from auto safety act; Tennessee Congressman wants Uncle Same kept out of the liquor business.

WASHINGTON--Rep. John Rooney, sometimes called the Brooklyn Tyrant, is worried over doughnuts being used by the small business administration. This was the subject of a closed-door grilling which he gave to Robert C. Moot of the SBA regarding a $1,000 fund Mott had requested for "light refreshment" for officials of SCORE and the SBA Advisory Council.

SCORE members are retired business executives who give free technical and management advice to small business firms, and Rooney wanted to know what was meant by "light refreshments."

Moot replied: "I was thinking of doughnuts and that sort of thing." Rooney: "Do you mean to tell us that if you got this $1,000 you wouldn't buy any scotch whisky?"

Moot: 'We do not plan to use this for buying any scotch liquor."

Rooney: "The question wasn't what you plan to do. The quest was--if you got the $1,000, would you buy any scotch with it?"

Moot: "The answer is flatly no."

Rooney: "Why shouldn't the people who borrow the money do the entertaining? Why should the taxpayers do the entertaining?"

Moot: "They (SCORE members) are people helping us be assisting small business they provide their own time. They are civic leaders."

Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio: "What are you going to do for SCORE people who are on a diet like I am? My doctor says I can't eat a doughtnut. You probably have some fat people in this SCORE outfit."

Moot: "I really don't think the money is going to provide too much in terms of doughnuts, Mr. Congressman."

Bow: ' This is a temptation to those of us on a diet. I would probably eat a doughnut and get on the scales the next morning and find my doctor's advice was not being very well taken. So take care of the dieters, too, will you?"

Moot: ' Yes sir. I will get diet doughnuts if you give me the money."

LONAS FOR LIQUOR

Whether uncle same should put people in the liquor business with loans from the small business administration has touched off a backstage debate.

In the past the small business administration has followed a strict policy of no loans tc gambling establishments, racetracks, newspapers, radio-TV stations, book publishers, banks, hospitals and concerns selling alcoholic beverages. The latter were included on the forbidden list because it was held that bars, beer gardens and liquor dealers did not contribute to the welfare of the community.

However, the new small business administrator, Howard J. Samuels, has dropped the ban and has extended loans to lizuor dealers. He claims that the no-loan policy was discriminatory against small businessmen, especially negroes, who are trying to take over from white liquor dealers in the Negro gheetos.

Samuels, an able administrator and former under secretary of commerce, has just received a hot letter from Rep. Joe Evins, D-Tenn., chairman of the house small business committee, taking him to task.

"All of your predecessors have found valid reasons for continuing the policy against liquor loans," says Evins. "It is suggested that in handling matters of this import, which call for the exercise of discretion conferred upon you by Congress, it would be appreciated if some consultation is held with members of this committee."

What this means is that if liquor loans are not cut off, there will be speeches when Congress returns next month and progably a ban on Uncle Sam financing the liquor business.

SAFETY MEASURE AXED

A strange thing has happened to an important section of the 1966 auto safety act aimed at making cars and highways safer. The provision for an auto safety reserach and test facility has disappeared.

Those who drive the highways and suffer from auto crashes costing over $12 billion a year don't know that this important part of the auto safety act has been quietly ditched. Someplace along the way the budget bureau ruled it out, either because it cost too mcuh or because Detroit doesn't want it--possibly both.

The motor moguls in Detroit have claimed this testing facility would put the government into the auto business. Some members of the department of transportation have been shaken by this argument. Also Congress has decreed a crackdown on spending. As a result, this part of the auto safety act is being sidetracked.

Meanwhile, auto crashes kill 53,000 people annually and injure 4 ½ million. Meanwhile also, the government operates bureaus responsible for drug safety, bus and rail safety, radiation safety, and health safety, but apparently is ditching the texting facility on auto safety.

TAX LOOPHOLE

Hard-hitting young Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., is among those urging a strong tax reform plank in the 1968 Democratic platform. In a recent statement Howard declared that any man who aspires to the White House--whether Democrat or Republican--" must represent all of the people, not just the oilmen and those who escape paying their fair share of taxes through loopholes."

He pointed out that, under the notorious "depletion allowance," 20 of the top U.S. oil companies have been making a total net profit of almost $5 billion a year, yet pay an average of only 8.5 per cent in taxes. Mighty Standard Oil of New Jersey, for example, is in the 6.3 per cent bracket.

Howard also wants to tighten loopholes that enable individuals to flimflam the government.

"In 1965," he said, "There were 35 American so-called taxpayers, with incomes exceeding $500,000 a year, who paid no income tax at all--including five with incomes of $5 million or more."

Two-Headed Humphrey: Veep Caught in Chicago Crunch As Powerful Labor Forces Battle

By Victor Riesel

New York: -- Certainly Hubert H. Humphrey will win it on the first ballot. But who will take it on the second?

Word from deep in the front runner's camp is that Mr. Humphrey will choose to run with someone who has created himself in Mr. Humphrey's own image.

There simply will be no effort to "balance" the ticket. The Vice President, if elected, wants no "two-headed government." He will not choose someone from another region, another religion, another philosophy, simply to balance the ticket, unless he thinks and believes as does Hubert Humphrey.

This I was told bluntly, flatly, and unequivocally by the ebullient 37-year-old Senator from Oklahoma, Fred Harris, Mr. Humphrey's most active campaign manager.

As we talked he made it clear that Mr. Humphrey and his advisers are taking for granted the definitive "Shermanesque" words of Ted Kennedy, Mr. Harris' only junior in the U.S. Senate.

Who then, on the record, thinks as Mr. Humphrey thinks? Or, who does Mr. Humphrey think thinks like himself? If the Vice President shifts a little to the left, it could be Gene McCarthy, George McGovern or even Ted Kennedy.

Now that the vice presidency no longer is a post of escalated impotance, the second spot is a critical matter to Mr. Humphrey's most powerful sponsors, from whom will flow the money, the manpower, the caravans, the telephone squad work, the flares, scores of millions of pieces of literature, the broadcast financing, the actual "hardware" of a presidential campaign -- namely, the labor movement.

One phalanx of this embattled legion led by George Meany's AFL-CIO doesn't really care who Mr. Humphrey believes is created in his image so long as it's not Gene McCarthy.

Another bloc of "the troops," led by the newly united labor breathren, Frank Fitzsimmons and Walter Reuther, is for Gene McCarthy. For them he's political aspirin. He would cure their splitting headaches brought on by overdoses of Lyndon Johnson.

They're all now supporting Hubert Humphrey, who has been telephoning them from his Minnesota home, breakfasting with them here in New York, consulting with them in Michigan, California and Washington, D.C.

But their private problem now is to influence his thinking. Walter Reuther, for example, wants Mr. Humphrey to go white as a dove and black as a ghetto.

The other day a reporter asked the usually insulated Walter Reuther whether he has been talking with the Vice President.

"Yes, I'm pushing him hard on the Vietnam war," said the auto union leader. "He's got to come out against it or he cannot win the elections. I think he'll come out."

If that's how Humphrey starts thinking, will will be a natural for him to call his old friend McCarthy, a latter-day Stevensonian, and say let's run together. Such a ticket would ave Mr. Humphrey many a headache and demonstration. It also would give him the full support of Fitzsimmons Brotherhood of Teamsters with which Sen. McCarthy has been very close indeed.

Thus if Reuther convinces Mr. Humphrey to flap sincerely like a dove, the auto union leader can effect the first united political action with the Teamsters. Furthermore, it would make everybody happy.

Reuther would unite his union which is pslit between Humphrey and McCarthy -- and the Teamsters would have a friend high in the administration for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

On Saturday or Sunday night preceding the convention opening, the Reuther and Fitzsimmons forces, each with a contingent of convention delegates, will dine and caucus in a Chicago hotel.

But while they're "showing the flag" over roast beef, there will be another labor caucus, powerful indeed. This one is led by AFL-CIO president George Meany who has about as much use for Gene McCarthy as he does for Leonid Brezhnev.

Mr. Meany is a very definite man. That's understatement. In his words, he wants peace but not appeasement. He does not want, nor do the 280 labor delegates and alternates, Mr. Humphrey to repudiate either Lyndon Johnson or the war. He wants no compromise with the Viet Cong.

He believes that "the imperialists are not in Washington; they are in Hanoi.

"Let the pickets and the protestors -- yes, and the candidates -- turn their attention there. Let them direct their condemnation and the pressure of opinion upon the one force primarily responsible for the continuation of the bloodshed, North Vietnam and its Viet Cong allies."

As for the ghettos, Mr. Meany demands social justice. But he's not afeared of demanding though law and order too.

Obviously Hubert Humphrey will have to think fast about what he will think on the convention floor. Either way, he stands to lose some influential friends.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Litterbugs aren't merely nuisances. They're expensive. The cost of picking up the debris they leave on highways, beaches, park sites and other public property adds half a billion dollars annually to the nation's tax bill.

On the other hand, a nagging wife can sometimes save you money. By bawling you out she may herself avoid getting an expensive ailment—arthritis. Many psychiatrists believe that women who bottle up their emotions and brood about their woes are particularly susceptible to arthritis.

The more cars a family has, the more each vehicle is used. Familes with two or more cars average 10,000 miles a car. Those with one car average 9,900.

A good wife is a good financial bargain. One study found that wives who don't hold outside jobs put in nearly 100 hours a week on their homemaking duties. If you could find any other woman who would work that hard or long for a minimum of $1.60 an hour—and you probably couldn't—she would cost you $160 a week.

The increasing use of computers is adding new words to our vocabulary. One is "nanosecond," the time it takes electricity traveling at 186,000 miles per second to go one foot. Another is "picasecond," a millionth of a millionth of a second. That's how long it takes electricity to journey the thickness of your fingernail.

Prosperity note: About 30 per cent of U.S. families now have yearly incomes of $10,000 a year or more.

Safety tip: Don't try to change a tire in one of the busy lanes of a modern expressway. If you do, Illinois State Police warn, your life expectancy is just 20 minutes.

Wasted power: Few sights in nature are more awesome and terrifying than a great forest fire. These flaming storms can unleash every two minutes as much energy as is released by the explosion of a 20-kiloton atomic bomb—or 20,000 tons of dynamite.

Worth remembering: "The honeymoon is over when he takes her off a pedestal and puts her on a budget."

Folklore: Witches usually have a birthmark, peering eyes, thick eyebrows that meet over the nose, and often are redhaired. It's bad luck to remove a wedding ring except in an emergency. A one-armed customer in a restaurant is a sign the waiter will get poor tips all day, but if a waiter serves a hunchback the tips will be big. Finals of the Morehouse Little League baseball tournament will be played tonight after rain forced postponement last week.

Tonight, Morehouse faces Bloomfield for third place honors at 7 p.m. and Poplar Bluff squares off against Bernie at 8:30 p.m.

Scott County Central high school claimed the championship of the high school Summer League baseball tournament last week by beating Oran, 4-2.

Morris Karnes took the victory for the Braves.

Oran's loser was Rodney LeGrand.

Oran was the winner in league play, that had eight teams, including Scott Central in the running.

For the first time in the history of the National Pistol Championships, the individual title was claimed by an Air Force shooter. Maj. Franklin C. Green, San Antonio, Tex., edged two-time champion Navy PO Donald Hamilton, Brookline, Mass. by one point to take the title with 2635 out of a possible 2700 points. At one point in the three-day match Green had a 12 point lead only to see it dwindle on the last day as Hamilton paced the field with a .45 caliber championship.

Maj. Green captured two other individual titles with the .22 caliber and center fire pistols while Hamilton gained the .45 caliber championship.

Air Force domination in the team championships became evident early in the matches when the Blue Team easily won the .22 team championship on the first day. Led by Maj. Green and SSgt. Arnold Vitarbo, New York City, Air Force Blue went on to capture all team titles duplicating its 1966 effort. Other team members included T/Sgt. John Ditmore, Huntsville, Ark., and T/Sgt. Edwin Teague, Chamler, Ariz.

Another individual title was claimed by the Air Force as Vitarbo easily won the .45 caliber Service Pistol Championship. Hamilton's late surge gave him the lead in the President's Hundred competition with a record - breaking total of 876 points out of a possible 900. Both men recently won berths on the U.S. Olympic Shooting Team.

Repeat winners seemed to be the order of the day as three former winners retained their championships. Elwyn Bernett, East Lansing, Mich., a Michigan State Police Trooper, retained the Police title which he first won in 1967. John H. Johnson, Fullerton, Calif., came from behind to recapture the Civilian Championship.

Trude Schlernitvauer, Lowell, Mich., won her second Woman's National Championship with an excellent 2571 score. The new champion won her first title here in 1965.

The National Championships sponsored by the National Rifle Association continues through August 23rd with Smallbore Rifle beginning August 11th and High Power Rifle August 18th.

A special march, The Palma, between the United States and Canada will be fired on August 23rd. This traditional international match was first fired nearly 100 years ago, and pits the twenty top long-distance riflemen from both nations. The Match is fired at 800, 900 and 1,000 yard ranges.

Kentucky Lake will be the source of $5,000 in cash prizes. The Fall Fishing Derby will award a total of $5,000 in grand and weekly prizes during the 10th Kentucky Lake Derby which runs from August 15 to November 1.

There is no entry fee; anyone who is an overnight guest of participating motels, resorts, or renting a houseboat is eligible to enter fish caught from Kentucky Lake in the "A" Division of the Derby.

Each week cash prizes of $25 and $10 will be awarded for the two largest fish caught in each of the following classes: Black Bass, Crappie, Pike, White Bess, and Catfish. Grand prizes will be awarded for the three largest fish caught in each of the same classes. Grand prize money in the "A" Division will total $2,350.

Registered overnight campers staying at participating campgrounds will be eligible to enter their Kentucky Lake fish in the "B" Division of the Derby. There will be $800 in grand prize money awarded for the largest fish caught in each of the following classes: Black Bass, Crappie, Pike, White Bass, Catfish, and Blue Gill.

The Kentucky Lake Fall Fishing Derby is sponsored and conducted by the resorts, motels, boat docks, and other businesses in the Kentucky Lake area, including Benton, Murray and Paducah, Kentucky. For complete information about the Derby, write to Kentucky Lake Fall Fishing Derby, P.O. Box 147, Benton, Kentucky, 42025.

There's a lot of good hunting coming up, with state game departments reporting abundant crops of all major game species.

Deer prospects appear even better than last year, with good to excellent mule deer and white-tailed deer hunting expected nationally. New York State biologists report an all-time high in whitetails after four mild winters, and predict a record deer kill this fall.

Western billogists predict generally good hunting for antelope, elk, mountain goat, bighorn and moose, all of which show some increases.

Bobwhite quail are reported in good to excellent numbers in their southern and southeastern ranges. Arkansas reports as many quail "as it is possible to have with present land use." The midwestern pheasant states report excellent quail populations.

Good midwestern pheasant hunting is forecast for Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. In the East, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have excellent pheasant crops.

Ruffed grouse prospects are good in the Lake States, with Minnesota reporting the highest spring drumming counts in a decade. Eastern grouse have had scattered nesting success because of spring rains, but good grouse numbers are reported in most eastern states. There are excellent chukar partridge prospects on the entire West Coast.

Nationally, wild turkey prospects are good. More spring seasons are being set, and turkey fever continues to rise wherever hunters are exposed to it.

The August 1 deadline of this survey found many state game departments with incomplete information on current game crops, and with some hunting seasons still not set. However, enough information is available to make estimates on the basis of spring game populations and reproductive success.

Each state's hunting prospects are rated excellent, good, fair or poor, according to that state's own standards of abundance. What is a "good" quail crop in one state might be "poor" by another state's standards.

Hunting seasons for each species in these tables will be within the dates indicated. In many cases, the hunting dates shown here are the earliest and latest dates when gun hunting is allowed. Many states manage game on a regional or area basis, and several shorter seasons for specific zones may be included within the brackets of the general season. Anyone planning to hunt in another state should contact the game department of that state for specific information about seasons, permits, limits, and whether both sexes of the particular game may be hunted.

The 1968 regulations for hunting doves, rails, gallinules, woodcock and snipe were released in mid-July, and the regulations on the 1968-69 waterfowl seasons will be released in mid-August by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C.

Cards Pound Atlanta, Gibson-Phils Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A nine-run first inning including two hits each by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda led the St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves Sunday.

The Braves behind the six-hit pitching of Pat Jariv 12-9 and Felix Millan's first home run of the season beat the Cardinals Saturday night 3-2.

In Sunday's contest, the Cardinals pounded Atlanta rookie Ron Reed and reliever Ken Johnson in the first inning Reed was the loser, making his record 10-8.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano each drove in two runs in the big first. Four of the first-inning tallies were unearned after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez.

Ray Washburn scattered nine hits and picked up his 11th victory against five defeats for St. Louis.

Cardinal ace Bob Gibson 17-5 will face Woody Fryman 11-11 of the Philadelphia Phillies tonight at Philadelphia.

Kansas City Beats St. Louis 13-10

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Stram says he feels even better about the Kansas City defense than he does about his 100th coaching victory, a 13-10 cliffhanger over the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

The Chiefs won with their gi IIFZFENSIVE TACKLES, Buck Buchanan and Ernie Ladd, out for all except a few key plans. They won without starting cornerback Willie Mitchell, hurt early in the second quarter. Stram said "I certainly was pleased with our young players."

Stram is the first American Football League coach to win 100 games, including exhibitions. He's also the first AFL coach to beat three NFL opponents. How does that make him feel?

"It's a great compliment to our squad," he said, "but the only time a victory over them means anything is on Jan. 12."

Kansas City's 3-2 record against NFL opponents includes the loss to Green Bay in the first Super Bowl. Stram's club hopes to regain the AFL crown from Oakland, which plays here Saturday night.

Early in the third period, the long-awaited match of Missouri's two pro football teams had turned sour for Kansas City fans. Wendell Hayes lost a fumble at the St. Louis 12 after a 53-yard punt return by tiny Noland Smith. In six plays, the Cards scored for a 10-3 lead as strong-armed Jim Hart completed four straight passes for 83 yards.

At that stage, Hart had completed almost 60 per cent of his passes, 13-for-22, and the Cards were averaging 5.1 yards per rushing play.

But this proved the turning point for the Kansas City defense. The rest of the game, Hart hit only 4-for-13 and the Cards made only 2.5 per rushing play. A 67-yard Jerrel Wilson punt put St. Louis in the hole, cornerback Goldie Sellers broke up a third-down pass to Bobby Joe Conrad, the Chiefs got the ball back and scored for a 10-10 tie.

Sellers had another big passbreak on the next St. Louis possession which ended with the Cards losing a fourth-and-one gamble at their 40. Six plays later Jan Stenerud's 24-yard field goal won it.

Linebacker Willie Lanier's key third-down pass break stopped the next St. Louis drive. On the Cards' final chance, end Aaron Brown broke up one play, Sellers took the ball away from Billy Gambrell in the end zone and Jim Bakken missed a 38yard field goal attempt with 1:33 left.

Ladd blocked a Bakken field goal try from the 31 with four seconds left in the half. The ailing Buchanan came in on his own with Ladd on the big fourthdown gamble, stirring up the record crowd of 47,462.

Decor For Cottage Is Born At Garage Sale

MISS TRUDYE WEAKS chose a bright blue and kelly green color scheme for her attractive guest house. The louver scene conceals the kitchenette. The dining area is at the far end of the room, opposite the sofa. - Memphis Commercial Appeal Photo.

MEMPHIS - A blue wicker sofa found in a garage sale started a decorating scheme that evolved into a pattern for Trudye Weaks' guest house at 1478 Goodbar. Miss Weaks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Weaks, 822 Moore, Sikeston, Mo.

"I was just tired of apartments. You might say I was the good luck charm for all my roommates. Everyone would get married on me and come June and December I'd be on the lookout for another roommate or one already in an apartment looking for one herself. Finally, when I got the last one married off, I decided this was it and started looking for a guest house just for myself."

Trudye is youth coordinator for Levy's, and starting Sept. 9 she will be the National Cotton Council's Maid of Cotton tour director. Her fashion sense is conveyed into her decorating plan in her three-room cottage. White walls in the little house, at the rear of Mrs. Mary Banks' home, provided Trudye with a good background to play with her favorite colors.

The wicker sofa had cushions covered with a navy and kelly green striped fabric and the color duet is repeated in varying patterns. One lounge chair is slipcovered in navy blue with green cording, and another chair is done with a white slipcover, accented with the green trim. The floor-length skirt on a pedestal table is kelly green printed with a flag design of the two colors.

The bright shade of green also plays the role of an accent color. Chests painted white, siding the wicker sofa, have knobs and top trim in green, and an antique lady's pigeon hole desk received a coat of the bright paint.

A third color, tangerine, is introduced at walls behind a cluster of shelves over the slipcovered sofa. A collection of pillows in varying sizes and shapes displays one of Trudye's hobbies of crewel embroidery. She also frequents the antique and salvage stores where she has found some of her favorite "fun" pieces. For instance, a storage barrel became the ideal side table for one of the sofas. Her latest project is working on an old ice box, which she will convert into a liquor cabinet. She plans to line the inside completely with orange felt.

Her bedroom continues the blue flavor with the printed quilted bedspread. A lack of storage space brought her college streamer-trunk down from the attic of her parents' home in Sikeston, Mo. Rather than hiding in the closet she keeps it open in her bedroom and uses the top to display pictures and small mementos.

Pink and magenta color the small bath. The ceiling-to-floor shower curtain was fashioned from pink and white striped ticking, trimmed with a deeper shade of pink fringe. Magenta is used for towels and mats.

Walls throughout the small place display interesting picture groupings, including several by Memphis artists such as Larkin Wall and Steve Yee.

Trudye is quick to point out that this style of decorating, relying on color for appeal, will not carry over into her home in future years. "Everything in this house is fun. Some day it may find its way into a game room or sun porch, but for now it's my happy house and nothing more." -- Commercial Appeal.

Margaret McClain Bride Of Danny Gene Morgan

CHARLESTON - Miss Margaret Ann McClain and Danny Gene Morgan were married Aug. 10 at the Elm Street Baptist church with the Rev. Gary Tolbert officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McClain of 1101 South Grand, and Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan of Elm Street.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white mums. Mrs. Tolbert served as pianist and played traditional wedding music.

For her wedding the bride chose a white street-length lace dress over chiffon with long lace sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was secured with a band of tiny white roses with pale blue streamers. She carried a bouquet of white roses on a white lace-covered Bible with white satin streamers.

She was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Betty Essary, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a light blue crepe dress with a corsage of white chrysanthemums. John Essary, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Mrs. McClain chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece turquoise jersey dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums, trimmed with pink ribbon.

A reception and shower was held at the Union Hall immediately after the ceremony.

The reception table was decorated with white and pink roses. The two-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Paula McClain sister-in-law of the bride. Sandwiches and punch were served by Mrs. Linda McClain, sister-in-law of the bride.

Morgan attended Charleston high school, graduating with the class of 1968. The bride attended Charleston and Kelly high school. She plans to finish her senior year at Normandy high school in St. Louis.

After a reception, the couple left for a weekend trip. The left Sunday night for St. Louis where Morgan is employed by the Hill Behn Lumber Co. They will be living at 6571 Mount Avenue, St. Louis.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:
The investment behind it

Each year the drug industry invests millions of dollars in research to support the nearly one billion prescriptions filled yearly by pharmacists throughout the country. This investment results in new "wonder drugs" which let us live our lives longer, healthier. Of the 300 milion dollars invested last year more than 150 million dollars went for quality control research. Improved precision measuring and compounding instruments were developed to make even more certain you receive exactly what your doctor prescribes. And the investment also went for developing improved methods of production. As the methods of manufacturing improve, the price of the bulk drug decreases. This saving is passed on to you in lower prescription prices. The "gold pill" of yesterday is purchased today for a nominal amount. Thus, a conscientious, developing industry works to improve the service and quality of the pharmaceuticals you receive today and tomorrow.

For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to

Power Cut Off of Struck REA —

POPLAR BLUFF - Another round of vandalism Thursday brought renewed appeals for members of the Ozark Border Electric Cooperative, and other area residents to be on the alert for suspects.

C. B. Dannaer, manager of the cooperative, reported that vandals resorted to the use of high-powered rifles Thrusday night to shoot out oil circuit breakers.

Four circuit breakers were shot out in the Malden area and three in the Broseley area, resulting in serious power outages, Danner said.

There were many instances of both three and two-phase power line being grounded out by wires thrown over the lines. One of these on Highway 160 near Doniphan, took all of the lines from Doniphan to the Oregon County line out of service.

Another grounding was reported on Highway JJ west of Malden. A pole was cut near Harviell and, on U. S. Highway 67, a tree was felled across the lines near the L. O. Garrett Store, north of Poplar Bluff.

Co-op officials issued the following statement this morning.

"Are striking linemen involved in vandalism?

"It has been reported by members of the cooperative that four of the union linemen who are out on strike have been seen in areas where your electric lines have been put out of service by acts of vandalism.

"If all the 15,00 members of Ozark Border Cooperative would be as alert as these members were, they could soon put a stop to all acts which could damage the cooperative's electric lines."

Meanwhile, the Butler county sheriff's office is investigating nine reports of grounding of Ozark Border power lines and pole cuttings.

Included are repots of Co-op property being tampered with in areas on highway 60, east; highway 142, highway 53, Highway PP, the highway 67, north, incident announced by Danner, and a Qulin case.

In addition to investigating the reports, the sheriff's officers have also been escorting several of the Co-op line maintenance and repair trucks

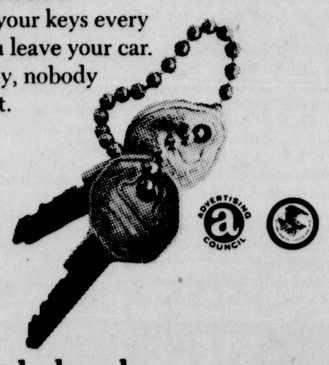
How many people get hurt when a car is stolen?

More than you think.
The thief gets hurt.
Very likely he's a teen-age kid who's never been in serious trouble before.
His parents get hurt.
A police record isn't much to be proud of.
Other people can get hurt, too.
Stolen cars are involved in 200 times more accidents.
Take your keys every time you leave your car. That way, nobody gets hurt.



Don't help a boy go wrong. When you leave your car, take your keys.

By Ron Jaynes

Finals of the Morehouse Little League baseball tournament will be played tonight after rain forced postponement last week.

Tonight, Morehouse faces Bloomfield for third place honors at 7 p.m. and Poplar Bluff squares off against Bernie at 8:30 p.m.

Scott County Central high school claimed the championship of the high school Summer League baseball tournament last week by beating Oran, 4-2.

Morris Karnes took the victory for the Braves.

Oran's loser was Rodney LeGrand.

Oran was the winner in league play, that had eight teams, including Scott Central in the running.

For the first time in the history of the National Pistol Championships, the individual title was claimed by an Air Force shooter. Maj. Franklin C. Green, San Antonio, Tex., edged two-time champion Navy PO Donald Hamilton, Brookline, Mass. by one point to take the title with 2635 out of a possible 2700 points. At one point in the three-day match Green had a 12 point lead only to see it dwindle on the last day as Hamilton paced the field with a .45 caliber championship.

Maj. Green captured two other individual titles with the .22 caliber and center fire pistols while Hamilton gained the .45 caliber championship.

Air Force domination in the team championships became evident early in the matches when the Blue Team easily won the .22 team championship on the first day. Led by Maj. Green and M/Sgt. Arnold Vitarbo, New York City, Air Force Blue went on to capture all team titles duplicating its 1966 effort. Other team members included T/Sgt. John Ditmore, Huntsville, Ark., and T/Sgt. Edwin Teague, Chamler, Ariz.

Another individual title was claimed by the Air Force as Vitarbo easily won the .45 caliber Service Pistol Championship. Hamilton's late surge gave him the lead in the President's Hundred competition with a record - breaking total of 876 points out of a possible 900. Both men recently won berths on the U.S. Olympic Shooting Team.

Repeat winners seemed to be the order of the day as three former winners retained their championships. Elwyn Bernett, East Lansing, Mich., a Michigan State Police Trooper, retained the Police title which he first won in 1967. John H. Johnson, Fullerton, Calif., came from behind to recapture the Civilian Championship.

Trude Schlernitvauer, Lowell, Mich., won her second Woman's National Championship with an excellent 2571 score. The new champion won her first title here in 1965.

The National Championships sponsored by the National Rifle Association continues through August 23rd with Smallbore Rifle beginning August 11th and High Power Rifle August 18th.

There's a lot of good hunting coming up, with state game departments reporting abundant crops of all major game species.

Deer prospects appear even better than last year, with good to excellent mule deer and white-tailed deer hunting expected nationally. New York State biologists report an all-time high in whitetails after four mild winters, and predict a record deer kill this fall.

Western billogists predict generally good hunting for antelope, elk, mountain goat, bighorn and moose, all of which show some increases.

Bobwhite quail are reported in good to excellent numbers in their southern and southeastern ranges. Arkansas reports as many quail "as it is possible to have with present land use." The midwestern pheasant states report excellent quail populations.

Good midwestern pheasant hunting is forecast for Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. In the East, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have excellent pheasant crops.

Ruffed grouse prospects are good in the Lake States, with Minnesota reporting the highest spring drumming counts in a decade. Eastern grouse have had scattered nesting success because of spring rains, but good grouse numbers are reported in most eastern states. There are excellent chukar partridge prospects on the entire West Coast.

Nationally, wild turkey prospects are good. More spring seasons are being set, and turkey fever continues to rise wherever hunters are exposed to it.

The August 1 deadline of this survey found many state game departments with incomplete information on current game crops, and with some hunting seasons still not set. However, enough information is available to make estimates on the basis of spring game populations and reproductive success.

Each state's hunting prospects are rated excellent, good, fair or poor, according to that state's own standards of abundance. What is a "good" quail crop in one state might be "poor" by another state's standards.

Hunting seasons for each species in these tables will be within the dates indicated. In many cases, the hunting dates shown here are the earliest and latest dates when gun hunting is allowed. Many states manage game on a regional or area basis, and several shorter seasons for specific zones may be included within the brackets of the general season. Anyone planning to hunt in another state should contact the game department of that state for specific information about seasons, permits, limits, and whether both sexes of the particular game may be hunted.

The 1968 regulations for hunting doves, rails, gallinules, woodcock and snipe were released in mid-July, and the regulations on the 1968-69 waterfowl seasons will be released in mid-August by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C.

Cards Pound Atlanta, Gibson-Phils Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A nine-run first inning including two hits each by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda led the St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves Sunday.

The Braves behind the six-hit pitching of Pat Jariv 12-9 and Felix Millan's first home run of the season beat the Cardinals Saturday night 3-2.

In Sunday's contest, the Cardinals pounded Atlanta rookie Ron Reed and reliever Ken Johnson in the first inning Reed was the loser, making his record 10-8.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano each drove in two runs in the big first. Four of the first-inning tallies were unearned after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez.

Ray Washburn scattered nine hits and picked up his 11th victory against five defeats for St. Louis.

Cardinal ace Bob Gibson 17-5 will face Woody Fryman 11-11 of the Philadelphia Phillies tonight at Philadelphia.

All three lawyers were ejected protesting Regan's innocence, and the Cubs lost the ball game, 2-1 to Cincinnati Sunday. The Reds also took the second game of the doubleheader, 6-3, extending their winning streak to rp8oes.

Kansas City Beats St. Louis 13-10

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Stram says he feels even better about the Kansas City defense than he does about his 100th coaching victory, a 13-10 cliffhanger over the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

The Chiefs won with their gi IIFZFENSIVE TACKLES, Buck Buchanan and Ernie Ladd, out for all except a few key plans. They won without starting cornerback Willie Mitchell, hurt early in the second quarter. Stram said "I certainly was pleased with our young players."

Stram is the first American Football League coach to win 100 games, including exhibitions. He's also the first AFL coach to beat three NFL opponents. How does that make him feel?

"It's a great compliment to our squad," he said, "but the only time a victory over them means anything is on Jan. 12."

Kansas City's 3-2 record against NFL opponents includes the loss to Green Bay in the first Super Bowl. Stram's club hopes to regain the AFL crown from Oakland, which plays here Saturday night.

Early in the third period, the long-awaited match of Missouri's two pro football teams had turned sour for Kansas City fans. Wendell Hayes lost a fumble at the St. Louis 12 after a 53-yard punt return by tiny Noland Smith. In six plays, the Cards scored for a 10-3 lead as strong-armed Jim Hart completed four straight passes for 83 yards.

At that stage, Hart had completed almost 60 per cent of his passes, 13-for-22, and the Cards were averaging 5.1 yards per rushing play.

But this proved the turning point for the Kansas City defense. The rest of the game, Hart hit only 4-for-13 and the Cards made only 2.5 per rushing play. A 67-yard Jerrel Wilson punt put St. Louis in the hole, cornerback Goldie Sellers broke up a third-down pass to Bobby Joe Conrad, the Chiefs got the ball back and scored for a 10-10 tie.

Sellers had another big passbreak on the next St. Louis possession which ended with the Cards losing a fourth-and-one gamble at their 40. Six plays later Jan Stenerud's 24-yard field goal won it.

Linebacker Willie Lanier's key third-down pass break stopped the next St. Louis drive. On the Cards' final chance, end Aaron Brown broke up one play, Sellers took the ball away from Billy Gambrell in the end zone and Jim Bakken missed a 38yard field goal attempt with 1:33 left.

Ladd blocked a Bakken field goal try from the 31 with four seconds left in the half. The ailing Buchanan came in on his own with Ladd on the big fourthdown gamble, stirring up the record crowd of 47,462.

AUBREY "TINY" DAVIS lent to the south plains regional Connie Mack baseball tournament VFW stadium a sense of humor in heckling teams and adding spice to games. He was this year's Babe Ruth manager and is a Sikeston teams fan.

Bootheel Gun Club Formed

An organizational meeting of the Bootheel Gun club was held in the police court room at the Sikeston police station.

The newly formed skeet and trap shooting club will meet again Thursday night at 8:15 p.m., to elect officers and adopt bylaws. The Bootheel Gun club will be affiliated with the National Rifle Association.

A representative from Remington Arms was in Sikeston Friday looking over proposed club sites and will make recommendations for laying out a shooting range.

Keith Ziegenhorn and Judge Jim Sickle, who are spearheading the organizational movements of the club are optimistic about prospects for the club.

TERRY JOHNSON, 403 Dorothy St., is working for radio station KFSB at Joplin in the Missouri school of journalism's summer intern program. He interviews True Davis, U. S. senatorial candidate, during the primary campaign.

Journalism Students Get on-Job Training

COLUMBIA - Seventy-two students in the school of journalism at the University of Missouri are spending their vacation time between semesters working on summer jobs in their chosen fields. Most of them are employed by newspapers and broadcasting stations. The students are working in 20 states.

In addition to gaining experience and receiving pay checks, 56 members of the group will earn two hours of academic credit, to be granted by the school after supervision and evaluation by their employers.

Missouri newspapers employing interns include the Kansas City Star, Joplin Globe St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Columbis Tribune, Jefferson City Capital News, and Springfield News and Leader-Press -- the Springfield papers employing two Missouri publishers' sons in the program, Ben. F. Weir Jr., son of Ben F. Weir, recently in Nevada and now general manager of the Independence Examiner, and Dan F. Zimmerman, son of Jac W. Zimmerman of the Boliver Free Press.

Other newspapers providing training for the young journalists Memphis Press-Schimitar, Tulsa Tribune, Milwauke Journal, Charlotte Observer, Rochester (N.Y.) Times-Union, Nashville Tennessean, Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch, and Lawrence (Kan.) Journal-World.

Among other employers in the program are the Farm Quarterly, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Anheuser-Busch, Ford Motor Co., Mutual Broadcasting System, one television station and eight radio stations.

The wide range of duties involves the interns in reporting, copy editing, photojournalism, advertising copywriting and sales, newscasting and announcing, as well as other tasks.

Most of the summer employment opportunities are arranged during campus interview visits. Others are scheduled by mail and through personal visits during Christmas vacation and spring break.

"The student obviously has much to gain from such an arrangement," says Robert W. Haverfield, associate professor of journalism and placement director for the school. "He gets some more of this experience that employers are always seeking. Although all Missouri journalism students work on the general circulation daily, the Columbia Missourian, teaching newspaper of the School of Journalism, most are eager to augment this experience by working with still another newspaper or broadcaster. The summer internship also means a pay check to help on college expenses and an opportunity for the student to see for himself "just what this business is all about."

Haverfield said the employer finds many advantages to the summer program. One publisher described it "as a reasonably priced source of dedicated labor." If the summer intern proves to be a real "find," one who would be welcomed back after graduation, the employer usually has the inside track with the young journalist. A great many of the interns do return to these jobs after graduation.

One publisher pointed out that he was glad to pay a higher starting salary to those who had worked for him for a summer because he knew what he was buying -- he wasn't buying an unknown commodity.

Salaries for the summer employes range from $75 a week to about $125 a week with newspapers. Some of the salaries for companies range even higher.

Students working on summer jobs, listed by county and home towns and place employed, are:

Kennedy Film Prepared for Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 20-minute motion picture depicting the public life of Robert F. Kennedy is being prepared for the Democratic National Convention—but party officials refuse to say when or if it will be shown.

Charles Guggenheim said in an interview that his Washington production firm was commissioned by the Kennedy family to make the film. He said the project is 60 per cent completed.

Four years ago, Kennedy—then attorney general and a candidate for the Senate—stood head bowed and eyes moist before the Democratic convention in Atlantic City and introduced a similar film of highlights in the life of his brother, John F. Kennedy, slain nine months earlier by an assassin.

For 13 minutes, the thousands in convention hall cheered Robert Kennedy. When the lights went on after the film, thousands were weeping.

Guggenheim's firm, which made a documentary for Kennedy of his 1964 Senate campaign, has asked for film footage from television networks and television stations and for still pictures from news media.

The film will be in black and white. The narrator, Guggenheim said, will be someone well known.

Guggenheim was reluctant to discuss specific scenes because the movie is subject to approval by the Kennedy family.

"This will not be a definitive biography, but rather the quality of a man's life," he said. "I don't think we have to trick it up to get an emotional response —the loss people feel is the quality the man communicated."

The Democratic National Committee has refused to say if the film is scheduled. In 1964, the John Kennedy movie was rescheduled from the second to the fourth day of convention week until after a vice presidential candidate had been nominated.

The Revenue and Expenditure Control Act of 1968, signed into law on June 28, 1968, required the President to reduce Federal expenditures in Fiscal Year 1969. In order to meet the limitations enacted by the Congress, the Navy will reduce classes at its Officer Candidate School, according to LCDR. P. S. Fauks, USN, Executive Officer of the Navy recruiting station in St. Louis.

LCDR Fauks, whose offices are at 208 North Broadway, said the reduction will affect some persons already assigned to September, October and November classes.

"I want to emphasize", LCDR Fauks stressed, "that this does not mean any candidate laready selected will be dropped, but may delay the reporting date of some of these candidates"'

All selectees are being contacted and asked to voluntarily requrest reassignement to a later class.

"We hope", LCDR Fauks added, "this procedure will take care of the greater percentage of the reductions, and keep involuntary assignments to later classes to a minimum". Those candidates reassigned to later classes will be notified as soon as possible.

The large number of applicants and reassingments of candidates has caused some dalys in application procdessing. "Faced with these circumstances", LCDR Fauks said, "we expect Officer Candidate School quotas to be reudced; nonetheless all interested college graduates who desire to apply will be considered in competition with all other applicants.

Power Cut Off of Struck REA

POPLAR BLUFF - Another round of vandalism Thursday brought renewed appeals for members of the Ozark Border Electric Cooperative, and other area residents to be on the alert for suspects.

C. B. Dannaer, manager of the cooperative, reported that vandals resorted to the use of high-powered rifles Thrusday night to shoot out oil circuit breakers.

Four circuit breakers were shot out in the Malden area and three in the Broseley area, resulting in serious power outages, Danner said.

There were many instances of both three and two-phase power line being grounded out by wires thrown over the lines. One of these on Highway 160 near Doniphan, took all of the lines from Doniphan to the Oregon County line out of service.

Another grounding was reported on Highway JJ west of Malden. A pole was cut near Harviell and, on U. S. Highway 67, a tree was felled across the lines near the L. O. Garrett Store, north of Poplar Bluff.

Co-op officials issued the following statement this morning.

"Are striking linemen involved in vandalism?

"It has been reported by members of the cooperative that four of the union linemen who are out on strike have been seen in areas where your electric lines have been put out of service by acts of vandalism.

"If all the 15,00 members of Ozark Border Cooperative would be as alert as these members were, they could soon put a stop to all acts which could damage the cooperative's electric lines."

Meanwhile, the Butler county sheriff's office is investigating nine reports of grounding of Ozark Border power lines and pole cuttings.

Included are repots of Co-op property being tampered with in areas on highway 60, east; highway 142, highway 53, Highway PP, the highway 67, north, incident announced by Danner, and a Qulin case.

In addition to investigating the reports, the sheriff's officers have also been escorting several of the Co-op line maintenance and repair trucks.

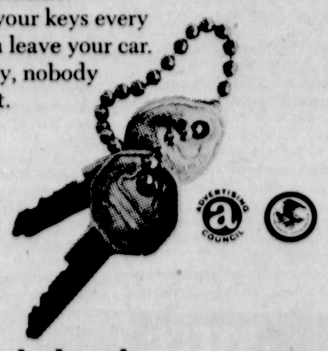
How many people get hurt when a car is stolen?

More than you think.
The thief gets hurt.
Very likely he's a teen-age kid who's never been in serious trouble before.
His parents get hurt.
A police record isn't much to be proud of.
Other people can get hurt, too.
Stolen cars are involved in 200 times more accidents.
Take your keys every time you leave your car. That way, nobody gets hurt.



Don't help a boy go wrong. When you leave your car, take your keys.

Poor Purses

Man O' War, who ran in 1919 and 1920, in the days before the big purse races, finished first in 19 out of his 20 races, but earned less than $250,000.

TERRY JOHNSON, 403 Dorothy St., is working for radio station KFSB at Joplin in the Missouri school of journalism's summer intern program. He interviews True Davis, U. S. senatorial candidate, during the primary campaign.

Journalism Students Get on-Job Training

COLUMBIA - Seventy-two students in the school of journalism at the University of Missouri are spending their vacation time between semesters working on summer jobs in their chosen fields. Most of them are employed by newspapers and broadcasting stations. The students are working in 20 states.

In addition to gaining experience and receiving pay checks, 56 members of the group will earn two hours of academic credit, to be granted by the school after supervision and evaluation by their employers.

Missouri newspapers employing interns include the Kansas City Star, Joplin Globe St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Columbis Tribune, Jefferson City Capital News, and Springfield News and Leader-Press -- the Springfield papers employing two Missouri publishers' sons in the program, Ben. F. Weir Jr., son of Ben F. Weir, recently in Nevada and now general manager of the Independence Examiner, and Dan F. Zimmerman, son of Jac W. Zimmerman of the Boliver Free Press.

Other newspapers providing training for the young journalists Memphis Press-Schimitar, Tulsa Tribune, Milwauke Journal, Charlotte Observer, Rochester (N.Y.) Times-Union, Nashville Tennessean, Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch, and Lawrence (Kan.) Journal-World.

Among other employers in the program are the Farm Quarterly, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Anheuser-Busch, Ford Motor Co., Mutual Broadcasting System, one television station and eight radio stations.

The wide range of duties involves the interns in reporting, copy editing, photojournalism, advertising copywriting and sales, newscasting and announcing, as well as other tasks.

Most of the summer employment opportunities are arranged during campus interview visits. Others are scheduled by mail and through personal visits during Christmas vacation and spring break.

"The student obviously has much to gain from such an arrangement," says Robert W. Haverfield, associate professor of journalism and placement director for the school. "He gets some more of this experience that employers are always seeking. Although all Missouri journalism students work on the general circulation daily, the Columbia Missourian, teaching newspaper of the School of Journalism, most are eager to augment this experience by working with still another newspaper or broadcaster. The summer internship also means a pay check to help on college expenses and an opportunity for the student to see for himself "just what this business is all about."

Haverfield said the employer finds many advantages to the summer program. One publisher described it "as a reasonably priced source of dedicated labor." If the summer intern proves to be a real "find," one who would be welcomed back after graduation, the employer usually has the inside track with the young journalist. A great many of the interns do return to these jobs after graduation.

One publisher pointed out that he was glad to pay a higher starting salary to those who had worked for him for a summer because he knew what he was buying -- he wasn't buying an unknown commodity.

Salaries for the summer employes range from $75 a week to about $125 a week with newspapers. Some of the salaries for companies range even higher.

Students working on summer jobs, listed by county and home towns and place employed, are:

Kennett - James McHaney, 305 East Linden Circle, Memphis Press- Scimitar

Springfield Cheryl Stolp, 802 W. Highland Drive. Sikeston Daily Standard.

Sikeston - Terry Johnson, 403 Dorothy, St., KFSB, Joplin, Carol Ann Miller, Daily Capitol News, Jefferson City.

Kennedy Film Prepared for Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 20-minute motion picture depicting the public life of Robert F. Kennedy is being prepared for the Democratic National Convention—but party officials refuse to say when or if it will be shown.

Charles Guggenheim said in an interview that his Washington production firm was commissioned by the Kennedy family to make the film. He said the project is 60 per cent completed.

Four years ago, Kennedy—then attorney general and a candidate for the Senate—stood head bowed and eyes moist before the Democratic convention in Atlantic City and introduced a similar film of highlights in the life of his brother, John F. Kennedy, slain nine months earlier by an assassin.

For 13 minutes, the thousands in convention hall cheered Robert Kennedy. When the lights went on after the film, thousands were weeping.

Guggenheim's firm, which made a documentary for Kennedy of his 1964 Senate campaign, has asked for film footage from television networks and television stations and for still pictures from news media.

The film will be in black and white. The narrator, Guggenheim said, will be someone well known.

Guggenheim was reluctant to discuss specific scenes because the movie is subject to approval by the Kennedy family.

"This will not be a definitive biography, but rather the quality of a man's life," he said. "I don't think we have to trick it up to get an emotional response—the loss people feel is the quality the man communicated."

The Democratic National Committee has refused to say if the film is scheduled. In 1964, the John Kennedy movie was rescheduled from the second to the fourth day of convention week until after a vice presidential candidate had been nominated.

His unit was cited for highly significant contributions to the effectiveness and accomplishment of the Alaskan Air Command operational mission.

This is the second time in the past 18 months that the unit has been so honored.

The Revenue and Expenditure Control Act of 1968, signed into law on June 28, 1968, required the President to reduce Federal expenditures in Fiscal Year 1969. In order to meet the limitations enacted by the Congress, the Navy will reduce classes at its Officer Candidate School, according to LCDR. P. S. Fauks, USN, Executive Officer of the Navy recruiting station in St. Louis.

LCDR Fauks, whose offices are at 208 North Broadway, said the reduction will affect some persons already assigned to September, October and November classes.

"I want to emphasize", LCDR Fauks stressed, "that this does not mean any candidate laready selected will be dropped, but may delay the reporting date of some of these candidates"'

All selectees are being contacted and asked to voluntarily requrest reassignement to a later class.

"We hope", LCDR Fauks added, "this procedure will take care of the greater percentage of the reductions, and keep involuntary assignments to later classes to a minimum". Those candidates reassigned to later classes will be notified as soon as possible.

The large number of applicants and reassingments of candidates has caused some dalys in application procdessing. "Faced with these circumstances", LCDR Fauks said, "we expect Officer Candidate School quotas to be reudced; nonetheless all interested college graduates who desire to apply will be considered in competition with all other applicants.

Ann Landers

Ride in Dump Truck Unsuitable for Banquet

Dear Ann Landers: First let's get one thing straight. I am not a teen-ager. I'm 41 years of age and I hold a responsible position in a bank.

My husband died five years ago and I have been going with a man who owns a fertilizer business. (I'm fed up on jokes about his business and I have heard them all, so please don't come up with any.)

Last night was Horace's lodge dinner. He belongs to the Moose. I got dressed up in a silk outfit and had my hair set and my nails manicured. I even bought a brocaded shoulder stole for the affair.

Horace came for me a little late but I didn't say anything. I almost died when I saw he was driving his dump truck. I'm not sure but I think it had some fertilizer in it. All he said was, "I sold the Buick and the new car won't be here till next month."

I am not a snob but I don't think a dump truck is proper transportation for a middle-aged couple. Should I refuse to ride in it in the future?-- EMBARRASSED.

Dear Em: A dump truck is all right for a trip to the beach, maybe, but surely not to a banquet - with you in a brocaded stole, yet. Tell Horace you'd prefer to take the bus until the new car comes in, if it's all the same to him.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 21 years old and the mother of a beautiful little daughter. The father of my child refused to marry me. Although I was hurt at first I have come to the conclusion it was all for the best. He was a bum.

I am very proud of Rochelle and my family and friends know she has no legal father. They treat her kindly and nothing is ever said about it.

Recently I took a new job and moved to another section of town. When I was shopping in the market Saturday a new neighbor asked, "What does your husband do?" I replied, "The baby's father did not marry me. She is an out-of-wedlock child."

The woman's mouth dropped open and she yelled at the top of her lungs. "HOW DID IT HAPPEN?" She knows very well how it happened. Why would she ask such a dumb question?

Please tell me what to say to curel people who ask questions that are none of their business? ---ALONE BUT PROUD

Dear A. But P.: "What does your husband do?" might be a tasteless question from a casual acquaintance but it is not cruel. You invited the cruel question ("How did it happen?") when you volunteered the information that the baby's father did not marry you.

In the future if you are asked about the baby's father, simply say, "He is a plumber -- or whatever he is -- but we are living apart."

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the quote in today's column from a French philosopher who said, "There are no frigid women. Only clumsy men."

Here's another one, from a Hungarian poet: "if a woman does not get the man she wants, God help the man she gets."

If you fail to see the connection, I'll point it out. Some men are clumsy because they don't get the cooperation. And the reason they don't get the cooperation is because the lady didn't get the man she wanted. Get it? -- THE HUNGARIAN POET

Dear Poet: Are you commenting or apologizing? Thanks for the pearl, Dad.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism - Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

If You Were the Judge

Woman's Departure Not Against Public Policy

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Genial George was a politician with great hopes and great expectations. While he had a promising future, however, he had a sister with a terrible past. She flirted like a Mae West, drank like a fish, but not the same thing, and was as loud as a bookie's sport jacket.

To safeguard his political future, George decided that it was necessary to get rid of his free-wheeling sister. Consequently, he offered his brother-in-law, Sam, $5,000 if he'd get his sister out of town. Not one to ignore so generous an offer, Sam immediately made the the necessary arrangements and moved his family, lock, stock, and barrel, to another town. But, when Sam approached George to collect the $5,000, George refused to pay and Sam sued him to collect.

"I went through a lot of trouble and expense to move to another town," Sam complained in court. "After shaking hands on our deal, George tried to shake me and he shouldn't be allowed to get away with it."

"The deal was illegal," was George's answer, "and unenforceable. When Sam agreed to make his wife leave town, he was agreeing to infringe upon her right to go or stay as she pleased. Since an agreement to infringe upon a person's liberty is against public policy, the deal was void and I don't have to pay a penny."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Sam to collect?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that Sam had not deprived his wife of her liberty since there was no evidence that she had been forced in any unlawful manner to leave town; that she apparently had departed voluntarily with her husband. And, concluded the judge, since her departure was a distinct gain to the community, her departure could hardly have been against public policy.

(Based upon a 1929 New Mexico Supreme Court Decision).

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

Dear Editor:

Believing that President of the United States was the most important office in the world, in April, 1967, I began writing the Republican and Democratic prospects for the presidential nomination urging them to write and speak their views to enable the public to evaluate them.

With the idea that a tribute could be paid Gerald Ford, the Republican Leader and potential Speaker of the House of Representatives, by his name being placed in nomination for President, I went to Miami, Florida, July 31st. In the event of a deadlock, he might become the best nominee for President the Republicans could select. About 1:00 P.M., August 7, 1968, it appeared that Nixon would be nominated on the first ballot and the delegates who intended to nominate and second Ford's nomination were discouraged by Ford and other party leaders from nominating Ford. When Nixon made his great acceptance speech, I was delighted that the idea of nominating Ford had been abandoned.

Constructively,
H. L. Hunt

Dear Mr. Blanton:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you on behalf of Davi Rolwing and myself as General Chairman of Rolwing for Congress.

Although victory was not ours, the campaign afforded me the opportunity to meet and work with the most wonderful and energetic group of people in the 10th District.

You will agree with me; we had a hard working campaigner and I am sure we will see and hear more about this young politician in the years to come. It has been a most enjoyable campaign because of your help.

Kindest personal regards,

Dismissal of Suit Against Agency Sought

CAPE GIRARDEAU - A motion has been filed in common pleas court by the state in behalf of the Missouri Commission on Human Rights for dismissal of a suit brought against the commission by Superior Electric Products Corp. in Cape Girardeau. The commission contended that Superior's action is premature.

On July 23 the commission was charged by Superior with exceeding its authority, oppresion in office and the denial of constitutional rights after Mrs. Emma V. Walton filed a complaint with the commission charging that the company had accepted her application for a job but did not hire her because she was a woman.

The commission claimed in the motion for dismissal that Superior was attempting to obtain a judicial review of action of the commission before a final decision subject to judicial review has been made.

Superior claimed when it filed the suit that the statute designating the commission's powers and duties, "does specifically not include discrimination of sex."

The date for the suit to be heard in court has not been set.

$400,000 Addition to Hospital

POPLAR BLUFF - The Doctors Hospital has announced plans for a $400,000 expansion program involving the addition of another floor on the new west wing of the hospital. Work is scheduled to begin immediately.

Mrs. Margaret Woodard, hospital administrator, said the Willard Brown Construction Co. of Dexter will be the primary contractor, and Roberts Plumbing and Heating Co. of Poplar Bluff will be the mechanical contractor. The architect is the firm of Drew and Jablonsky.

The west wing was added to the hospital in 1962. The new floor will accomodate 52 general treatment beds and will include facilities for the intensive care of cardiac patients.

An additional 75 employes will be required to staff the addition to the hospital. The hospital and Kneibert clinic now employ 325 persons, including physicians.

The present annual payroll of the hospital and clinic is about $1.2 million.

RECORD ROCK COD

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Frank Armand, Dar es Salaam's champion spear fisherman, has landed a rock cod weighing 101 pounds 5 ounces — thought the biggest rock cod landed on the East African coast using a rubber-powered gun.

His fish is only 17 pounds lighter than one shot a year ago in the same area, near Mafia Island, on Tanzania's southern coast, by Italian fishermen, who used guns with explosive heads.

The biggest rock cod caught in the area weighed 232 pounds. It was caught with a baited line.

But a bigger one was landed in Tanga, on the north coast, a few years ago; it weighed 550 pounds. The fisherman used the hindquarters of a goat as bait. Rock cod estimated to weigh up to 1,000 pounds have been seen along the East African coast.

CAN DO

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — It takes money to make money, reads an old saw, and officials at Gompers Rehabilitation Center here say the same reasoning apparently applies to obtaining contributions.

The cost of manufactured coin containers is so high, they say, that the center decided to use empty one-pound coffee cans with plastic lids in a fund drive

If You Were the Judge

Woman's Departure Not Against Public Policy

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Genial George was a politician with great hopes and great expectations. While he had a promising future, however, he had a sister with a terrible past. She flirted like a Mae West, drank like a fish, but not the same thing, and was as loud as a bookie's sport jacket.

To safeguard his political future, George decided that it was necessary to get rid of his free-wheeling sister. Consequently, he offered his brother-in-law, Sam, $5,000 if he'd get his sister out of town. Not one to ignore so generous an offer, Sam immediately made the the necessary arrangements and moved his family, lock, stock, and barrel, to another town. But, when Sam approached George to collect the $5,000, George refused to pay and Sam sued him to collect.

"I went through a lot of trouble and expense to move to another town," Sam complained in court. "After shaking hands on our deal, George tried to shake me and he shouldn't be allowed to get away with it."

"The deal was illegal," was George's answer, "and unenforceable. When Sam agreed to make his wife leave town, he was agreeing to infringe upon her right to go or stay as she pleased. Since an agreement to infringe upon a person's liberty is against public policy, the deal was void and I don't have to pay a penny."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Sam to collect?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that Sam had not deprived his wife of her liberty since there was no evidence that she had been forced in any unlawful manner to leave town; that she apparently had departed voluntarily with her husband. And, concluded the judge, since her departure was a distinct gain to the community, her departure could hardly have been against public policy.

(Based upon a 1929 New Mexico Supreme Court Decision).

PRESERVING HISTORY

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — British archeologist G.C. Sampson and his wife, Mary, have completed a two and a half year task of painstakingly clearing the huge Orange River basin of items useful to archeology. The area will soon be swallowed up by the waters of the Hendrik Verwoerd Dam.

Sampson gathered 919 boxes of material representing different stone age cultures, including examples of early tool making, primitive weapons and soil samples for carbon dating.

Ann Landers

Ride in Dump Truck Unsuitable for Banquet

Dear Ann Landers: First let's get one thing straight. I am not a teen-ager. I'm 41 years of age and I hold a responsible position in a bank.

My husband died five years ago and I have been going with a man who owns a fertilizer business. (I'm fed up on jokes about his business and I have heard them all, so please don't come up with any.)

Last night was Horace's lodge dinner. He belongs to the Moose. I got dressed up in a silk outfit and had my hair set and my nails manicured. I even bought a brocaded shoulder stole for the affair.

Horace came for me a little late but I didn't say anything. I almost died when I saw he was driving his dump truck. I'm not sure but I think it had some fertilizer in it. All he said was, "I sold the Buick and the new car won't be here till next month."

I am not a snob but I don't think a dump truck is proper transportation for a middle-aged couple. Should I refuse to ride in it in the future?--EMBARRASSED.

Dear Em: A dump truck is all right for a trip to the beach, maybe, but surely not to a banquet - with you in a brocaded stole, yet. Tell Horace you'd prefer to take the bus until the new car comes in, if it's all the same to him.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 21 years old and the mother of a beautiful little daughter. The father of my child refused to marry me. Although I was hurt at first I have come to the conclusion it was all for the best. He was a bum.

I am very proud of Rochelle and my family and friends know she has no legal father. They treat her kindly and nothing is ever said about it.

Recently I took a new job and moved to another section of town. When I was shopping in the market Saturday a new neighbor asked, "What does your husband do?" I replied, "The baby's father did not marry me. She is an out-of-wedlock child."

The woman's mouth dropped open and she yelled at the top of her lungs. "HOW DID IT HAPPEN?" She knows very well how it happened. Why would she ask such a dumb question?

Please tell me what to say to curel people who ask questions that are none of their business? ---ALONE BUT PROUD

Dear A. But P.: "What does your husband do?" might be a tasteless question from a casual acquaintance but it is not cruel. You invited the cruel question ("How did it happen?") when you volunteered the information that the baby's father did not marry you.

In the future if you are asked about the baby's father, simply say, "He is a plumber -- or whatever he is -- but we are living apart."

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the quote in today's column from a French philosopher who said, "There are no frigid women. Only clumsy men."

Here's another one, from a Hungarian poet: "if a woman does not get the man she wants, God help the man she gets."

If you fail to see the connection, I'll point it out. Some men are clumsy because they don't get the cooperation. And the reason they don't get the cooperation is because the lady didn't get the man she wanted. Get it? -- THE HUNGARIAN POET

Dear Poet: Are you commenting or apologizing? Thanks for the pearl, Dad.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism - Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

Dear Editor:

Believing that President of the United States was the most important office in the world, in April, 1967, I began writing the Republican and Democratic prospects for the presidential nomination urging them to write and speak their views to enable the public to evaluate them.

With the idea that a tribute could be paid Gerald Ford, the Republican Leader and potential Speaker of the House of Representatives, by his name being placed in nomination for President, I went to Miami, Florida, July 31st. In the event of a deadlock, he might become the best nominee for President the Republicans could select. About 1:00 P.M., August 7, 1968, it appeared that Nixon would be nominated on the first ballot and the delegates who intended to nominate and second Ford's nomination were discouraged by Ford and other party leaders from nominating Ford. When Nixon made his great acceptance speech, I was delighted that the idea of nominating Ford had been abandoned.

Constructively,
H. L. Hunt

Dear Mr. Blanton:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you on behalf of Davi Rolwing and myself as General Chairman of Rolwing for Congress.

Although victory was not ours, the campaign afforded me the opportunity to meet and work with the most wonderful and energetic group of people in the 10th District.

You will agree with me; we had a hard working campaigner and I am sure we will see and hear more about this young politician in the years to come. It has been a most enjoyable campaign because of your help.

Dismissal of Suit Against Agency Sought

CAPE GIRARDEAU - A motion has been filed in common pleas court by the state in behalf of the Missouri Commission on Human Rights for dismissal of a suit brought against the commission by Superior Electric Products Corp. in Cape Girardeau. The commission contended that Superior's action is premature.

On July 23 the commission was charged by Superior with exceeding its authority, oppresion in office and the denial of constitutional rights after Mrs. Emma V. Walton filed a complaint with the commission charging that the company had accepted her application for a job but did not hire her because she was a woman.

The commission claimed in the motion for dismissal that Superior was attempting to obtain a judicial review of action of the commission before a final decision subject to judicial review has been made.

Superior claimed when it filed the suit that the statute designating the commission's powers and duties, "does specifically not include discrimination of sex."

The date for the suit to be heard in court has not been set.

RECORD ROCK COD

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Frank Armand, Dar es Salaam's champion spear fisherman, has landed a rock cod weighing 101 pounds 5 ounces — thought the biggest rock cod landed on the East African coast using a rubber-powered gun.

His fish is only 17 pounds lighter than one shot a year ago in the same area, near Mafia Island, on Tanzania's southern coast, by Italian fishermen, who used guns with explosive heads.

The biggest rock cod caught in the area weighed 232 pounds. It was caught with a baited line.

But a bigger one was landed in Tanga, on the north coast, a few years ago; it weighed 550 pounds. The fisherman used the hindquarters of a goat as bait. Rock cod estimated to weigh up to 1,000 pounds have been seen along the East African coast.

MOPAC Denied Discontinuance OF Four Daily Passenger Trains

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The Missouri State Public Service Commission has denied a request from the Missouri Pacific Railroad to discontinue its last four daily passenger trains operating between St. Louis and Kansas City via Jefferson City.

The commission is now holding hearings on another proposal by MoPac to close 44 freight agencies in outstate Missouri and replace them with 22 mobile units to serve the same area.

In the passenger train case, the railroad has maintained that the trains were operating at a loss. The commission's answer to this was summed up by William R. Clark, chairman of the PSC: "This commission's prime concern has always been public convenience. The mere fact that the operation of passenger trains results in pecuniary loss to the railroad is not sufficient reason, in itself, to discontinue a public service."

The order to keep the trains running climaxed a year-long battle over their continuance. The final decision will go into effect September 10.

MoPac first filed an application to drop two of the four trains in August, 1967, and added the other two trains to the list in September.

MoPac has been losing money on its passenger trains continuously since 1945. In 1953 it reached its peak loss, operating in the red by almost $22 million. In 1967, this loss had been cut to $8.6 million, down about $1 million from 1966. While the railroad did lose so much on passenger service in 1967, it also showed a profit of $42.2 million on freight trains.

Other testimony by MoPac at the hearings said:

—Only 1.4 per cent of the intercity miles traveled nationwide in 1967 were by rail. About 88 per cent was by privately owned cars.

—Average passengers per day on the four trains ranged from 28 to 48.

—The Greyhound Bus Line has 22 daily busses traveling on Interstate 70 between St. Louis and Kansas City and additional bus service is offered by Northeastern Missouri Lines, Missouri Transit Lines, Continental Trailways, Finley - Shotwell and Mid-America Coaches.

—Six airlines provide 60 daily flights between St. Louis and Kansas City. Jefferson City and Sedalia also have air service. These four cities have 95 per cent of the population along the route of the Missouri Pacific.

—Non-stop busses between the two major cities make the distance in about four hours compared to the five and one-half to six hours for the trains, due to the numerous stops they must make.

—The railroad would still lose money if all 104 seats were filled every day on all the trains.

The commission also heard testimony from witnesses favoring the continuance of the trains. These witnesses testified that the train was necessary and convenient to students at Central Missouri State College and Lincoln University, to commuters near Kansas City and St. Louis, and to state legislators in bad weather.

In making its decision, the commission also put some of the blame for the losses on the railroad's own shoulders, accusing it of "only a token compliance" with an interim order issued in January to furnish monthly financial reports and advise the commission of what was being done to promote patronage.

MoPac now has three laternatives: It can "live with" the decision; it can appeal to the PSC, and if turned down, take its case to the state courts; or it can start a new case with the federal Interstate Commerce Commission. MoPac has made no statement of its intentions yet.

Meanwhile, the PSC is holding a series of 12 hearings on another MoPac proposal to drop 44 freight agencies and replace them with 22 mobile units which would travel from town to town taking orders and staying in constant radio communication with a base station.

The plan would affect MoPac lines from St. Louis to southeastern Missouri, between Kansas City and St. Louis and from Pleasant Hill into southwestern Missouri. Areas north of St. Louis and Kansas City will not be affected.

Agents would travel by van or station wagon to meet regular shippers and those who had notified the base station of their business. Shippers can call the base station any time toll-free.

The proposal would not affect individual farmers or merchants often, since most shippping is done by cooperatives and distributing companies. One large grain shipper in Missouri, the Missouri Farmers Association has expressed optimism for the proposal. Dale Bolander of the MFA Transportation Department points out that many of MoPac's freight agencies are already split between several towns and the new system would make it very easy to reach those agents via radio or phone from the base station. However, he also sees a possible delay in service while shippers have to wait for an agent to arrive and handle paper work before a shipment can be sent on its way. MFA and other grainshippers depend heavily on railroad service. At a $500,000 MFA grain elevator of Advance, operations dropped from "a nice net return to a substantial loss" when train service was dropped and grain had to be shipped by truck.

Train Sniper Kills One of Two Victims

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it." He was charged with homicide.

Police said the fatal shot, from a .30-.06-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an elevator operator and father of three children, was dead when the train pulled in.

Jansen, 48, who had worked overtime at a dredging job at Jones Beach the night before, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He said he was dozing when the shot was fired. "I woke up to a big bang," he said. "I thought it was someone playing a joke." Jansen lives in Point Pleasant, N.J.

Whitmore, a vocational school student, wore a light blue shirt with a civil defense patch on one shoulder and dark blue trousers when arrested. Friends said he was interested in firemen and liked to dress up like a fireman.

Whitmore was picked up near the scene of the shooting.

Maher's body was identified by his sister, Mrs. Rosemary Holland of the Bronx. She said Maher was separated from his wife and was living alone in the Bronx.

Whitmore also was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and felonious assault.

New Fair Queen Crowned

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — The new queen of the Missouri Fair is Raymona Rohlfing, 18, of Fayette, a student at Central Missouri State College.

Miss Rohlfing was crowned by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Sunday night in front of the grandstand, with the help of the 1967 queen, Miss Debbie Hansbrough of Monroe City. Miss Rohlfing will receive a $1,000 scholarship from the Modern American Insurance Co. of Springfield.

Runners-up were Janet Marie Seals, 19, of Triplett, who got a $500 scholarship from the Massey-Ferguson Co., and Sally Lane Abbott, 18, of Marshfield, who gets a $300 scholarship from Pepsi-Cola Co.

Leona Kay Aldrich, 21, of Columbia, was named Miss Congeniality.

Judging was completed in the country cured meat show. A 20-pound hamexhibited by Hugo Alewel and his son, Roger, of Concordia, was tagged the grand champion, and their seven-pound side of bacon also was the grand champion.

David Radcliff of California, Mo., had the second-best ham and E. M. Burger of California had the No. 2 side of bacon.

The Alewals, Radcliff and Burger are old-time annual rivals in the meat show.

The hams and bacon will be sold at auction at the annual ham breakfast Tuesday morning at Smith-Cotton high school. More than 400 tickets have been sold for the breakfast.

George Seeber of Labelle, 72, one of the most faithful of the exhibitors, took first place with a Shropshire fleece. He has had entries in the sheep show of every Missouri Fair since 1936.

Tornado Injures Nine Recreation Area Visitors

MITCHELL, Ill. (AP) — Nine persons were injured when a tornado hit a recreation area along the Mississippi River Sunday.

The storm touched down at the Sun and Fun beach resort near Mitchell, about 15 miles north of St. Louis. Authorities said there was wide-spread minor damage to businesses and homes in the area.

Annelle Lawler, 14, of Richmond Heights, Mo., described the scene as she waited to be treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, Ill., for cuts. Most of the injured suffered cuts from flying glass. Five were hospitalized.

"It had been cloudy all day and we had sat down to eat," Annelle recalled. "All of a sudden there was wind and hail and rain. Then somebody yelled 'run, just run' and we made it to the pavillion. Everybody was in a panic. They were screaming and crying."

The glass front door of the pavillion was smashed by the storm and apparently caused most of the injuries.

Kenneth S. Harbarger, owner of the recreation area, was credited with preventing more injuries among the estimated 1,500 to 2,000 at the area. He saw the storm clouds approach from the southwest and warned everybody to seek shelter.

A spokesman for the Weather Bureau said the public earlier reported a funnel cloud in the southwest St. Louis County, Mo., area. He said police reported some trees downed and other minor damage.

It was apparently the same storm that struck Mitchell and neighboring areas.

MOPAC Denied Discontinuance OF Four Daily Passenger Trains

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The Missouri State Public Service Commission has denied a request from the Missouri Pacific Railroad to discontinue its last four daily passenger trains operating between St. Louis and Kansas City via Jefferson City.

The commission is now holding hearings on another proposal by MoPac to close 44 freight agencies in outstate Missouri and replace them with 22 mobile units to serve the same area.

In the passenger train case, the railroad has maintained that the trains were operating at a loss. The commission's answer to this was summed up by William R. Clark, chairman of the PSC: "This commission's prime concern has always been public convenience. The mere fact that the operation of passenger trains results in pecuniary loss to the railroad is not sufficient reason, in itself, to discontinue a public service."

The order to keep the trains running climaxed a year-long battle over their continuance. The final decision will go into effect September 10.

MoPac first filed an application to drop two of the four trains in August, 1967, and added the other two trains to the list in September.

MoPac has been losing money on its passenger trains continuously since 1945. In 1953 it reached its peak loss, operating in the red by almost $22 million. In 1967, this loss had been cut to $8.6 million, down about $1 million from 1966. While the railroad did lose so much on passenger service in 1967, it also showed a profit of $42.2 million on freight trains.

Other testimony by MoPac at the hearings said:

—Only 1.4 per cent of the intercity miles traveled nationwide in 1967 were by rail. About 88 per cent was by privately owned cars.

—Average passengers per day on the four trains ranged from 28 to 48.

—The Greyhound Bus Line has 22 daily busses traveling on Interstate 70 between St. Louis and Kansas City and additional bus service is offered by Northeastern Missouri Lines, Missouri Transit Lines, Continental Trailways, Finley - Shotwell and Mid-America Coaches.

—Six airlines provide 60 daily flights between St. Louis and Kansas City. Jefferson City and Sedalia also have air service. These four cities have 95 per cent of the population along the route of the Missouri Pacific.

—Non-stop busses between the two major cities make the distance in about four hours compared to the five and one-half to six hours for the trains, due to the numerous stops they must make.

—The railroad would still lose money if all 104 seats were filled every day on all the trains.

The commission also heard testimony from witnesses favoring the continuance of the trains. These witnesses testified that the train was necessary and convenient to students at Central Missouri State College and Lincoln University, to commuters near Kansas City and St. Louis, and to state legislators in bad weather.

In making its decision, the commission also put some of the blame for the losses on the railroad's own shoulders, accusing it of "only a token compliance" with an interim order issued in January to furnish monthly financial reports and advise the commission of what was being done to promote patronage.

MoPac now has three laternatives: It can "live with" the decision; it can appeal to the PSC, and if turned down, take its case to the state courts; or it can start a new case with the federal Interstate Commerce Commission. MoPac has made no statement of its intentions yet.

Meanwhile, the PSC is holding a series of 12 hearings on another MoPac proposal to drop 44 freight agencies and replace them with 22 mobile units which would travel from town to town taking orders and staying in constant radio communication with a base station.

The plan would affect MoPac lines from St. Louis to southeastern Missouri, between Kansas City and St. Louis and from Pleasant Hill into southwestern Missouri. Areas north of St. Louis and Kansas City will not be affected.

Agents would travel by van or station wagon to meet regular shippers and those who had notified the base station of their business. Shippers can call the base station any time toll-free.

The proposal would not affect individual farmers or merchants often, since most shipping is done by cooperatives and distributing companies. One large grain shipper in Missouri, the Missouri Farmers Association has expressed optimism for the proposal. Dale Bolander of the MFA Transportation Department points out that many of MoPac's freight agencies are already split between several towns and the new system would make it very easy to reach those agents via radio or phone from the base station. However, he also sees a possible delay in service while shippers have to wait for an agent to arrive and handle paper work before a shipment can be sent on its way. MFA and other grainshippers depend heavily on railroad service. At a $500,000 MFA grain elevator of Advance, operations dropped from "a nice net return to a substantial loss" when train service was dropped and grain had to be shipped by truck.

Train Sniper Kills One of Two Victims

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it." He was charged with homicide.

Police said the fatal shot, from a .30-.06-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an elevator operator and father of three children, was dead when the train pulled in.

Jansen, 48, who had worked overtime at a dredging job at Jones Beach the night before, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He said he was dozing when the shot was fired. "I woke up to a big bang," he said. "I thought it was someone playing a joke." Jansen lives in Point Pleasant, N.J.

Whitmore, a vocational school student, wore a light blue shirt with a civil defense patch on one shoulder and dark blue trousers when arrested. Friends said he was interested in firemen and liked to dress up like a fireman.

Whitmore was picked up near the scene of the shooting.

Maher's body was identified by his sister, Mrs. Rosemary Holland of the Bronx. She said Maher was separated from his wife and was living alone in the Bronx.

Whitmore also was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and felonious assault.

Leona Kay Aldrich, 21, of Columbia, was named Miss Congeniality.

Judging was completed in the country cured meat show. A 20-pound hamexhibited by Hugo Alewel and his son, Roger, of Concordia, was tagged the grand champion, and their seven-pound side of bacon also was the grand champion.

David Radcliff of California, Mo., had the second-best ham and E. M. Burger of California had the No. 2 side of bacon.

The Alewals, Radcliff and Burger are old-time annual rivals in the meat show.

The hams and bacon will be sold at auction at the annual ham breakfast Tuesday morning at Smith-Cotton high school. More than 400 tickets have been sold for the breakfast.

George Seeber of Labelle, 72, one of the most faithful of the exhibitors, took first place with a Shropshire fleece. He has had entries in the sheep show of every Missouri Fair since 1936.

Tornado Injures Nine Recreation Area Visitors

MITCHELL, Ill. (AP) — Nine persons were injured when a tornado hit a recreation area along the Mississippi River Sunday.

The storm touched down at the Sun and Fun beach resort near Mitchell, about 15 miles north of St. Louis. Authorities said there was wide-spread minor damage to businesses and homes in the area.

Annelle Lawler, 14, of Richmond Heights, Mo., described the scene as she waited to be treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, Ill. for cuts. Most of the injured suffered cuts from flying glass. Five were hospitalized.

"It had been cloudy all day and we had sat down to eat," Annelle recalled. "All of a sudden there was wind and hail and rain. Then somebody yelled 'run, just run' and we made it to the pavillion. Everybody was in a panic. They were screaming and crying."

The glass front door of the pavillion was smashed by the storm and apparently caused most of the injuries.

Kenneth S. Harbarger, owner of the recreation area, was credited with preventing more injuries among the estimated 1,500 to 2,000 at the area. He saw the storm clouds approach from the southwest and warned everybody to seek shelter.

A spokesman for the Weather Bureau said the public earlier reported a funnel cloud in the southwest St. Louis County, Mo., area. He said police reported some trees downed and other minor damage.

It was apparently the same storm that struck Mitchell and neighboring areas.
